WILKINSON IS OFF FOR EAST

Local Boy Goes to Hal Chase in New York—Is Known About San Francisco as Leading Amateur Player—Played Here.

Eddie Wilkinson of this city known throughout Southern Oregon as one of the classiest ball tossers who ever donned a Medford uniform is on his way east to join Hal Chase's New York team. And local fans are pinning their faith to him.

In regard to his departure the San Francisco Chronicle says:

"The Phoenix baseball team of St. Mary's College, winners of the state intercollegiate baseball championship, formally disbanded last night at a farewell banquet given at an Oakland cafe in honor of First Baseman Eddie Wilkinson who left last night for New York. Wilkinson will go to Hal Chase's New York team.

Wilkinson has been a member of the Phoenix team for the last three years. He played second base on the Phoenix team of three years ago, but was later shifted to the initial station, where he has played a heady game for two years. He is a particularly handy man with the stick.
