

DEALERS IN LIQUOR CAUSED RECALL

Roseburg People Believe Judge Coke Is Fought by Anti-Prohibitionists Although Reason Given Is His Instructions to Murder Jury.

ROSEBURG, Ore., June 20.—Roseburg is not giving general support to the movement initiated in this city to recall Circuit Judge John S. Coke, of Marshfield, because of his instructions to the jury that acquitted Roy McClallen on May 27 last, of the charge of murder in the second degree. While it is not disputed that the instructions of the court were not as complete for the prosecution as they were for the defense, few voters consider this sufficient reason for invoking the recall against Judge Coke and few are signing the petitions for that purpose.

It is the outspoken opinion of many citizens that the real animus behind the movement lies with the radical anti-prohibitionists, who display undisguised hatred for Judge Coke because he imposed a fine of $500 on three beer-sellers at the recent term of court. Six others indicted on a like charge face the same evidence that convicted the first three and the natural presumption is that they, too, will be fined the limit. The nine comprise the whole number of soft-drink dealers in Roseburg.

The recall petition are being circulated under the direction of E. L. Cannon's Socialist attorney, of this city. He says ample funds are being pledged to defray the expense of such work. This judicial district is composed of six counties, Douglas, Coos, Curry, Lane, Lincoln and Benton. Within its confines are about 20,000 voters and the signatures of at least 2 per cent of those must be affixed to the recall petitions before the election may be held.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS.

(By A. C. Howlett.)

When I last wrote I left off with an account of my journey at Roseburg, promising to tell the readers of the Mail Tribune something of what I saw and heard in that beautiful and tidy city. We arrived there on time, 1:30 p. m., and after partaking of a good dinner we started out to see the city and its surroundings. I wish first to call the attention of the reader to the nice clean, wide streets of the city. Everything indicated that the people of the city were prosperous and consequently happy. Among other things I noticed was the beautiful shrubbery along the streets and the roses that filled the air with their fragrance. The public buildings showed that the citizens understand how to attract the attention of the visitor although the county courthouse was not entirely up to date. The churches show a good moral tone to the community and the lack of saloons spoke volumes in behalf of the town. Although the time of our arrival there was a bad time of the day, and also a bad time of the week, Thursday, to see many of the farmers, still there seemed to be a considerable life on the streets and the business men were generally busy. After we had walked over a considerable portion of the town we, that is Rev. M. C. Davis and myself, started for the Soldiers' home which is situated about a mile out from the business center of the city, although the city proper extends out to the home. Here at the Home is a large tract of land that is beautifully laid off and artistically arranged with roses, shrubbery, plants, trees, vines, etc. With their playgrounds arranged for the amusement of the inmates with seats in the beautiful groves for the accommodation of those who get weary, or simply desire to sit and see the others play.

There are five large buildings for the accommodation of the inmates and they are so arranged that if a man desires a room to himself he can be accommodated or he can have a roommate as he pleases. In the hospital everything is arranged for the comfort of the patients and they have especial attention, each one having a table separately. There were at the time we were there about 250 inmates and it was a pitiful sight to see some of them gray haired veterans, some sick, others crippled, showing the results of the long hard seige for liberty and freedom in our beloved country; but they showed the evidence of resignation and seemed to be well contented with their lot. We did not have time to go through the different buildings as it was late in the afternoon when we reached there although we saw enough to convince us that the defenders of our homes are properly cared for and everything provided for their comfort that they need.

After leaving the Home we attended church, it being the quarterly meeting of the Free Methodist, where we heard a good practical sermon from a man by the name of Smith. After which we walked back to our hotel where we had a good night's rest. Friday morning we took the 8:04 train for Portland. Noticed along the route evidence of progressiveness all along the route, in many places a few years ago I saw old moss and scale covered fruit trees now young, thrifty ones in their place of a better variety and instead of the old moss covered buildings, they have been removed and neat new ones built in their places. From the looks of the crops from the ear window the Willamette valley will be favored this year with an abundant crop of grain although from what I could learn by inquiry, the fruit crop will, in many places be light.

On the cars were quite a number who were on their way to Portland to see the windup or closing exercises of the rose carnival, and to attend the meeting of the Congressional Pacific Coast congress, which convened on Saturday, June 10-11, an account of which I will try to give the readers of the Mail Tribune next time.

ing of the new schoolhouse.

C. B. Morse from Ferns Valley was doing business in Talent on Friday.

Alex Morrison from Rock Point during the last week has been visiting friends in Talent.

It is reported that A. Alford will build a new house on the corner lot formerly owned by Ed Dunnam.

The school election held in Talent at the school house on Monday was quite well attended. The chief matter of interest was over the election of directors. One director having moved away and one directors time expiring. There had been some dissatisfaction over the way the affairs of the district had been handling the business. One member of the old

OFFICER HALL'S HOME WRECKED

Forced to Walk Streets 24 Hours a Day—In Trying to Connect House Tent With New Lot There Is Trouble—Horse Takes a Hand.

Carpets to right of him, dishes to left of him, into the wreck did the officer thunder.

Over a chair he fell. Hattered he—What to? Well, Me for the timber to get some more lumber.

Officer Hall of the Medford police force is homeless. His house is a mass of wreckage and he is forced to walk the street 24 hours instead of his usual 12 hours.

Hall had a house tent and a new lot and the smashup occurred when he tried to connect the two. He couldn't move the lot so he decided to move the tent and hired a drayman to make the change.

The house-tent was a creation of art. It was fitted up with curtains and rugs and contained some nice furniture also—but the drayman's horse didn't fancy it. The house was loaded on the wagon while the horse was asleep in the shafts.

Giddap! yelled the driver, but the horse never moved. Giddap! Giddap! The horse opened his eyes, gave one look behind him, saw the house tent on the wagon and lit out for Prospect.

CARELESS ABOUT APPENDICITIS IN MEDFORD

Many Medford people have stomach or bowel trouble which is likely to turn into appendicitis. If you have constipation, sour stomach, or gas on the stomach, try simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as compounded in Adler-Iska, the new german appendicitis remedy. A single dose of this simple remedy will relieve bowel or stomach trouble almost instantly. For sale by Leon B. Haskins.

school board was defeated for reelection. The new directors are Marion Fryar and G. A. Marseo, B. C. Coleman holding over. Geo. Gardner was re-elected district clerk.

Miss Vera Housh and Miss Roberts of Klamath Falls, Oregon, are visiting with the family of E. Emmet Beeson.

Work on the new school house is progressing rapidly. The concrete work is nearly finished and the brick work will soon be commenced.

Miss May Smith was in Medford on Monday attending to legal business.

Miss Mary Hulen has returned to Talent after a continued visit at Woodville.

Miss Julia Steward is visiting with her brothers on their homestead in Josephine county.

COBB REACHES CENTURY MARK

Has Played in 55 Games and Made 101 Hits—Average 443—He Shows Up as Best of All This Season in Big Leagues.

CHICAGO, June 20.—Tyrus Cobb of the Detroit American League Club, is the first major-league player to drive out 100 hits in the 1911 season. His century hit came in the eighth inning of yesterday's game with Chicago, in Detroit. Not satisfied with gaining this distinction for the day, he raised his total to 101 with another safe one in the ninth.

Batting is not the only division in which Cobb leads. His 29 doubles, 20 triples and eight home runs make him the chief of the sluggers; his 30 steals put him at the head of the American base-stealers and his record of 59 runs in 55 games has opponents beaten by a wide margin. The following shows Cobb's work so far this season:

Games, 55; at bat, 228; runs, 59; base hits, 101; two-base hits, 29; three-base hits, 20; home runs, 8; stolen bases, 20; sacrifice hits, 5; total bases, 151; average, .443.
