

MEDFORD GETTING SHARE COLONISTS

Land in County is Not Held Too High, Says J. A. Westerlund in Interview Given to Portland Newspapers.

Portland Journal.)
Medford is getting its proper share of the colonists who are coming to the state, according to J. A. Westerlund, representative in the Oregon legislature and owner of 3000 acres of apple land near Medford. He is to the city today on private business and has incidentally investigated the colonist movement.

"One wrong impression has gone out about our country," said Mr. Westerlund yesterday. "Many believe that our land is all high priced. We have, however, some excellent farming land which can be bought for $50 an acre, and some as low as $25. These tracts bring marvelous returns on the investment and labor."

"On the way to Portland I stopped in a number of the valley towns and inquired about the number of colonists they were receiving. The impression has gone out in Medford that we were not getting as many as we should. I find, however, that where some towns are getting from five to 10 a day we are getting 25 and 50 on some days."

"Edward Andrews, one of our prominent men, is in the city to send as many as he can in our direction. He is having excellent success."

CONVICTS TO BUILD ROAD TO FAIR GROUNDS

SALEM, Or., April 1.—The business men of this city have been invited by Governor West to a meeting to talk over the matter of bringing to completion the plans for a boulevard from the business district of the city to the state fair grounds with the aid of convict labor. The Salem board of trade and Business Men's league took this matter up a year ago, but on account of opposition, working on the highway was postponed. Governor West is anxious that the boulevard be completed before this year's state fair, and is willing to place convicts at the disposal of the city in order to hurry the work along.

Elks, last evening appointed committees to secure subscriptions aggregating at least $1000 for the fund now being raised by the Portland lodge of the order for the reception and expenses of the grand lodge in 1912. The members were enthusiastic over the matter and hope to raise the required funds and possibly more than the amount asked for last night.

RACES CALLED OFF AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT

STOCKTON, Cal., April 1.—As a result of the tragedy at the Stockton race track late yesterday in which C. H. Land lost his life, the motor cycle races between Stockton and Sacramento, schedule for tomorrow have been called off.

The latest theory is that Land was victim of heart failure and that he died before he struck the tree. He had been speeding around the track for the race. Tracks show that he made a straight line for the tree, never wavering from his course for a distance of more than 100 feet.

NO ACTION AGAINST MILLER ON CRAB DEAL

District Attorney B. F. Malkey has informed City Councilman George H. Millar that no prosecution will follow the papers served on him by Deputy Game Warden Sandry. Millar was charged with selling crabs without a license.

Johnson Wants Change.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 1.—Hoping for a change of scene, Jack Johnson, today unsuccessfully sought to escape for four hours of his duties as horse chambermaid at the county jail. Johnson, who was yesterday allowed by Judge Treadwell to go to a local hospital to visit his sick brother, today had his attorneys ask for a renewal of the privilege. Judge Treadwell, however, could not see it and the chastened scrapper remained in his cell.
