When a Burglar Calls at Night.
 "If a burglar breaks into your home at night don't try to corner him," said an old headquarters policeman. "If the visitor awakes you make noise enough to scare him away, but don't go after him with a gun. Ten to one he'll 'get' you before you can hit him. It's better to lose a few dollars' worth of goods than your life. I'm giving it to you straight. The average man, waked up in the middle of the night, always badly frightened, hasn't a chance against the man with nerve enough to break into an occupied house. Every burglar is a potential murderer and will shoot to kill if you try to catch him. And why not? He's got a big, long term in prison staring him in the face if he's nabbed, and he'll take a chance on murder every time to get away. Leave the capture of such gentry to the 'cops.' They're paid to be shot at; you ain't."—Kansas City Star.

The Normans.
 The Normans were Northern or, to be more precise, the descendants of Northernmen, who had been expelled from their native Norway in consequence of an effort on their part to subvert its institutions and to make its lands hereditary instead of being divisible among all the sons of the former owner. A band of expatriated outlaws and robbers, they won and held the fair province of northern France, which they named Normandy, after their native land. When they invaded England they were Frenchmen only in the sense that they had lived for some generations on French soil. In blood they belonged to the great Germanic breed, along with the Anglo-Saxons, Danes and other Scandinavian and German peoples.—New York American.

Why She Was Silent.
 A very silent old woman was once asked why it was she had so little to say. She replied that when she was a young girl she was very ill and could not talk for a long time, whereupon she made a vow that if speech were given her once more she would never again say anything unkind of anybody. And thus she was as they found her.—Exchange.

The Soft Question.
 Mrs. Nuwed, Sr. (to son after family jar)—Don't forget, son, that "a soft answer turneth away wrath." Mr. Nuwed, Jr.—Well, I know a soft question of mine brought a lot of it on me.—Smart Set.

Generous.
 Tattered Terry—There goes a kind man. The last time I went to him I didn't have a cent and he gave me all he could. Wenny Walter—What was that? Tattered Terry—Thirty days.—Puck.

Negro Names White Assistant.
 SEATTLE, Wash., May 2.—Naming a white man his chief deputy, George Washington Williams, negro county wreckmaster, has raised a nice question among his race. Williams, who was elected last fall, says he appointed G. H. Ball solely on the score of fitness. He refused to draw the color line.

Fresh Choice Vegetables

CONSIDER well before you buy vegetables, Think for a moment of how they are bought and kept. Vegetables should be fresh and moist with the appearance of having just come from where nature grew them. That is, when they are well kept—the way we keep them.

This is the reason why all our vegetables look as if they had just arrived—with all that delicious, fresh, natural flavor you like so well. And we take good care that not a moment is lost in their delivery to you. Send a trial order.

REMEMBER Our rent is low, our running expense is low; our cost of delivery is low in price, but as good as the best. Doesn't it stand to reason that we can sell goods for less?
