

REBEL CHIEFS QUARREL OVER GEN. NAVARRO

Open Rebellion Imminent at Juarez Among Insurrectos—Madero Conducts General to Place of Safety Across the Rio Grande.

ENTIRE CABINET QUILTS; MADERO PAYS SOLDIERS

Declares That Rebels Must Shoot Him Before Taking Life of His Captive.

EL PASO, Texas, May 13.—Headed by General Orozco, whose soldiers demanded money from Provisional President Francisco Madero for the immediate purchase of supplies, rebellion broke out in Juarez today in the rebel forces and within a short time Madero had been made a prisoner, but was later released.

Looked Like Fight. For a time after the dispute broke out there was grave probability that the insurgents would engage in a desperate battle among themselves, but Madero finally agreed to do everything in his power for Orozco's troops and was set free.

Fearing that General Orozco's troops would carry out their threats to shoot General Navarro, Provisional President Madero personally conducted Navarro to the Rio Grande, where he forded the stream, escaping into El Paso.

Cabinet Inactive. Great dissatisfaction was expressed by the rebel chiefs at the lack of action by Madero's new cabinet, and their resignation was demanded and given. Tonight the whole council of the rebel army were still in turmoil and it was impossible to say what the outcome of the factionism would be.

During the argument with Madero, the provisional president's authority was openly defied and Orozco is reported to have drawn a revolver on Madero and threatened to kill him.

Light May Come. Despite the temporary patching up of the trouble, the Americans with the insurgents threaten an outbreak and a bloody encounter may come at any moment. It was only prevented this afternoon when Madero promised to pay the soldiers enough money from his own funds to provide them with the immediate necessities of life.

Generals Orozco and Villa, it is said, want to shoot Navarro for inhuman treatment of wounded prisoners. Madero says that must shoot him before he will allow Navarro to be executed.

FARMERS FIGHT TAFT'S SCHEME OF RECIPROCITY

Delegates From a Score of States Appeal Before Committee and Protest—National Grange is Leading in Fight Against Measure.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 13.—A big uprising of farmers against the Canadian reciprocity agreement marked today's hearings before the senate finance committee. Delegates from Oregon, Washington, Colorado, Minnesota, Michigan, Missouri, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Maine protested against passage of the measure.

The national grange, with former Governor Baeldeier of New Hampshire as its principal worker in the forefront of its opposition to the president's pet scheme. W. S. Strasberger of Pittsburg told the committee today that the reduction of 14 cents a square foot in the plate glass tariff in the reciprocity petition was a menace to the industry in the view of the manufacturers.

R. T. Kingman of North Dakota, speaking for the farmers, said that the price of bread today is the same as when wheat was 33 cents a bushel. He said if the rates were opened to Canadian wheat the farmers would lose 10 cents a bushel. He declared the fear that American would soon be unable to supply enough wheat for home consumption was groundless.

MEXICO CITY IS TREMBLING

Hasty Mounting of Cannon at all Approaches to National Palace and Manning of Fortifications Indicate Fear of Attack.

NEARLY 10,000 REBELS ARE NEAR THE CITY

Foreign Residents Form Guard—Women and Children Are Sent to Safety.

MEXICO CITY, May 13.—Hasty mounting of cannon here at all the approaches to the national palace and the Belan prison and the manning of the city's main fortifications today indicate that the officials of the Diaz government expect an early attack. The city garrison has been increased to 1,000 men and its commanders have been ordered to fire at the slightest sign of an outbreak.

It is not denied that the action of the foreign residents in organizing an armed guard is causing great discontent and Mexicans of all classes denounce the move as provocative of reprisals. There is grave fear that in the event of an uprising the foreigners will be the first attacked. Anticipating some such occurrence, foreign residents have sent three-fourths of their women and children out of the city in the last fortnight. Rebels in Guerrero number close to 10,000 men, according to a courier who arrived today from the central encampment of the revolutionary force, which is commanded by General Figueroa, near Buena Vista. As soon as organization had been perfected the men will begin an aggressive campaign with Mexico City as the ultimate goal.

Cananea Captured. DOUGLAS, Ariz., May 13.—Cananea, strategic point in northern Sonora, was captured by the rebels without firing a shot early today. The rebels sneaked into the city, dispersed the few federals who had been left there as a garrison and hoisted the rebel flag over the public buildings.

Cananea will be used by the rebels, it is reported, as a base for further operations in this section.

AMERICANS BUY MUCH COTTON IN ABYSSINIA

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 13.—An American cotton house has concluded contracts with people of Abyssinia involving $750,000, according to a report received by the state department from Guy R. Love, American vice-consul at Addis Ababa.

WILSON MEETS SNAG ON TRIP

His Reception in San Francisco by Men Representing "the Interests" is Proving Embarrassing to Democrats Who are Feeling Public Pulse.

SAYS HE IS SIMPLY VICTIM OF CIRCUMSTANCES

Says He is Warm Friend of Black's Whose Business Doesn't Interest Him.

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—If Woodrow Wilson, governor of New Jersey and prominently mentioned as democratic candidate for president in 1912, is to be entertained by "the Interests" during his stay in San Francisco and his time there monopolized by the stalwarts of the Southern Pacific and the United Railroads, to the exclusion of progressive democrats, he is the victim of circumstances.

This, briefly, is his own explanation of the peculiar predicament which has been predicted Governor Wilson will find himself in when he arrives in the northern metropolis. "I have not the slightest idea, except from newspaper articles," he said today, "who I am to meet at luncheon and dinners arranged in my honor in San Francisco. In that city, as in every other city I am to visit, the arrangement of the local program has been entirely in the hands of the Princeton men. That is as far as my knowledge of the plans for my entertainment goes."

"But," Wilson continued, "I make not the slightest difference who I am to meet. The important thing is what I am going to say. My personal views and purposes are fully revealed in my public addresses."

Wilson said that he was a warm friend of Charles N. Black, president of the San Francisco Princeton club, and chairman of the reception committee. That Black happens to be general manager of the United Railroads should make no difference, Wilson believes. He said he would not entertain the belief that anyone had deliberately planned to capture him for the reactionaries.

Democrats Envy. SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Interviewed as to reports that Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey would be largely entertained while here by men close to "the interests," John E. Murray, secretary of the democratic central committee, refused today either to confirm or deny that he had been invited to the Wilson banquet here. He said, however, that he would not attend.

"Governor Wilson is not coming here on a political mission," he said. "He is not the national leader of the democratic party, having nothing to say as to the political affiliation of the graduates of Princeton university who will take part in his reception. Any strictures on the matter at this time would do Mr. Wilson an injustice."

Wilson in Pasadena. PASADENA, Cal., May 13.—Governor Wilson of New Jersey, accompanied by a delegation of 100 persons, arrived in Pasadena early today. He was to be the guest of the local board of trade at a luncheon.

LILLIAN DENIES SHE IS TO WED EDITOR

PITTSBURG, May 13.—Despite strenuous denials by both parties, a report persists here today that Lillian Russell is engaged to marry to Alexander P. Moore, editor of the Pittsburg Leader. Miss Russell, who is here in connection with "Nothing to It. When I marry again I shall retire permanently from the stage. I am not ready to do so yet. No wedding bells for me."

WOMAN SAVES BANK

BEAVERTON, Or., May 13.—The police are searching today for two men who left Beaverton in a stolen buggy when they were frightened away from the Bank of Beaverton by a woman who suspected that they intended to rob the institution. Shortly before dawn Mrs. D. C. Fisher, who lives near the bank, heard the men breaking into it. She grabbed a revolver, rushed into the open and fired two shots at one of the men who was acting as a sentry. With his companion, the fellow dashed for the horse and rig which had been stolen at Garden Home, and drove away. Investigation showed that the front window had been opened and an attempt had been made to break down the rear door.

RATE CASE WILL BE DECIDED IN NEXT TWO WEEKS

I. Lang of the Medford Grocery Company States That Early Decision is Expected From Interstate Commerce Commission.

That a decision by the interstate commerce commission regarding interstate rates to Medford from California points will be rendered within the next two weeks is the statement of I. Lang, of the Medford Grocery company, who is visiting Medford. Mr. Lang was in the forefront of the battle for reduced rates and devoted his time and money freely to the movement, being one of the organizers of the Medford traffic bureau under whose auspices the fight for better rates was conducted. The cases were heard some time ago. Special Examiner Prouty taking the evidence for the commission in a hearing occupying two days in this city. The commission since that time has had the matter under consideration. Medford is seeking more equitable rates from San Francisco.

"From what I can learn," states Mr. Lang, "these cases will be decided within the next two weeks. An earlier decision was not to be expected, as the interstate commerce commission has been very busy with cases throughout the United States, and Medford must await her turn. While I am of the opinion that Medford will win the case, it is based only upon the fact that I believe the rates to be unjust. I have had no input on the subject from the commission. In reality it is simply a guess."

GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATE ADMITTED TO PRACTICE

SEATTLE, Wash., May 13.—Hugh C. Todd, avowed candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, was admitted to practice law yesterday. He will hang out his shingle in Seattle. Todd was a representative from Whitman county, was one of the youngest members of the last two sessions of the legislature, and was one of the keenest debaters and most able speakers there. He is a progressive.

DIETZ FOUND GUILTY; SENT UP FOR LIFE

"Defender of Cameron Dam" Declares He is Victim of Lumber Trust—Wife and Son are Acquitted by Jury.

RECEIVES VERDICT WITH NO SHOW OF EMOTION

Denies Motion for New Trial and Allows Ten Days in Which to File an Appeal.

HAYWARD, Wis., May 13.—The verdict of the jury in the case of John F. Dietz, charged with having murdered Deputy Sheriff Oscar Harp, returned a verdict of guilty today. Dietz's wife and son Leslie were acquitted.

Judge Reid, after denying Dietz's appeal for a new trial, sentenced him to life imprisonment. One day of each year, October 8, the anniversary of the battle of Cameron Dam, the court ordered, shall be spent in solitary confinement. No Fear Shown. Dietz received the verdict of life imprisonment without a tremor. His wife wept bitterly, but Leslie, his son, smiled. Referring to Dietz's motion for a new trial, Judge Reid said: "I really do not know what to do with you. I think the supreme court should pass first on the evidence. Therefore, I shall deny your motion and allow you ten days to prepare your papers."

Asked if he had anything to say why the sentence of the court should not be passed upon him, Dietz shouted: "It is state's fault. I was not allowed to show anything of the conspiracy against me. The state blackened our characters and we were not allowed a chance to defend ourselves. It has been the policy of the lumber trust to rule or ruin. If it needs a victim, no one is able to stand it better than I am. I was absolutely right when I defended my home against invasion. As the scriptures say, 'the first shall be last and the last shall be first.' If the court had permitted me to recite the entire history of my trouble I would not have been convicted."

Orders Investigation. Dietz then charged that the lumber trust had asked his daughter Myra to perjure herself by giving testimony against him. Judge Reid asked Dietz to file information to that effect, and then pronounced sentence, while Dietz's wife threw her arms around her husband's neck and sobbed. As he was led away, Dietz grinned defiantly and shouted: "If the lumber trust needs a victim, I can stand it."

Expected Verdict. Mrs. Dietz, Clarence and Leslie, and her daughter, Myra, will be tried soon for assault and on other charges growing out of the trouble at Cameron Dam.

SEWER CAVE-IN CATCHES THREE

Laborers Injured While at Work in Trench on East Side—One Suffer Severe Injuries to Shoulder—Others Are Bruised.

A cave-in on the sewer trench being dug in the Queen Anne addition resulted in the burial and injury of three men working in it. About 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Tony Cassidy, J. T. Casey and W. E. Yilling were the men caught in the slide, Yilling suffering a badly injured shoulder, and other two getting severe bruises, which while not considered dangerous will cause the injured parties considerable inconvenience. The trench at the point of the accident was being dug through a shifty, sandy soil and for some reason, probably a sudden jar, the whole side of the bank caved in on the men who were working at the bottom of the ditch. A physician and an ambulance were hurried to the scene of the accident and laborers near by worked frantically to extract the three men from their predicament. No serious results are expected to occur from the accident.

GLADYS HAPPY WITH HER COUNT

Love in a Cottage Proves a Great Success—Likes it Far Better Than the Castle—"We are Very Happy" She Writes Friends.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 13.—That Countess Szechenyi, who was Gladys Vanderbilt, is one of the few American heiresses who have found happiness with foreign match is confidently asserted here today by friends who have received letters telling of the countess's love in a cottage experience on the Szechenyi estate.

The former Miss Vanderbilt tells of living with the count and their daughter, Cornelia, in an eight room wooden cottage. "I love the cottage life far better than that in the castle," says one of the countess's letters, "and so do the count and Cornelia. We are very happy."

$2,000,000 IN COIN IS LOST

When Merida Sank Friday She Had Much Specie on Board Being Shipped From Mexico to United States for Safety.

NEW YORK, May 13.—With her bows badly stove in, the steamer Admiral Farragut arrived this afternoon at the Brooklyn drydock for repairs. The officers of the Merida, which the Farragut ran down, declared today that the Merida had aboard when she sank $2,000,000 in cash, which was being taken to New York from Mexican banks.

115 KILLED IN JUAREZ BATTLE

Revised Figures Show That 188 Were Wounded—Exact Figures Will Never Be Known—83 Federals Picked Up in Street.

EL PASO, Tex., May 13.—While it probably never will be known with accuracy just how many perished in the three days' battle at Juarez, a count of the burials and an inspection of the hospitals completed today gave a fair idea of the casualties. The insurgents lost is placed at 115 killed and 50 wounded, while 100 federal soldiers perished and 188 were wounded.

Provisional Governor Gonzalez of Chihuahua says that 83 dead federals were picked up in the streets of Juarez after the last day's fight.

NO POLE TAX TO BE PAID THIS YEAR

The annual pole tax levied every spring in Medford on every man under 50 years of age is no more. Up to the present time it has been the prevailing custom to collect $3 from every male resident under the age named, the proceeds being used for road building purposes. Money for road building is now being obtained by other means and, although $3 is not a great sum of money, it means a good deal to many people who express no regret over the repeal of this pole tax.

Big Suit Dismissed.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The appellate division of the supreme court today affirmed the order dismissing the suit of Jaldore Lerner, the theatrical manager, against Lulu Tetrzinski, for $39,000 for breach of contract. Lerner claimed that he engaged Tetrzinski to sing in Havana in 1904 at $500 per appearance and that the singer refused to comply with the terms of the agreement. The suit was dismissed on the ground that the contract was null and void, being drawn for the benefit of Lerner alone.
