

GRAY COMING TO MEDFORD

Successor to John F. Stevens Expected Here With Party of Hill Railroad Officials Latter Part of Week—Will Be Entertained.

Next Friday or Saturday President Carl Gray of the Oregon Trunk and other Hill lines in Oregon, will arrive in Medford with a party of Hill railroad officials, coming to Klamath Falls by automobile. If it is possible to get through that way, the party will come via Crater lake.

This is the first trip over the Hill lines now in process of construction, made by President Gray and it is deemed very important, as the speedy construction of a connecting line between the Pacific and Eastern and Oregon Trunk depends upon the result of the tour.

Preparations are under way to arrange a reception for the party on their arrival here. It is possible that a banquet will be tendered, though this will depend upon the desires of President Gray.

The party leave Portland on Tuesday morning upon a special train and will be accompanied by representatives of the Portland papers.

The party will go to Madras, Medford, Culver, Opal City, Raymond, Landlaw, Bend and Prineville, where they will be entertained by the commercial clubs and civic bodies of these bustling interior towns. From each point they will visit by automobiles the surrounding country with a view to ascertaining the needs of the country from a transportation standpoint, and for the purpose of becoming acquainted with conditions generally.

From Klamath Falls the party will cross the interior to Medford, and inspect the Pacific & Eastern railroad, and will then take the Southern Pacific line to the north. They will stop at Ashland, Roseburg and Grants Pass in southern Oregon, if time permits. They have also planned to visit Eugene, Albany and Salem, where they will meet and get acquainted with the citizens and commercial bodies. From Salem the party will return to Portland on the Oregon Electric, which is also owned by the Northern Pacific road.

BATTLE NEAR IN CHIHUAHUA

Federal Commander Refuses to Allow Orozco With His Troops to Enter City—War Department at Capital is Asked for Aid.

MEXICO CITY, June 10.—Appeals were received by the war department today from the commander of the federal garrison and city authorities at Chihuahua, asking that steps be taken immediately to effect an adjustment of the difficulties which have arisen there and which threaten to cause a renewal of hostilities. General Orozco, with 5,000 of his soldiers, is camped outside the city and threatens to attack the federals unless permission is granted him to lead his men into the city. The reason given by the federal commander for excluding Orozco's men is the fact that if they are allowed to enter the city with their arms, they may take advantage of the occasion to settle some old scores against certain persons and interests.

The situation at Chihuahua is represented to be extremely critical and the federal authorities here are urged to take immediate action to prevent the threatened clash.

May Robson Here June 17

This exceptionally funny play and a clever actress in the title role will be seen at the Medford opera house on June 17.

Miss Robson has presented this comedy continuously for over two years in this country and nearly four months in London. The English newspapers, with one or two exceptions, were most flattering and even these exceptions were laudatory of Miss Robson's acting. She has created a distinct character and loses her own identity completely and presents us to a real "Aunt Mary," whose flashes of wit brings roars of laughter, and he quaint address our tears. Her love for her nephew stands out so distinctive that our sympathies are moved and held by the old lady. She is real, not a mimic character to produce laughter, and we recognize the type of the big hearted woman whose love is steadfast without one selfish motive.

"Aunt Mary" has lived most of her life in a country village with a maid, Jack, her nephew, is left to her as a heritage by the deceased parents and she loves the boy as a son; has sent him to college, paid all his bills and comes to his belief in the hour of trouble, and Jack has a perfect mania for finding trouble and worrying the dear old lady until she wonders why it is that she loves such a scamp. But Jack has good traits and "Aunt Mary" magnifies them, and forgives his reckless extravagance. She discovers that he has developed a breach-of-promise suit for $15,000 and a damage case for beating a

STOKES MAY FACE CHARGES

Young Women May Bring Counter Charge of Felonious Assault—Doubtful if He Will Press Case Against Defendants.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Fearing that W. E. D. Stokes, millionaire hotel man, shot Wednesday night in the apartments of Miss Lillian Graham and Ethel Conrad, may drop the case against the young woman, and that the facts concerning it may not be brought out, the young women today are being urged by their friends to bring a counter charge of felonious assault against Stokes. A number of wealthy men have indicated their willingness to supply bail for the young woman who are still held at the Tombs.

Terence McManus, Stokes' counsel, admitted that his client gave Miss Graham $200 when she called at the Ansonia Hotel demanding $500 for the letters he had written her while she was in Europe.

Mrs. Alice Andrews of San Francisco, Miss Graham's sister, is expected to arrive here tomorrow to assist her. Miss Conrad's mother, Mrs. Charles Nagle, and her stepfather, have announced that they intend to aid her.

Strike Is Settled. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—A settlement of differences between Southern Railway officials and the firemen and hostlers was announced today by Commissioner Neill who acted as mediator. The men received a 10 per cent increase in wages. The railroad offered the men 4 per cent. They wanted 20. Haskins for Health.
