WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE POSES AS PROPHET

DENVER, Col., June 7.—That the progressives will name the presidential nominee of one of the "old parties" is the belief of William Allen White, Kansas editor and magazine writer, here today en route to Boulder where he will address the graduates of Colorado University.

"If the conservatives nominate Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio, among the democrats the progressives will sweep the republican party and nominate Senator LaFollette," said White. "If, however, the conservatives control the republican convention and nominate President Taft or Vice President Sherman, then the progressives will seize the democratic party and nominate Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey. The conservative nominee will try to hedge and straddle on progressive measures and he will be defeated."

Home prosperity depends upon home industry, and state-wide prosperity will be greater if factories selling "Made in Oregon" goods are patronized by the local merchants.

TALENT ITEMS.

A large number of Talent people on Tuesday were attending the carnival at Ashland. Among the number were Mr. and Mrs. Welborn Beeson, Mrs. Lewis Brown, Mrs. T. L. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. George Gardner, Mr. Fred Erwine and Miss Julia Stewart. All report having a good time.

Quite a number of fruit farmers in the vicinity are engaged in thinning fruit on the Talent orchard, Company property. Mr. John Brines is foreman.

The fine rain of Tuesday pleases every one.

Mrs. Effie Taylor of Medford was in Talent on Tuesday looking over real estate.

Mr. Andy Meicher is building quite an extension to his new house.

Mr. William Shoup will soon build a dwelling house on his lots in Talent.

Last week was one of the liveliest times Talent has seen in the way of the law business. A man by the name of Krebs had been arrested by the town marshal, Marian Yount, for being drunk and disorderly. On Monday he had his trial. He chose a jury which after listening to the evidence, concluded that Krebs was not drunk. The recorder, Jay Terrell, dismissed the case. Mr. Krebs still lingered around town, so on Tuesday, Marian Yount swore out a warrant charging Krebs with "resisting and assaulting an officer."

The complaint was filed in the justice court. The trial was set for Friday, June 2. On Friday District Attorney B. F. Mulkey appeared for the state and J. A. Lemey and Attorney H. V. Richardson for the defense. A demurrer was filed by the defense that there was no statute in the code of Oregon covering the complaint. Defendant's motion allowed and the case dismissed. District Attorney Mulkey filed a new complaint of assault. Krebs was arrested on a new warrant. On motion of the district attorney the justice, C. M. Sherman, proceeded to examine the case as committing magistrate. Quite a crowd was present. A number of witnesses testified for both sides. Those present were treated to quite an outburst as oratory by both sides. From the evidence introduced the justice concluded that a crime had been committed and placed the defendant under $100 bond to appear before the circuit court. In itself the case was not so important as it is as a test case. It means: Has any one a right to assault a marshal and not be punished for it? Or in other words will the courts support the town of Talent in its efforts to enforce the law and keep order? District Attorney Mulkey is to be commended for the efforts that he put forth on the part of the state.

C. C. PONTING.

KING GEORGE HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

LONDON, June 7.—King George is being congratulated today on his narrow escape from injury while witnessing the aeroplane maneuvers at Aldershot. Only the dexterity of Aviator Cody averted what seemed to threaten a repetition of the accident near Paris in which War Minister Bertheaux lost his life. Cody had just completed two circuits of the course and had started to descend from a high altitude. With terrific speed the heavy biplane swerved toward the royal party, leaving no chance to get to a place of safety. Something evidently had gone wrong with the apparatus. Directly over his majesty's head, Captain Cody succeeded in controlling the machine, which glided over the royal party so close that several hats were blown off by the rush of air caused by its passage. King George seemed untroubled by the accident.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 7.—In a suit filed for separate maintenance against John V. Steger, wealthy piano manufacturer, Mrs. Louise Steger alleged her husband gave himself up to the accumulation of wealth to such an extent that his affection for her was obscured.
