Railroad Builder Leaves for Europe to Study Harbor Conditions Preparatory to Directing the Expenditure of $200,000,000.

Don Mateo Clark, builder of the Transandin railroad from Valparaiso to Buenos Ayres, arrived here on board the Magdalena, of the Royal Panama Line, Clark, who accompanied her father, is an enthusiast on ballooning. With her father she made an ascent of 6000 feet at Santiago, Chile, last September.

Chill is enjoying a great era of development and progress," says Don Clark, "and has plans for the improvement of her harbors to an extent of $200,000,000."

Sues for Gift

Mrs. Margaret B. Coutant.
NEW YORK, April 22.—Mrs. Margaret B. Coutant, a cloak buyer for a San Francisco department store, who carries on litigation with Mrs. Jennie C. Mason, her step daughter, on her trips to New York, won a verdict in the supreme court in the suit she brought to recover possession of the household furniture which she said Charles A. Coutant, a well known dry goods man, gave her as a wedding gift.
The jury decided that Mr. Coutant had given his young wife all the furniture except the wedding gifts of Mrs. Mason and some other articles which she had won at card parties. The widow's share according to the jury's valuation is worth $5000. The widow and the step daughter are about the same age.

UNIQUE AUCTION SALE CALLED

"Estates" of American Citizens Who Died Abroad Will Be Offered to the Highest Bidder at Big Sale Soon in Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh has just ordered what will probably be the most unusual auction sale ever held in the United States. The general public will be invited to bid on a room-full of valuable, the unclaimed property of Americans who died abroad and so far as known, friendless.
The property came from every quarter of the globe, whence United States consuls forwarded it to the state department. The government has been unable to find the heirs, and so, the unclaimed personal estates, some of them worth thousands of dollars, have for years lain in a huge vault in the office of the "auditor of the state and other departments."
Almost every variety of small article is represented in the heterogeneous lot which is to be auctioned off. There are pocketknives with broken blades, and cavity razors. There are cheap brass rings, and there are rings set with diamonds and rubies, bracelets studded with gems, and diamond solitaire earrings. One little package contains a watch case which is made of iron. Another contains two watches with solid gold cases, and works of the finest make. There are also many packages of money from every known country. One of the packages to be sold contains five $100 government bonds. Another contains nine Confederate ten dollar bills and a $1000 bond issued by the government of "Jeff" Davis. Any number of packages contain property deeds and negotiable, interest-bearing notes, long overdue, but which the government in its self constituted capacity of
