

DEMOCRATS ARE AFTER SOFT JOBS

One of the Most Vigorous and Sharply Contested Scramble for Jobs Ever Seen in Washington Has Just Taken Place.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—One of the most vigorous and sharply contested struggles for patronage that Washington has witnessed in many years has just concluded, and some hundreds of perfectly good democrats are bewailing the "ingratitude of politics."

When democracy assumed control of the house end of the capitol on the 4th of April, there was a multitude of hungry democrats who for years had "supported the party through the long lean years of republican domination," who really wanted jobs. And with the democrats controlling the patronage they were sure they would get them.

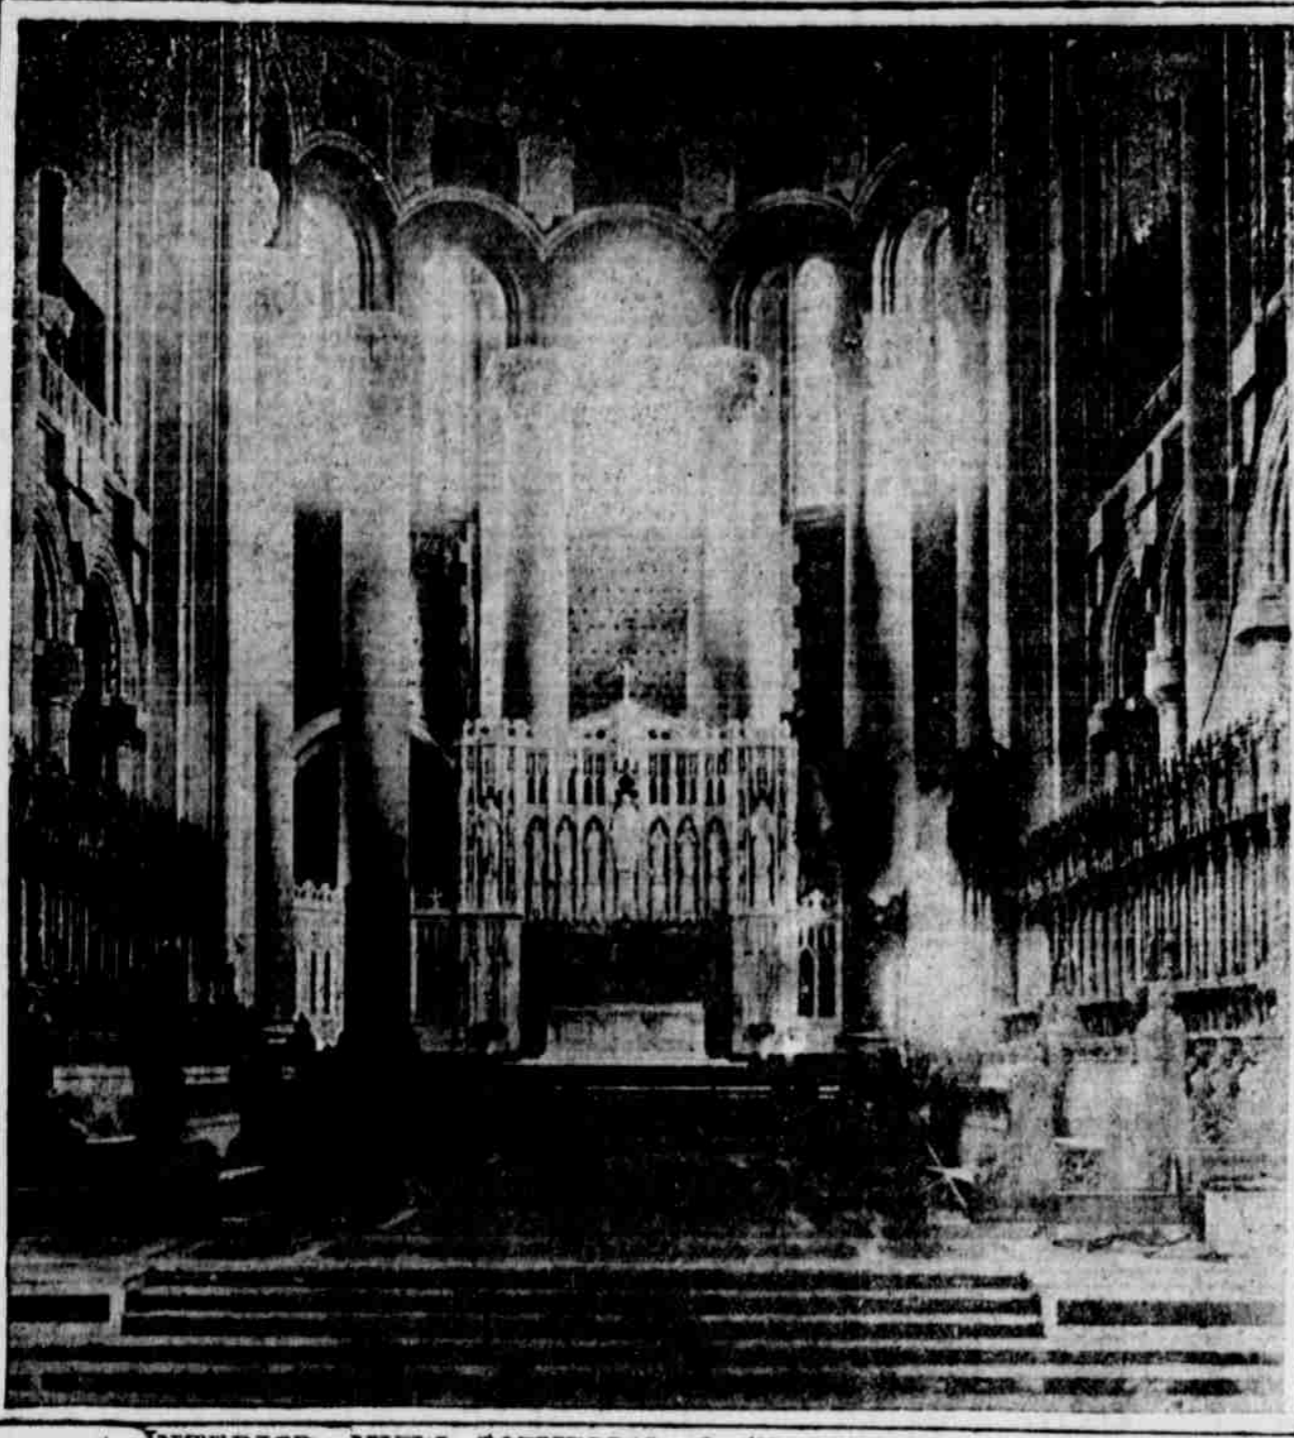

But alas for human hopes. The very first thing the very first democratic caucus did was to apportion the patronage. It was announced that each representative in the house would be accorded jobs with $2700 for distribution. Representatives Lloyd, Humphreys and Foster were appointed to apportion the "paw."

When the committee got down to real business, however, it discovered that the caucus had decided to retrench in the conduct of the house. Rapidly the amount apportioned each representative dwindled until, in the final analysis, $900 represented the share of each congressman in the new house.

Meanwhile every train brought hungry job hunters into town. Every democratic congressman accumulated a trail of some four or five absolutely loyal democrats who had been voting the ticket since the civil war and who, after years of abstinence, were job hungry to a degree. They trailed the congressman from committee room to the house floor, from the house floor to the hotel, and from his hotel back to his committee room. Some were deserving citizens who had worked for the party without compensation for many years, many were opportunists, alive to the possibilities of the situation and convinced that there were thousands of jobs for anyone who voted the democratic ticket last fall.

When the individual members with their ever attendant trains of job-seekers discovered that they had only $900 each of patronage to distribute there were some rather turbid happenings among the harmonious majority. Four men might divide $2700 and get cigarette money, but four could not divide $900 and buy morning papers. The patronage committee was besieged with members demanding the reasons for this summary clipping off of individual patronage and shouting fiercely against the injustice of apportioning to the country that each member would disburse $2700 and then calmly proceeding to

Great Cathedral of St. John Dedicated Last Wednesday

INTERIOR VIEW, CATHEDRAL OF ST. JOHN THE DIVINE.

With solemn ceremony and in the presence of a notable gathering of clergy and laity, the completed portions of the Cathedral of St. John were consecrated Wednesday according to the rites of the Protestant Episcopal church. Some idea of the size of the cathedral is to be gained from a comparison with other notable cathedrals. The central tower of Trinity church, Boston, hitherto the most massive in America could stand within St. John's crossing and leave three-quarters of its area bare. The dome is of almost equal span with that of the mosque of St. Sophia at Constantinople and nearly 100 feet higher. The dome of St. Paul's London, is slightly wider, but 36 feet above the floor and that of St. John's 25.2 feet.

De Mar Wins. BOSTON, April 21.—Beating the time of Tom Longboat, the record made in 1907, De Mar today won the Boston Athletic association's marathon race. De Mar covered the classic distance in 2 hours 21 minutes and 33 seconds, bettering Longboat's performance by 1 minute and 50 seconds.

Three Americans Killed. WASHINGTON, April 21.—Consul Dye telegraphed the state department today from Agua Prieta, Mexico, that three Americans are among those killed there in the recent rebels and federalists. Thomas Sullivan, an American soldier of fortune, is a prisoner in the hands of the federalists.

Wanted a Cook—Not Wife. SEATTLE, Wash., April 21.—After two days of married life, Mrs. Ellen Russell is seeking a divorce from Alexander Russell. She alleges incompatibility and charges Russell said he married her just to get some one to cook his meals and feed his chickens. The wife now lives in San Francisco.

UNCLE SAM TO CHECK DISEASES

Injunction is Obtained by Government Preventing Cattle Company From Turning 4000 Head of Cattle Loose in Forest.

PORTLAND, April 21.—Fearing that thousands of cattle in Lake and other Southern Oregon counties might become infected by the scab and that the Des Chutes National forest would become a source of infection, the United States government today secured an injunction from United States Judge Wolverson restraining the Chewaucan Land and Cattle company from turning 4,000 cattle loose on the forest reserve. The government alleged that a large per cent of the cattle in the band were infected with scab.

Klamath People Sore. KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., April 21.—The people of Klamath Falls are wroth over an interview with Leopold Samuel, published in The Oregonian. Mr. Samuel attended the Pacific Land and Products Show at Los Angeles and upon his return to Portland declared that the Klamath exhibit taken there by C. T. Oliver, secretary of the Klamath Chamber of Commerce, was a misrepresentation of the products of the state rather than a representation.

In speaking of the Klamath exhibit Mr. Samuel was quoted as saying: "I attended what was known as the land show in Los Angeles. Oregon was not represented, but rather misrepresented. A man from Klamath Falls had a few wisps of grain and grasses at the show, which were good except that there were not enough of them. But his potatoes were shriveled and his apples would have been a drug on the market at 50 cents a box. I was ashamed of them. Utah carried off first prize for everything except citrus fruits, which Utah does not produce."

TACOMA MAN IS SAID TO BE A WHITE SLAYER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—Harry Johnson, a Tacoma bartender, is under arrest here today, charged with having violated the new law preventing white slave traffic between the states. Johnson, it is alleged, brought a woman named Ethel Payne from Tacoma, traveling as her husband.
