EAGLE POINT EAGLETS.

(By A. C. Howlett)

Thursday afternoon last, Ira Dodge, his father and two strangers called for late dinner and then started with their auto for the Dodge farm on the west bank of the Rogue river, via Free Ferry. Mr. Dodge seems to be very confident that the new bridge across Rogue river near his place will be put in this summer and that we will have direct communication with Sams valley, by that means bringing the people of that section within a short distance of the railroad.

A gentleman by the name of Myers from Montana was here looking over the situation with an eye to business.

There has been quite a number of traveling salesmen here the last few days and they all seem to be doing business, in fact our little town is beginning to cosmopolitan air and one would think that the prospect was very flattering as a business proposition.

Miss Maggie Daley, our telephone girl, has put quite a stock of stationary, combs, brushes etc. in her little central phone office and by that means a few pennies to her accounts.

A little girl of Mrs. Vaughn's, living in the lower end of our town along the railroad track fell the other day and cut her forehead so as to be necessary for Dr. Holt to take several stitches to draw the cut together.

I see that we have a new lumber yard in our town, Sprague brothers of California, have arranged with the P. & E. R. R. company to use a part of their right of way for stacking their lumber and they have also secured lots to build on and from the appearance of things they intend to do business, as they have now on the ground three carloads of lumber and are looking for more to come.

Last Sunday was quite a day at the Pacific & Eastern depot, especially while the train stopped there a few minutes. The band rendered some fine music and the 75 or 80 passengers had an opportunity to see some of the improvements that are being made here.

Frank Lewis has his building, 25x50 feet, two stories high, about completed. Mr. Liddell has his store, 25x29 feet, well under way and by the time this is read by the public the shelving and counters will be well under way. M. L. Daley has his store well stocked and last Saturday was their opening day and you know I sent in an ad. for him on the B. M. T., and last Sunday, while I was at Auntie's school house, Chamber school house and Table Rock school house attending meeting, there were several persons asked me who M. L. Daley was, saying that they saw an ad. in the Mail Tribune for his store. And still some will say that it don't pay to advertise in the papers.

In addition to the above buildings that are up and going on, William Vander Hellen is having the first excavated for his building, 25x50 feet, and is planning to erect a two-story brick building and have the upper room arranged into offices.

Robert Fryrear and C. F. Clary have come to town, bought two lots and are planning to build and open up a livery and feed stable, and Mr. Clary gave me his subscription for the Mail Tribune this morning.

The arrangement is already made to

BUTTE FALLS ITEMS

Jack Doubleday has been visiting Medford and renewing acquaintances with his many friends.

The Sunday excursion was largely patronized and much enjoyed, although the weather was rather cool and some snow fell in the hills beyond. The railroad is doing much for the town and it behooves the mill interests and the people to do their part as Butte Falls cannot be made by simply running trains to it and furnishing transportation, but industries must be established and opportunities for employment given the people and encouragement extended to the settlement of business men.

The Butte Falls Lumber company has opened a wood yard in Medford and appointed a local salesman.

It is cool and clear and we have had several frosts here, but as there is not much fruit hereabouts no great losses have been sustained.

Mrs. Cross will soon open her restaurant, and Misses Carson and Stoddard will soon complete their store building, while all over town many improvements are under way. Bring the men of capital and business capacity and families of desirable standing and push forward the local improvements and Butte Falls will advance along the right lines, as it will not do with a class of roughs and rowdies.

Rev. Mr. Jones is engaged in the erection of his new church and has hopes of soon being comfortably established.

Judge S. S. Pentz is still in Medford, but it is quite probable that he will travel south or else form a business relation with a Sacramento, Cal., corporation to represent its extensive interests. He is now in Eugene, Or. Many have been the solicitations and from the best sources for him to locate in Medford, but the strong probabilities are that Mr. Pentz will act for corporate interests.

One of the most comfortable, easy roadways for a newly built railway, is that of the P. & E., which reflects great credit upon the men engaged in the constructive work, and demonstrates the efficiency of the official management.

The hand boys' price is also J. P. Hughes, merchants, report their trade as increasing rapidly and are enabled through the cheapening of freight rates to sell at Medford prices.

The hand boys' price twice a week and are making excellent progress under the direction of Moses Dud Hildreth and Mrs. Carson.

The railroad work under the supervision of Stout and Holt, is rapidly nearing completion and when done Butte Falls will have a fine water system for the use of the railway and one of the most beautiful and convenient systems along the entire line. Mr. Geis has done much commendable work and his management has been of a superior type.

Edgar Hafer is still continuing his work near the Falls and has some 40 acres nearly cleared for the proposed new town, mills and business.

Butte Falls is now in the throes of the question of whether it will incorporate. It would be best, provided the proper official material was elected, as the town will have to be bonded to meet the expenses of present and future demands and only the most responsible and most desirable citizens should have the matter in charge. Put no undesirable in office and suppress all bad influences.

Mr. Bell of Oklahoma contemplates starting business in town and will probably purchase business property.

build a bank building and open up the Eagle Point bank by July 1. The most of the stock has already been subscribed.

The mail schedule for Butte Falls and Eagle Point has been changed so that now the stage leaves Butte Falls at 7 o'clock a. m., and arrives here about 11 a. m., leaves here at 1 o'clock p. m. and arrives at Butte Falls at 6 p. m.

MURDERER REFUSES TO TALK OF CRIME

PRINEVILLE, Or., May 11.—Other than to assert that the killing was justified, John Robinson, who shot and instantly killed Louis McAllister, owner of the Ochocho gold mine and other properties, declined to talk today. He is in the custody of the sheriff.

Much excitement prevails here and at Howard, McAllister's home, as McAllister was a prominent man in this district and well liked.

Robinson shot McAllister while they were standing at the entrance of the mine. It is said they became involved in a dispute over the mine.

J. W. O. Gregory Dies in Ashland. After Long Residence There—Farmed for Years Near Table Rock Before Moving to Ashland.

ASHLAND, Or., May 11.—J. W. O. Gregory passed away at his home on First avenue Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Gregory was stricken with paralysis three years ago and his health has been poorly ever since. Another stroke Friday afternoon proved fatal, and he never recovered consciousness.

The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at 2:30 from the residence, Rev. H. J. Van Fossen officiating. The interment will be in Ashland cemetery.

Mr. Gregory was born in Canada, July 17, 1848. He remained in Canada until 14 years of age or until the commencement of the civil war, when he joined his father, Captain Thomas B. Gregory, who was then in command of the Mississippi squadron. After the close of the war he went to Missouri, where he met and married Anna R. Brown, September 22, 1867. In 1873 they came to Yolo county, California, where they remained about two and one-half years, when they came to Oregon, locating at Table Rock, where he was engaged in farming until coming to Ashland in 1884. Three children were born to them—J. Milton Gregory, deceased, Mrs. G. H. Yoe and Mrs. J. A. Harvey, both residents of Ashland.

Mr. Gregory was for many years engaged in the truck and dray business in Ashland and made many friends, who will be grieved to learn of his death.
