

MAKES VITROLIC REPLY TO TEDDY

Harrison Gray Otis Says T. R. is the Greatest Jaunus-Faced, Chameleon-Hued, Upright and Down-Right Fabricator of Modern Times.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 17.—In a lengthy article in the Los Angeles Times today, General Harrison Gray Otis replied to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's editorial entitled "Mr. Gompers, General Otis and the dynamite charges" published in the current issue of the Outlook.

After repeating the editorial printed in the Times which it says was responsible for the "oblique, insinuating diatribe in the Outlook from the pen of the editorial ex-president" today's editorial in the Times says in part:

"If Theodore Roosevelt had been a contemporary of Ananias, Baron Munchausen and Mendez Pinto, those illustrious Romancers would have been distanced and would have lost them notoriety. The many-colored coat of Joseph was uniform and sombre compared with the coloring of the Roosevelt political robe. Of all the Jaunus-Faced, chameleon-hued, upright and downright fabricators that ever tried the patience of friends and invited the criticism of foes, here, certainly is the limit. The name 'face both ways' is inadequate.

Demands Fair Trial.
"In spite of the evidence taken before the grand jury upon which the McNamara were indicted the Times has never made the assertion and does not now make the assertion in advance that their guilt is established. It has demanded, and still demands, that they shall receive an impartial trial before an unprejudiced jury, with every intendment of the law in their favor and that they shall not be convicted unless proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt of being either actual principals, legal participants, or accessories to the dynamiting.

"In that trial the state has rights as well as the accused. Colonel Roosevelt was unmindful of his own claimed reputation for standing for 'the square deal' when he rushed, unsolicited, to the defense of suspected and indicted dynamiters by doubting—not whether they committed the act charged, for that he had a right to do—but by doubting whether any dynamiting of the Times had been done by anybody; for that is what his 'if' means.

Is Not Fair.
"Of course, Colonel Roosevelt must be aware of the fact that he does not even begin to state fairly the true attitude of the editor of the Times, or the Times newspaper on the subjects in dispute. His clear effort to appeal to popular prejudice by aligning the Times with 'the interests'—with capital as against labor, is worthy of him and wholly indefensible.

"His latest position on the union labor question as announced in the last issue of the Outlook is that of unconditional and abject submission to these monopolies. He sits at the feet of Gompers, casts adoring glances at

Ferris Hartman to Be Here Soon

The most popular comedian which the west has ever known, Ferris Hartman, who has just completed the most wonderful season he has ever had in Los Angeles, will visit Medford soon where he will appear at the Medford theatre, in his wonderful creation of "The Toymaker." This charming and delightful comic opera has been played by Mr. Hartman for so long that he has become thoroughly identified with it and his conception of the part of the old toymaker of Nuremberg, "Johannes Guggenheimer" has become a classic with him. Mr. Hartman comes equipped with the best production and the largest company, which he has ever had and "The Toymaker" will be rendered in a most elaborate and fitting manner. The costumes and scenery are all new, bright and most attractive. The company consists of over 50 people in which is specially featured Walter De Leon and Miss "Muggins" Davies, who have just created a tremendous success in Mr. De Leon's own play, "The Campus," which has just completed a record breaking run of 16 weeks at the grand opera house in Los Angeles, and in which Mr. De Leon and Miss Davies will be starred next season. In scenic equipment and costume splendour "The Toymaker" will be the most elaborate production seen here in many years. A noteworthy scene being that of the toy shop with its huge revolving drum, its dainty and beautiful girl chorus and its atmosphere of light and gaiety, make it particularly attractive. In addition to those mentioned, the company will contain the names of Oliver Lenoir, Joseph Fogarty, Miss Jessie Hart and many others. Seldom or never has a comic opera been given such delightful music as Andran has supplied in "The Toymaker" and rendered in the manner of the Ferris Hartman Opera company, it proves a source of pure delight. Popular summer prices will prevail. Seat now one sale, $1.00; 75c; 50c.

Assailant Supposed to Be Highwayman—No Clue to Identify Man—Patrolman Dies Shortly After at Hospital.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 17.—Patrolman W. H. Canliffe died at the city hospital at 3 o'clock this morning, one hour after he had been mortally wounded by the bullet of a supposed highwayman.

There is no clue to the identity of the assailant. Five shots were fired in a duel between two men and the policeman, it is believed.

Sergeant Fred A. Ribbach and Patrolman Shumaker heard the shots and when looking in the direction of the sound saw a man running. They gave chase but failed to get him.

Later a boarding house at Madison and Horen avenue was surrounded and two men and two women arrested, but it is not believed that they are the guilty parties.

Medford, Or., May 16, 1911.—This is to certify that about November 1 my daughter was taken with a severe attack of rheumatism which rendered her left arm useless, in fact it was so near paralyzed that she was not able to move her fingers, but knowing of some of Dr. Chow Young's marvelous cures of long standing cases of rheumatism, we decided to consult him, in which I am pleased to say made no mistake, as his remedies acted as he claimed they would and after the third treatment the rheumatic pain entirely left her and she has not had any symptoms of rheumatism since; besides her general health is much improved and I do not hesitate in saying I believe those afflicted with rheumatism or paralysis will do well to consult Dr. Chow Young, whose house is corner of Tenth and Front street, Medford, Or.
