

SOCIETY

A very pretty reception was given Wednesday afternoon by Miss Mae Thomas of Honolulu. The house was very prettily decorated, quantities of pink roses being used in the living room. Red roses were used in the dining room and nasturtiums festooned the walls in the music room, where the mandolin club played. Assisting Miss Kentner were, Miss Mae Thomas, Miss Gillette of Chicago and Miss Crane of North Dakota; Mesdames Kentner, Denel, William Brown and E. B. Davis. Mrs. Nicholson served in the dining room assisted by Miss Frances York and Miss Jean Budge, and each guest was presented with a flower by Miss Katherine Clemen. Miss Joy Folger served fruit punch in the music room. The door was opened for the guests by Master Lewis Kieffy.

In honor of her guest, Mrs. Barnes of Grand Forks, N. D., Mrs. William Budge entertained most delightfully at luncheon Wednesday. Roses were used in abundance for decoration, red roses being used in the reception room and pink roses in the dining room and quantities of sweet peas were used in the library. A most delicious luncheon, perfect in all appointments was served, after which bridge was played, Mrs. Luke winning first prize and Mrs. Barnes receiving a guest prize. The invited guests, besides the honor guest, were: Mesdames Daniels, J. D. Heard, Lake, Nye, Merrick, Purdin, Denniston, J. M. Root, Wise of Mankato, Minn., J. E. Stewart, York, Kentner, English, Eggleston of Chicago, E. N. Warner.

The proposed meeting of the Question club was held at the home of Miss Ione Flynn last Thursday evening, when the young ladies were delightfully entertained. The members contributed to the pleasure of the evening by music and readings. Miss Zela White was the honor guest. The table was prettily decorated with pink rambler and candles of the same color were used. The color scheme of pink was carried out in the dainty refreshments which were served.

Mrs. Dorniston entertained with a bridge luncheon, Tuesday for the pleasure of Mrs. O. J. Barnes of Grand Forks, N. D. Roses were used for decoration. Mrs. Barnes won the first prize at bridge and also received the guest prize. The guests were Mesdames Barnes, Nye, Merrick, English, Kentner, Budge, Lake, Watt, Parsons, Barbour and Brown.

The Lend-a-hands met Wednesday morning with Miss Marion Foster. They will meet every Wednesday morning during the summer, at the High school building.

Miss Myrtle Roberts of Albany will arrive in Medford, Sunday. She will make an extended visit here as the guest of Miss Agnes Isaacs and Miss Ione Flynn.

A most delightful afternoon was given the Presbyterian Missionary society Friday afternoon at the manse, when Mrs. Shields entertained the ladies with a Chinese tea. The house was decorated with roses and sweet peas, and many Chinese curios were in evidence. Quite a number of the ladies were in costume: Miss Merrill wearing the gown of a Chinese princess, and Mrs. E. N. Warner being attired in a Laos woman given the Presbyterian Missionary Ellis, Mulloy and Marsh were also in costume. A pleasing program was given. Mrs. Black and Mrs. Green had papers on China, Mrs. English and Miss Elder sang a duet and there were several instrumental numbers. Typical Chinese refreshments were served, including rice, which was eaten with chop sticks, tea and wafers, and Chinese candy and nuts.

Under red, white and blue lights and Japanese lanterns a gay crowd gathered last night on the lawn of W. H. Meeker and enjoyed the hospitality of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist church. An elaborate musical program was rendered. The booths where were sold candies and dainties and where fair young ladies presided also were decorated in red, white and blue and the white covered tables were strewn with cut flowers. The program consisted of music by the orchestra and quartet, solos and duets. The refreshments were ice cream, cake, luncheon and candy. There was a large attendance.

Mrs. M. M. Taylor was hostess to the Jacksonville 500 club last Friday evening, entertaining in the most delightful manner. The house was artistically decorated in red rambler roses and at the close of amusements dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Taylor's guests for the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. H. Luy, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ulrich, Mr. and Mrs. H. Crouch; Misses Louise Momeyer, Nellie and Isabella Collins; Messrs. Clyde Shaw, E. Wilson, J. P. Wells, C. M. Catlin, Mr. and Mrs. O. Krause and Miss Fay Sears of Medford, and Miss M. B. Towne of Phoenix.

A birthday dinner for nine-year-old Catherine Tuttle was given Monday night at the home of her parents on Oakdale avenue. Games, music and a 6 o'clock dinner filled out the afternoon and evening. The guests were Dorothy Parsons, Mercedes Barber, Mana Seeley, Helen Hunt Elizabeth Fuselman and Dolly Parker.

Mrs. J. A. Westerlund returned last week from Massineta Bay, Wash., where she has been visiting for the past month.

The Greater Medford Club held the last meeting of the year last Monday when election of officers took place. Messrs. Merrick and Enyart appeared before the club and asked the assistance of the women in helping to beautify the Natororium with plants and vines and a committee was appointed to confer with the management. All the committees for the year were released with the exception of the bird committee and the band stand committee. Mrs. H. C. Kentner who has been most efficient as the president the past year refused to hold the office for the coming year. Mrs. Kentner has done splendid work and leaves the club in very good shape. Mrs. E. B. Pickel was elected president. Mrs. Hollis first vice president. Mrs. Geo. Daggett, second vice president. Mrs. Ed Warner, recording secretary. Miss Fannie Haskins, corresponding secretary and Miss Elizabeth Putnam treasurer.

The famous game between the Fats and the Leans was played Tuesday afternoon, and the game was thoroughly enjoyed by a large crowd. The grand stand was packed as were the bleachers and the automobiles made quite a line-up.

The costumes of the teams were very fetching and consisted of bathing suits, wide hats and the Fats with pink stockings, the Leans baby blue and Mr. Kentner was most coquettishly arrayed in a unique creation, having a style all its own, with fluffy skirts of red and blue and red bow in the back.

The men all played they were boys again and had as much fun as the spectators.

A very good sum was realized and it will be of great assistance to the band.

There were quite a number of dinner parties at the Nash Grille following the reception at the Golf Club Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vilas Beckwith entertained in honor of Mr. Ed. Burgess and their other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Conro Fiero, Miss Burke and Miss Mable Burke.

Mr. and Mrs. Otwell had as their dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cowles.

A picnic party, with Prospect as the objective point, has been made up by a number of the officers of the Rogue River Electric company, wives and friends. The party will leave Medford Monday afternoon, will spend the night at Trail and will arrive at Prospect the next noon.

Carrriages and automobiles will be used to make the beautiful mountain trip. At Prospect there is to be a big celebration with a baseball game between the Electrics and Prospect as the climax. Among those who will be in the party are Mr. and Mrs. Ebel, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Buffum, Mr. Childers, Mr. Evans and Mr. Marten.

Mrs. J. T. Sullivan and daughters have returned from a visit in Spokane & Couer d'Alene. Miss Dora was graduated this year from the convent at Couer d'Alene.

Hat Rat for Pet

Mrs. Mortimer Hancock

NEW YORK, July 1.—With a large live rat perched on her shoulder, Mrs. Mortimer Hancock, wife of Major Hancock of the Royal British Fusiliers, attracted considerable attention in the corridors of the Waldorf-Astoria just before she departed for Asheville, N. C., where she is to pass the summer with her father, Dr. Wesley Battle.

Mrs. Hancock arrived from India a few days ago, and after visiting San Francisco and Chicago, came here to renew old friendships. During her long journey from the far east the white rat has been her constant companion. Attached to the pet's jeweled collar is a gold chain which Mrs. Hancock uses as a necklace. "Birdie" the rat curls his long tail around Mrs. Hancock's neck and rests comfortably upon her left shoulder, with every appearance of contentment.

The coming week will be a busy one, there will be "something doing every minute." Horse races, automobile races, foot races, swimming contests, broncho, busing parades, spe ches and dancing. There will be all kinds of amusements so that everyone can be entertained.

ENCLOSING A CHECK for the bill you owe means that there will never be any dispute about your payment of that account. The check itself is an indisputable evidence of payment. That is only one of the advantages of having an account at the Farmers & Fruitgrowers Bank. It, alone, should be sufficient to induce you to become a depositor. Will you?

Who's Your Baker?

WHEN bread was called the "staff of life" the delicious crackers, cakes and biscuits of today were unknown. A baker in those days meant a man who baked bread. A baker nowadays means more—it signifies an artist who tickles your palate with those flakey crackers and other tit-bits that give you an added appetite for food—and help digestion.

"Who's your baker," means much. It means better health, a healthy stomach and happy days. If you study the matter as we study it, this is your bakery—for we know your needs. We already supply many of your neighbors. Try us next time.
