

PRESERVE FRUIT FOR EXHIBITION

H. O. Frohbach, Former Secretary of Ashland Commercial Club, Perfects Process Which Will Enable District to Make Suitable Displays

For years the Rogue River valley has been at a disadvantage at the various land shows and expositions for the reason that the actual products of the soil have not been exhibited on account of there being no one in this locality who has made the processing of fruits and vegetables for exhibit purposes a business.

H. O. Frohbach, who spent Tuesday at Medford, states that the secretary of the Ashland Commercial club he realized the opportunity open in this valley and has for the past two years experimented and now believes that he has a perfect formula for processing, not alone fruits and vegetables, but flowers, the latter, however, will not be taken up commercially by him. Mr. Frohbach has leased a portion of the basement of the new Beaver building at Ashland and erected a handy laboratory therein. Among the various articles which are used are large 50-gallon barrels and numerous stone jars wherein the fruits receive the chemical treatments.

Mr. Frohbach has several glass jars filled with the finished products and show that he has originated and that his formula is successful. A jar of strawberries is especially fine, for that matter strawberries are considered to be one of the most difficult fruits to process. Mr. Frohbach reports that upon his recent visit to Portland he carefully examined the processed fruit at the chamber of commerce, but that there was not one jar of strawberries there.

It will not be very long before the early varieties of peaches will be ripe. These should not be too ripe, although the more highly colored the more beautiful they appear under glass. There is probably no other peach growing district where a greater variety and better quality of peaches are grown than right here in Ashland, and this district ought to take advantage in making this known at various exhibits in the future.

BETRAYED BY WIFE'S UNEASY CONSCIENCE

PORTLAND, Ore., June 29.—Betrayed by his wife, who told his employers that he was $600 short in his accounts, Robert Russell, a clerk in the Spokane, Portland and Seattle Railway Company's offices, is in the city jail today charged with embezzlement, and auditors are examining his books for other alleged shortages. When arrested he gave the name of A. W. Fowler as correct and said his wife's first husband was named Fowler so he used the congenial name of Russell to save explanations. When she gave information concerning Russell's alleged embezzlement, Mrs. Russell said her conscience impelled her to expose him.

OREGON STATE EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION PLANS MEET

Officers of the Oregon State Editorial association are arranging the details for a three days' session of the association in Portland September 21-23, inclusive. George M. Cornwall of Portland, and W. A. Shewman of Oregon City, president and secretary of the association, have mailed notices to 175 publishers in the state, urging them to attend the meetings, which will be held in either the assembly hall of the Portland Commercial club or the "jinks" room of the Portland Press club.

The purposes of the gathering, which marks the annual meeting of the association, are a rejuvenation of the editorial association and an educational stimulus. Advertising and its value to the advertiser and the publisher will be discussed. The officers of the association are seeking to bring to Portland at that time one or more cost experts who will address the assembled publishers.

Weds an Earl

MISS MARY COXON.

LONDON, June 28.—Viscount Chelsea and Miss Marie Coxon, a niece of Lady Jardine, were married at Christ church, Down street, on June 7. Deliberate secrecy surrounded the ceremony, which was witnessed only by five or six intimate friends.

The announcement on January 19 last of the engagement of the viscount and Miss Coxon surprised society. The bride is a pretty girl of 21 years. The bridegroom recently became heir to the earldom of Cadogan, and an income of $500,000 annually, upon the death of his 7-year-old nephew. A short time before he had been declared a bankrupt.

LORDS REFUSE TO BE SHORN OF THEIR POWER

LONDON, June 29.—That the house of lords will refuse to pass the government's bill depriving them of the veto power was made certain tonight when they passed the amendment fathered by Lord Lansdowne, which provides that the question shall be submitted to the people at a general referendum. This is regarded as serving notice on Mr. Asquith's government that the lords will insist either on another general election or on the king creating enough liberal peers to pass the bill. Conservatives believe the lords will do the latter. This is shown by Lord Lansdowne in immediately introducing further amendments that home rule and other vital government measures must be submitted to a referendum.

CANYON CITY RESIDENT IMPRISONED FOR MURDER

BAKER, Or., June 29.—George Anderson, a well known resident of Canyon City, is under arrest today charged with the murder of George Barnes, a pioneer member of the Oregon bar, whom he shot down in the streets. It is said that the shooting was a result of a grudge long held against Barnes.

BUTTE FALLS TO CELEBRATE

Everything in Readiness for Old Time Jollification on July 4—Two Bands and an Unparalleled Aggregation of Riproaring Stunts.

BUTTE FALLS, June 29.—Everything is now complete. The table is spread, the feast is ready, the American eagle is perched on high and ready to scream. The committees, the merchants, the people of Butte Falls have been silently and busily working for the past six weeks toward having the biggest and best, the most gorgeous and glorious picnic in the history of Southern Oregon.

Victory has crowned their efforts. They have secured an unparalleled aggregation of attractions. A platform program of harmony and eloquence. Two of the best bands of the state. One of 22 pieces, another of 16. The former the Rogue River Valley band, of Central Point, the latter the Butte Falls band of Butte Falls.

The old time honored "Mulligan's" parade, races, contests, prizes, from $1 up and lots of them. Balloon ascension, base ball, bowery dance and a genuine patriotic good time. These are a few of the attractions.

The word has gone out and the people are coming, coming on foot, horse back, in wagons, on boats and last but not least the Pacific and Eastern R. R. has found it necessary to construct seats for use on everything on the road that's on wheels. From Mt. Pitt to "Happy Holler" they're coming.

Even nature has responded and in harmony with their efforts the bounteous rain has made everything fresh pure and clean. The cool mountain air is laden with health and comfort.

The cool shades, the sparkling waters, the magnificent scenery all invite you to throw dull care away and come—if for only a day—come away from the heat, the artificial attractions, the art repeated and common. Drawnigh and get close to the bosom of that fond mother nature and she will speak in kindest tones of peace, purity, health and happiness.

76,000 FARMERS VISIT TRAINS

Southern Pacific Demonstration Train and Accompanying Lectures by University of California Professors Well Patronized.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—More than 76,000 California farmers attended the lectures of University of California professors, given under the auspices of the Southern Pacific company during the year 1910-11. The exact number of auditors to these lectures during this latest lecture tour was 76,236. This is an increase of 2575 over the year 1909-10, and an increase of 38,966 over the year 1908-9, when the agricultural demonstration train was first inaugurated by the Southern Pacific company.

Professor W. T. Clarke, superintendent of the University of California extension in agriculture, has the following to say relative to these special agricultural and horticultural and horticultural demonstration trains:

"The special agricultural and horticultural demonstration trains now being operated by the Southern Pacific company and co-operated in by the University of California college of agriculture, is by far the most extensive effort of its kind that has ever been put forth in any part of the country. A spirit of co-operation with the producers is manifested and the Southern Pacific company, recognizing the fact that its best interests are bound up in the success of the producers has joined with the college of agriculture and experiment station of the state, in bringing to the farms and to the workers thereof improved methods of procedure whereby better returns could be obtained."

The Southern Pacific agricultural and horticultural demonstration train is always accompanied by an operating official of the company, and usually by the agents of the district through which it traverses.
