

FORFEIT GAME TO GRANTS PASS

Raw Decisions By One Mutt Are So Ridiculous That Local Boys Quit—Exhibition Game Is Lost—Even Grants Pass Roasted Him.

The game at Grants Pass yesterday between Medford and the Grants Pass team was forfeited to the latter team in the first half of the fourth inning, with the score tied two and two.

It was very palpable from the first, that the Medford team was getting much the worst of the umpire's decisions. They were so plainly raw, that even the Grants Pass fans protested about the injustice being meted out to the Medford players. Captain McCarthy sent a grounder down to the Grants Pass first baseman, and the pitcher tried to cover the bag, which he over-ran by six feet before catching the ball. His Ump says out. Captain McCarthy protested against such decisions. What does his ump do? He wants McCarthy out of the game and benches him. Upon McCarthy refusing to be benched His Ump gave the game to Grants Pass, nine to nothing.

After getting two new umpires Wheeler Osborne and Honest John Pernoll, the teams played an exhibition game which Grants Pass won by the score of 8 to 5. The new umpires were greeted with cheers when they began to officiate, and old Cap. McCarthy got the glad hand every time he came to bat. The name of the man who held the indicator for the first few innings is not known. It might be Matt. Then again it might be Black Bart. But it is known that nothing will kill the game of baseball more quickly than such umpiring. The decisions were so raw in favor of Grants Pass, that they had very much a tainted flavor about them. Pernoll and Wheeler umpired a good game and without prejudice. The same teams play again tomorrow at Grants Pass, and it is to be hoped that the umpiring will be of that order which will tend to elevate the game instead of marring it. That the captain of the Medford team was within his rights is conceded by all fair minded fans. Young Burgess will be in the box tomorrow and Curly Wilson on the receiving-end. A large crowd will go to Grants Pass to see the game. Grants Pass plays the Medford team on the Medford grounds, June 18.

FIRST NATIONAL SIX YEARS OLD

Medford's Million Dollar Financial Institution Will Observe Its Birthday Next Thursday—Growth Has Been Phenomenal.

The First National bank, Medford's "million dollar" financial institution, will observe its sixth birthday next Thursday, June 15, and congratulations are already pouring in on the officials of the bank. During the six years its growth has bordered on the phenomenal such great strides having been made. Last fall it passed the million-dollar mark—the first bank in southern Oregon to do so.

The statement of the bank, issued in response to a call from the controller of the currency, shows it to be in a splendid financial condition, its assets being $1,050,499.

The success of the bank is due in a great degree to ability of Judge W. S. Crowell, its president, although he gives the credit to the other officials of the institution. Mr. Crowell is known as a sterling business man, and shrewd financier, qualities which tend to create confidence in the bank of which he is the head. In addition to this, he has a happy faculty of winning friendships by his personality.

The bank having outgrown its old quarters, is now having a new building erected, which will be great addition to the city.

Back to the Brush

We learn that the veteran "Bob" Ewing, for many years a successful pitcher in the National league, is destined for the minors. "Bob" was with the Cincinnati Reds for a decade, and later was transferred to the Philadelphia Nationals. There ought to be many a good game left in "Bob" yet, and the minor league club that gets his services will be very fortunate.

GORMAN-FORD CO. MAKE A BIG HIT

Last night the Gorman-Ford company opened up at the Medford theatre in the four-act dual comedy bill "Wedded, but No Wife," which was well received by the audience. A special feature of the evening was the splendid dramatic work of Miss Mildred Ford as Eleanor Howard. In this roll Miss Ford displays her ability as an emotional actress.

Charles Flako in the character of Ebenezer Hemmenway supplied the comedy of the evening in a character that was well sustained. The remainder of the cast offered Miss Ford much support and are deserving of special mention. A feature of the evening was the vaudeville numbers by Charles Clynnes, Charles Flako, Arthur Fletcher, Harry Tourtrott and Miss Mildred Ford. The double specialty by Ford and Flako drew down the applause of the house and were made to respond to several encores. Interspersed during the evening, the orchestra rendered several popular selections and overtures which eliminated all the waits, while the scenes were being changed taking the performance. All in all with the excellent acting, vaudeville specialties, and orchestra, an enjoyable evening was spent by those who attended. Tomorrow night the company present that drama from Mary Jane Holmes' novel by special permission of Beulah Painter, Lena Rivers, with a complete change of vaudeville specialties and musical numbers.
