FOREIGN WOMEN TO FLEE CHINA

Consuls Make Arrangements to Send All Foreign Women of Canton to Places of Refuge—Canton Reports Situation Desperate.

HONGKONG, May 1.—Arrangements by the consuls of foreign powers to send all the foreign women residents of Canton here and advice to all European inhabitants of that city to flee today showed that the situation there is one of the most grave in China since the Boxer outbreak.

Dispatches from Canton report the situation as desperate, any stay there is hourly danger that the 30,000 Chinese troops there will join the rebels in a general massacre of all foreigners and adherents of the Manchu dynasty. The rebels, the latest reports say, have burned Wanshow and Wao Chow, after which a Chinese gunboat shelled their position, killing more than 200.

Reports from Shamien, the foreign concession, deny that the rebels have captured that town. The United States gunboat Wilmington is patrolling the river there and six other foreign gunboats are anchored off the port ready to land marines if it should become necessary to repel a rebel attack.

It developed today that Wusan, a Chinese who was educated in Japan, is leading the rebels, with Luk, a brigand chief, as his aide. Refugees declare the rebels are committing the most frightful barbarities.

Carpenters Quit. LOS ANGELES, May 1.—Demanding a maximum wage of $4 per day, several hundred union carpenters in Los Angeles quit work today when the demand was refused. Labor leaders were emphatic in the declaration that the move was not a strike. They said that the carpenters were not demanding a closed shop but had simply "agreed" among themselves to quit until the raise was forthcoming.

SAN FRANCISCO LABOR LEADERS FIGURE IN CASE

(Continued from Page 1.) on workers reached their cars, and John J. McNamara criticized the accompaniment, but praised the voices. A woman's voice rose above the others in "Nearer My God to Thee," and as he listened to the plaintive melody, John J. let his book fall to his lap. When the song ended he said: "My mother sang that to me on Sunday nights in the old home." Mother sang to McNamara the younger also, but he didn't indicate that he recalled any tender memory. McNamara was silent until a woman, passing by, handed him a hymn book. "Never was much at that sort of a game," he said laughing as he tossed it aside.

BOOS CLOSING WORK WITH U. S.

Newly Appointed Secretary of Commercial Club Left Today to Close Up His Work in Connection With the Government.

George E. Boos, secretary of the Medford Commercial club, left Monday morning for the northern part of the county to close up his work in connection with the government. Mr. Boos hopes to finish the work some day this week, when he will devote all of his time to the office to which he has recently been appointed. Mr. Boos, as he has expressed himself in the past, will not alone devote his time to Medford, but has in view a larger scope, which will cover the whole of the Rogue River valley, both Jackson and Josephine counties. The regular meeting of the Commercial club will be held Wednesday night. Painters and decorators are now occupied in renovating the home of the Medford Commercial club. Secretary Boos hopes to have the display room ready by next week, and invites exhibits of all kinds of the Rogue River valley country. Manufacturing, as well as cereal and fruit exhibits are wanted. The Rogue River electric company will shortly install their exhibits showing their products.

GOMPERS TELLS OF LABOR STAND

Says Organized Labor is Simply Taking the Stand of the Law, That All Men Are Innocent Until They Are Proven to Be Guilty.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 1.—Conferring here today with labor leaders on the stand to be taken by union men regarding the defense of John J. McNamara in the Los Angeles dynamiting case, President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor said: "This is no class fight, nor the fight of labor against any association. It is simply an effort to see that McNamara is fairly tried. The presumption of law is that McNamara is innocent until he is proved guilty. Labor is not going further than law in presuming that the arrested men are innocent. "The manner in which McNamara and his alleged confederates were arrested and split out of the state was enough to arouse suspicion. We believe the men are innocent. We know them. But in raising a fund for their defense it does not mean that we will countenance their acts if they are proven guilty. From the way in which the case has been conducted so far, we are aroused to assure the men a fair trial. That is what we expect to accomplish."

CHRIS EVANS IS AGAIN FREE MAN

Noted Bandit Walks Forth From Folsom—Is Taken to Sacramento by Automobile—Daughter Meets Him at the Gate—Will Go to Portland.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 1.—The parole granted Chris Evans, one time of the famous Evans-Sontag gang of train robbers by the state board of prison directors went into effect this morning when the old ex-bandit walked out of Folsom penitentiary, where he had been confined for 17 years and 2 months.

His youngest daughter, Mrs. Winifred Burrell of Sacramento, to whose untiring efforts in his behalf for the past five years, Evans largely owes his liberty, and a party of his intimate friends were at the prison gate to meet him.

A few minutes later, with the men who had guarded him for nearly a score of years waving him a godspeed, he was whisked away to Sacramento in an automobile. Evans had begged to be taken out into the world in some manner other than on the train of the Southern Pacific, which corporation he had fought desperately in times past.

Chris Evans will remain in Sacramento for a few days with his daughter and will then go to Portland, where his wife and other members of his family reside. This is part of his parole order.
