

FALLING TIMBER KILLS SMALL BOY

Jack Manners, Aged 4, Is Struck and Fatally Injured by Heavy Timber—Dies Within An Hour After Being Injured.

A heavy timber used to support a hammock fell late yesterday afternoon and striking Jack Manners, aged 3, fatally injured him. The lad died an hour later. The accident occurred in the home of the boy who lived with his mother at 511 East Main street.

Mrs. Manners, the child's mother, and Mrs. John Overdorf had been down town shopping and on returning Mrs. Overdorf being tired sat down in the hammock to rest herself. The boy was with her. The heavy timber which supported the hammock gave way and caught the youngster striking him across the abdomen. Medical assistance was called at once but nothing could be done to save the child's life. Mrs. Overdorf was in no way to blame for the accident.

Mrs. Manners, the boy's mother, is prostrated with grief at the suddenness with which her child was snatched away. Mr. Manners is at present in California.

MANY RUSH TO ASSIST WILEY

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Indications that "pure food" Wiley—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief chemist of the United States department of agriculture—will not be ousted from his position without an upheaval which may threaten the administration seriously, are plentiful here today. Democrats and progressives generally are rushing to Wiley's defense and openly charge that "The Interests" are behind the latest attempt to decapitate the man who so often has proved obnoxious to their plans.

MANY WILL GO TO GRANTS PASS

Medford Business Men May Take Band With Them to Neighboring City to Attend Mining Congress Tuesday.

From present indications over 100 business men of Medford will leave Tuesday to attend the mining congress which is to be held in that city. Plans are being made to take the band with them and join in having a good time.

The men in charge of the congress have made elaborate plans for the entertainment of visitors and a large crowd of men interested in mining is expected. The program is complete and covers every phase of mining in Southern Oregon.

TEACHERS WED TO LIVE HERE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 14.—Insurgents may insurge and stand-patters standpat. It is all one now to Clare C. Ockerman, superintendent of schools at Pomeroy, Washington state, and Miss Mae Angelo, teacher in the public schools of Bloomfield, Indiana, both of whom decided that their duties as delegates to the National Educational Association convention could be performed as well in double harness as single, and who emphasized their sudden decision yesterday by a wedding which was the culmination of a romance beginning several years ago in Indiana. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. L. Walz, Deputy State Superintendent of Instruction F. E. Nolder of Washington state acted as best man and a number of National Education Association delegates, friends of the bride and groom were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ockerman left on their wedding tour today and will be at home in Medford, Oregon, where Mr. Ockerman has large business interests, August 1.

BALL PLAYER KNOCKED INSENSIBLE BY BALL

PORTLAND, Or., July 14.—Struck in the forehead by a baseball, Oscar Olson, 19 years old, lies at the Good Samaritan hospital today in a serious condition and may not recover. Olson, who was playing in an amateur game yesterday was knocked insensible but soon regained consciousness and went home. Later he went to the hospital where it was found that the frontal bone in his head had been crushed and it was necessary to trephine the skull.

NEGRO BOY SACRIFICED DOG TO ATONE TO DEMON

DENVER, Col., July 14.—Declaring that a demon had been following him for days, demanding that he atone for his wrongdoings by offering a dog spirit on the altar of flame, Roy Bradley, aged 8, negro boy, is today held for stealing a high bred pointer belonging to a Japanese missionary and burning the animal in an ash pit.

The dog had only been imported from Japan three weeks ago. The boy admits that he had sacrificed other animals in a similar manner.

ROAD IS GOOD TO CRATER LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Stone of Sacramento Arrive in Medford by Way of Natural Wonder—Succeeded in Getting Nearly to Lake.

Stating that the road was in excellent condition considering the fact that it has as yet been untraveled this season, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Stone of Sacramento arrived in Medford last night, coming in an auto by way of Crater Lake. The party succeeded in getting within three quarters of a mile of the rim.

"We had a most delightful trip," states Mr. Stone, "and the roads were far better than we expected. Crater Lake is indeed a wonderful sight, and one well worth going miles to see."

OLD SOL TRIES TO COME BACK

Fails to Equal Wednesday's Record by One Degree, However—Calls On J. Pluv Who Sends Dampness to Help Discomfort.

Old Sol tried to "come back" on Thursday and smash his record of 102 of Wednesday. But he failed by one degree, the mercury failing to pass the 101 mark yesterday.

However, Old Sol had the questionable pleasure of making local people swelter, seeing that he couldn't make good himself he called on J. Pluv who sent considerable dampness to hang around creating an unusual amount of humidity.

Sol started out today to touch the century mark again and may do so this afternoon.

The weather man caught it this way: Maximum, 101; minimum, 59.5; mean, 80.

established a record. In 1888 he married Miss Mack's parents in this city, and in 1868 he married her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Chapman.
