JAPANESE TRUCK GARDENERS COME

First Colony of ILttle Brown Men in Rogue River Valley Lease Forty Acres for Truck Farming on the Old Anderson Place.

Japanese truck gardeners have made their appearance in the valley for the first time in its history, says the Valley Record.

M. Hiroko has leased 40 acres from George A. Morse on Anderson creek, the old E. K. Anderson place, and there are six Japanese working the place, the entire 40 acres being planted to tomatoes and cabbage. Hiroko is being assisted by his uncle, who is an experienced gardener, having worked in California for several years. Uiroko is not an experienced nounced that he had selected Mr. gardener, having been engaged in Waldo for "the most difficult social mining at Nome, Alaska, until this

Mr. Morse says the lease is for this season only and he knows of no other parties in the valley that are leasing lands to Japanese. He does not believe that the Japanese will come into Rogue River valley in any considerable number on account of the opportunities for obtaining irrigated land suitable for truck farming in the manner they engage in it are limited.

WOMEN IN EFFECT

SEATTLE, Wash., June 9 .- This morning, department stores in Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane and throughout the state opened at 9 o'clock instead of 8. It was the start of the eight hour day, in compliance with the new law for women workers passed at the last session of the legislature. Of course this law effects women in all kinds of work. Five thousand women will be benefited in Seattle.

Miss Blanche Mason, assistant state labor commissioner, said today that she believed there will be no friction in the enforcement of the law, and that it will mean no material reduction in wages.
