WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—Considerable talk has been created, particularly in G. A. R. circles, by the statement of Senator Joseph W. Bailey, before confederate veterans celebrating the birthday of Jefferson Davis, that the southern states had a right to secede.

Bailey declared that Davis was less responsible for the conflict than any other man and the last man to abandon hope that it might be averted. He introduced Joseph A. Jones, Davis' body servant, an aged negro, whom, he said, "knows where the seal of the confederacy is but won't tell."
