

OWNEY AND JACK LEASE BALL PARK

Will Take Charge After July 4 and Finish the Season—Plan to Get Four Teams in Rogue River Valley League.

Owney Patton and Jack McGlynn have leased the Medford ball park and purchased the Medford Regulars from Court Hall. They will assume the management of the team and grounds after the games on July 4. It is their plan to keep the ball season open until fall.

The new magnates will attempt to interest Grants Pass, Central Point and Ashland in a four-team series of baseball and work up some interesting games on schedule.

Both of the men have had a great deal of baseball experience and no doubt will make good in the new venture.

with the plans. Only a small part of the stock of provisions ordered could be delivered and a famine of truffles and pate de foie gras district seems imminent. The famine may impose a real hardship, for, after the close of traffic tonight the embargo against trade will be genuine. Big gates will be put across the miles of streets that are to be closed and special guards will be stationed at them. As a result London's center will be enclosed as though in a high fence, and only those having special passes from the king will be permitted to enter or depart after the gates are shut.

TELEGRAPHIC TABLOIDS.

PONTIAC, Mich.—For sobbing so loudly at a funeral that he interrupted the preacher, Isaiah Bayard has been fined $25.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Medical attention was necessary to dress the wounds of Mary Chase, aged 25, who was attacked by a rooster.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. Y.—Lawyers are no longer legal guides, according to Governor Wilson, who accused the attorneys of being ruled by the commercial spirit.

NEW YORK.—Thirteen singles, four two baggers and a triple is the way August Clondeaux, Pittsburg baseball fan who has just sailed for Europe, refers to his family. He is the father of 24 children.

PATTERSON, N. J.—Because Charles P. Pintler, accused Rev. C. Brandt of St. Johns Evangelical Church, of wanting a raffle for a memorial window, the minister has filed suit for $500 damages.

NEW YORK.—A fine for disorderly conduct was assessed against Lewis Gerken who thought wearing only tights around his home would cure him of rheumatism.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Since Chief McWeeny announced policemen would act as escorts for women forced to be out after nightfall, so many jokers have sent in false alarms that the cops are sore.

LONDON.—Lord Ronald's collection of documents, portraits and relics of Mary Antoinette has been purchased by J. P. Morgan.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Moving northward thousands of grasshoppers, the former pest of Kansas, have passed over Minneapolis.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Asserting that he was the victim of union sluggers B. Menuse, a Denver Italian got the night watchman of an unfinished building to hide him and he nearly escaped with a tray of rings stolen from the smashed window of a jewelry store. He was chased by plain clothesmen.

DETROIT, Mich.—To win a bet of $100 Jockey Johnny Walsh and J. H. Williams, his partner are today en route from Detroit to San Francisco without a cent in their pockets.

POOL TOURNAMENT TO OPEN TONIGHT

Drawing Held Tuesday Night—Frazier and Brooke Open Games This Evening—Hot Debate Is Promised at Match.

The pool tournament at the University club will open tonight. A drawing was held Tuesday night and the contestants and nights of play are as follows:

June 21, Brooke and Frazier; June 22, L. Carpenter and C. Fiero; June 23, Beckwith and Barbour; June 24, Meikle and Powell; June 25, A. Carpenter and Erickson; June 27, Brewer and Burgess.

Brooks and Frazier will start the match tonight. The match will not be governed by the Marquis of Queensbury rules as stated but will be strictly according to Hoyle.

There will be a debate between a man and a member of the University club and between rackets a murder will be committed for the edification of the audience.

Toymaker Friday

When Ferris Hartman and his superb company comes to Medford they will appear in "The Toymaker," the play that has made the greatest success in all Mr. Hartman's extensive repertoire. The choice of "The Toymaker" at this time for a tour, is most happy as the theme of the play is a recurrence to everything that a child is most interested in and that we all love because it renews our youth, indeed the spirit of youth pervades the play from end to end. The interest of "The Toymaker" centers in the character of "Johannes Guggenheimer" played by Dr. Hartman, a toymaker of Nuremberg, who has manufactured a wonderful doll, which walks, talks, sings and dances. This doll he has made, using his daughter Elsa as a model and it is sought by "Frederick" a young novice in a religious community, who in order to inherit a large sum of money, must comply with a marriage stipulation and by marrying with a doll so nearly human as is this marvelous doll of "Johannes" he can obtain the money and still maintain his views of celibacy. He purchases the doll, only finally to discover that the original doll had been broken and "Elsa" had substituted herself in place of the doll and becomes in reality his wife. Meantime "Frederick" has fallen violently in love with her and all ends happily even to "Johannes," who though he loses his daughter gains a rich son-in-law and recovers his doll.

Popular prices will prevail $1.75 and 50 cents.

STEAMER OLYMPIC GREETED AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 21.—A general salutation of whistles and sirens in the harbor today announced the arrival off quarantine station of the new White Star liner Olympic, the largest and finest steamer afloat, which sailed from Liverpool, a week ago today. Although no speed records were broken on her maiden voyage, the Olympic arrived several hours ahead of her schedule.

FAKE WRESTLING MATCH STOPPED

Crowd Gives Voice to Its Displeasure so Loudly and So Long That Men Quit—Looked Like Moving Picture Poses.

The so called championship wrestling match held Tuesday night at the Angle Opera house ended rather suddenly when the crowd got hold of the idea that the match was fixed and yelled "Fake! Fake!"

Peter Buztkos, an imported product took the first fall in 1 hour and 2 minutes on a head scissors and body hold and Dyreborg of Medford took the second fall in 22 minutes with a half nelson.

The rapid action of the second bout confirmed the suspicion of the crowd that there was something wrong and the third bout was called off on account of an injury to the Greek's knee. Jack Rentz, the referee called all bets off and decided Dyreborg the winner.

In the preliminary boxing bout "Kid" Rhodes of San Francisco and Ed Wrenn of Oakland mixed in a four round boxing contest with no decision. A decision would have been a raw injustice to either men as there was absolutely nothing to base it on.

URICISOL

THE DEADLY FOE AND CONQUEROR OF RHEUMATISM

Uricisol is not an experiment, not a cure-all, but a tried and proved remedy that has been performing wonderful work for years. The formula is that of a chemist of forty years experience.

IT WILL NOT ONLY CURE RHEUMATISM BY REMOVING EXCESS OF URIC ACID IN THE BLOOD, BUT IT DISSOLVES AND ELIMINATES DEPOSITS IN THE JOINTS.

Uricisol positively has no injurious effects upon the stomach, but rather assists digestion and strengthens the digestive organs. Don't waste another day before investigating Uricisol. If your druggist does not have it, send one dollar to the California Chemical Co., Los Angeles, and a bottle will be sent you prepaid.
