

ELECTRICSTOPLAY PHOENIX TODAY

Local Baseball Aggregation After Suitable Rest Are Planning to Wallop Neighboring Bunch — Electric Fans Will Be Present.

The high tension, gore-hunting electric baseball amalgamation having enjoyed a two-weeks' rest and having fully recuperated from the complications of the glorious Fourth at Prospect, are now keyed up to a high state of nervous energy and will turn loose on the foxy Phoenix team Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The game will be played at Phoenix baseball park, the winner to take the gate receipts and perhaps the train home, although the roads are said to be in good shape for hiking. Electric fans will be present in large numbers to cheer for the winning team and keep the atmosphere cool. Those present will see the contest of their lives with long bushy whiskers on it. An unusually high voltage is to be used for the occasion and something is expected to drop—although what, has not yet been determined. The umpire is not bought up, and if he is at all good natured the Electricians expect to come home with bells.

One of the attractions will be Captain Ebel's base running—if he gets first on balls, and is not put out before he connects with the territory sack, he is just as liable to make a score as not—this is a fact. The infield will be particularly formidable, and double and triple plays will be executed with lightning rapidity, if everything works right.

As soon as the score-keeper's pencil gives out electric meters will be installed at the home plate to register the circuits. The umpire is a Christian Scientist and can imagine a whole lot, which looks good. Specially constructed, extra size gloves will be used during the game, having basket attachments to enable those who failed to annex the ball at Prospect to gloat onto at least one.

SHOWING VALUE OF FARM PROPERTY

J. A. Westerlund Will Receive Over $8000 for Products Grown Between His Trees On Large Orchard Tracts.

J. A. Westerlund on his western Oregon orchard tracts is this year demonstrating the value of farm products grown between his rows of young trees, and thus making the land produce a revenue while waiting for the trees to come into bearing. Mr. Westerlund is now harvesting an immense grain crop while later in the season he will gather many pumpkins, bushels of corn and the like. He expects to take over $8000 this season from the tracts, none of which are in bearing.

Mr. Westerlund states that he is not injuring his trees in the least by growing grain and farm products between the rows. For a distance of five or six feet on each side of the rows of trees the land is planted to grain, corn or other products. The wheat crop this year was very heavy and is now being harvested.

Aside from growing stuff Mr. Westerlund is also making a success from the raising of chickens and turkeys and livestock and these sources are productive of much revenue.

"At the present time we are farming, and not in the orchard business," states Mr. Westerlund, "but we are not neglecting the trees. But until they come into bearing we wish to make the tracts pay for their development and the products grown between the trees is more than doing this."

FUEL SITUATION MUCH IMPROVED

Brighter Prospects Ahead of City This Season Than Ever Before—Much Wood Being Cut Near Butte Falls for Local Consumption.

There are brighter prospects ahead of the fuel consumers of Medford right now than they saw staring them squarely in the face last season at this time. No less than 500 cords of fir and oak wood are being brought to Medford every week by the Pacific & Eastern Railroad company. This work of "laying in" a winter's supply of fuel has been going on for several weeks and will continue until fully 15,000 cords have been delivered.

This wood is all coming from Butte Falls and of the amount to be delivered here the Crater Lake Fuel company will put in 10,000 cords, the Butte Falls Mill company 3000 while the individual shipments from other persons will probably exceed 2000 cords.

This wood is being offered for sale at $5 a cord in carload lots. That price is within the bounds of reason and no person has a justifiable right to take on a grouch at paying it. Surely none will who were compelled to pay $12 a cord for wood last winter. The unheard of and seemingly unjustifiable holdup of last winter is not likely to occur again in Medford—not for many years at least, and for this deliverance the consumers should be grateful to the Pacific & Eastern railroad, which began operating last spring between Medford and Butte Falls.

A Regal Head

How often do we hear or see this expression used in describing a beautiful woman!

Denote that head of its hair instead of a queenly, royal bearing we have a fright. The hair makes all the difference. To have that glorious abundance of radiant hair which always crowns "a regal head," one should use Newbro's Herpicide.

Herpicide represents the last word in scientific hair culture. It destroys the dandruff germ, checks falling hair and corrects generally, diseases of the hair and scalp.

The positive results and its delicate but refreshing odor recommends Newbro's Herpicide to ladies of refinement everywhere.
