NORMAL CROP AT HOOD RIVER

Only 60 Per Cent, However, of Apples Produced Last Year-Heavy Production Last Year Lightens This Year's Crop.

HOOD RIVER, Or., May 16 .- Indications in this section bow point to a normal apple crop. Growers do not ex-pect, however, the bumper crop that was raised last year, but will be satis-fied with a normal crop for an off year. Cherries and peaches will be light. Front some time ago got to these crops and turage. injured them, but failed to do any appreciable damage to apple. The pear to surprise of local people, who are accorded now promises good kield. company, who has been over the valley pretty carefully, mays: "I look for about 60 per cent of the crop of apples shipped from here last year. Statements that we would have many apples this year as last canno be borne out in an examination of the schards. In most all cases the old trees that bore heavy last year show exceedingly light promise so far this year. On the other hand, I have noticed that in a number of orchards the young trees will bear a year earlier than they did inst and also that a lot of young trees that had a good crop on in 1916 show proma very heavy yield this seasor

To real estate methe question of settling up the surrounding territory with a class of farmers who will devote themselves to the production of the necessaries of life is con ing to be one of prime importance in the development of their business. The fu-ture of the Rogue River valley as fruit-producing section is assured beduction of the finest fruit in the wor is not alone sufficient to insure the cotinued prosperity of our community. Work remains to be done which will result in lowering the cost of living citizens, and the organized real estat men propose to take the initiative in efforts looking to that desirable result. The question, however, is too bread to admit of being viewed only from the standpoint of a single interest; it touches the daily lives of all of our citizens The moeting this evening will endeavor to answer the question whether or not this valley is capable of becoming self-sustaining or if we must continue to import farm and garden products from other sections of the Pacific coast, and continue to pay a high tribute to trans-portation companies upon every article of dally consumption. The public is in vited to attend. Good speakers will star the ball rolling for the real estate mon and after that the discussion will
