JOLTS AND JINGLES

By Ad Brown

I wrote some verse, and some there were Who called it worthless truck: 'Twas copied down in Chico though And credited to—Puck.

Speaking of Names. Did you note the Klinehammer-Hammer wedding at Grants Pass the other day? I. Cream registered at a Portland hotel yesterday. Didn't mention whether his first name was Ice.

Primrose, the minstrel man, is suing for divorce. The primrose path is an unhappy one.

Another Hen Tale. Mary had a little hen, The surest thing you know, sir; It gave an egg to her each day Far cheaper than the grocer.

A Battle Royal. "After suing for a divorce at Portland, Mrs. Royal invited her husband outside the court for a fight."—Journal.

A man over in England claims he is Nat Goodwin's son. Can anyone tell what his object is?

No, Alvin, a spark plug isn't a horse one drives when he takes his girl driving.

A Dream. I dreamed all politicians climbed Upon a mighty hill, To stay until elections passed And all of them kept still, I dreamed the people want to vote And no one told them how.

The best ones were elected and The worst ones had to bow, And when I woke I thought a while And yowed how queer it seemed, For people have yet to wake up To vote as I had dreamed.

Tragedies in Headlines. Chicago Tribune. "Took 'Em Off Too Soon." "Old Rifle Had a Lead in It." "Caucally Smoked Sixty of Them in a Day."

"Ladder Was Old and Worm Eaten." "He Couldn't Swim." "It Was the Savings of a Lifetime." "Angry Husband Overtook Them." "His Rich Father Had Cut Him Off." "Chauffeur Says He Didn't See Him."

To Which We Add. "Changed Seats in Canoe." "Wife read Letter." "Met old College Chum." "Could drink or leave it alone." "Practiced on Cornet." "Tickled Mule's hind Leg." "Slipped on empty Banana."

EDINBURGH.—King George and Queen Mary left here today for London. The king will take up a number of important conferences prior to parliament's consideration of the lords' veto bill next week.

Hasking for Health.

TO SLOVENLY CITIZENS.

A dirty yard generally indicates a slovenly possessor—at least one lacking in civic, if not in personal pride. There is no excuse for filth except laziness.

Many dirty yards make a dirty city, and a dirty city repels people rather than attracts them. People that have no personal pride should be compelled to clean up—compelled by the municipality whose health, prosperity and future they endanger.

Unsightly rows of weeds along curbs, left to dry and rattle through the summer, should be cut down. Every year, as the paved area increases, this nuisance becomes more and more noticeable.

Clean up. Don't wait until you are forced to, but have pride enough in your home, your street, your city to do your share in making them attractive.

LOST—THOSE CLUSTER LIGHTS.

WHAT has become of those cluster lights for which Main street property owners, with the exception of two or three moss backs, signed up for last spring?

The council accepted the power company's proposal, and left the details of contracting for posts, etc., with a committee. Since then nothing has been done.

General Apathy seems to be in command of the campaign for the city beautiful. But while clubs are adjourned for the summer and forest and stream or seaside lure from the city, is the time to make the street improvements.

No more time should be lost in dilly-dallying. Those cluster lights ought to be in now—so that the city may be more attractive. If work was begun now, the lights would hardly be in place for the time the fair is held—and surely we are not so lacking in enterprise as to leave Grants Pass the only city beautiful that the night finds in Southern Oregon.

A CREDITABLE INSTITUTION.

IN the hotel Medford Southern Oregon will have a hostelry that will be a credit to the entire state.

Any city of 100,000 inhabitants might well be proud of such an institution. Business men of Medford who helped finance the hotel, are entitled to recognition, for their patriotism and enterprise.

There is probably not another city of Medford's size in the country where hotel men could be found with the nerve and courage to start an institution so creditable to the community and that a large part of the money was unselfishly furnished without thought of profit and solely to benefit the Rogue River Valley is a glowing instance of the spirit that has made Medford and will make it the midway metropolis.

The new hotel is five stories in height, contains 100 rooms and is equipped with every modern convenience designed to comfort the traveler and sojourner. It will be furnished elaborately, and provide accommodations equal to those of any hotel in Portland or San Francisco.

To make such an institution profitable everyone in the city should lend his support and assistance, to the end that those who have backed their faith in the city's future with their cash may find their foresight justified.

PARK THE RIGHT-OF-WAY.

NO valid excuse can be offered for the retention of frame shacks on the railroad right-of-way between Sixth street and Main streets.

The Southern Pacific will comply with any request from the city council and order their removal. Notice given now to move within six months would work no hardship upon occupants, give ample time to secure other quarters, and permit the completion of the parking of the square in the heart of town, adding greatly to Medford's attractiveness and creating a favorable impression of the city with tourists and strangers.

Lots on this right-of-way strip were leased by the railroad in early days to help along the commercial growth of the city by aiding shippers. The lots were leased for a dollar a year, subject to cancellation on thirty days notice.

The original lessees have outgrown their quarters. The shacks are now a source of income to owners not engaged in business. There is no reason why the occupants should not secure quarters of their own, either lease some other portion of the right-of-way at nominal sum, or buy land, like the rest of us, and make possible the beautification of the city.

The generosity and public spirit of the Southern Pacific has been grossly abused, not only by shack owners who reap a profit by renting land belonging to the railroad, but in other cases, such as the Rogue River Valley railroad, where space let for depot purposes only has been sublet for mercantile purposes until the depot is almost lost in the pop corn and red-lemonade.

The Southern Pacific should cancel the lease to all buildings not used by their owners for purely shipping purposes, but used instead as income producers from land obtained under false pretenses in competition with merchants who own or rent business property.

Public opinion will back up any such effort of the railroad—it will go further and demand it.

A Little Tale of the Wealth-Producing Soil of the Rogue River Valley

No more convincing proof can be introduced as to the productivity of a Rogue River valley orchard than an occasional recital of what these orchards are really doing.

It was less than four years ago that W. D. Holdridge purchased a 25-acre apple, pear and peach orchard up near Talent. For this property he paid $400 an acre.

The entire acreage was set to ap-more than $6000. The total for the four years being more than $17,000 or one and two-thirds times more than the entire tract cost him four years ago. And while all this amount of money has been received for the peach crop it must be considered that a splendid pear and apple orchard of 25 acres has been drawing closer to a bearing age, in fact there is some fruit on the trees this season.

Orchard men predict that four more crops of peaches may safely be taken from the peach trees before the apple trees will have attained a size which will necessitate the removal of the peach trees from among them.

Mr. Holdridge is said to have refused $2500 an acre for this tract.

While Mr. Holdridge and his two sons have been giving their best efforts toward making this orchard a money producer and leading it up to be one of the best orchard tracts in the valley the sons have not been losing sight of futures. Each has acquired acreage near by and have put out orchards which they have promised themselves to make as thrifty coin producers as is now the original tract.

Someone has said that all orchard men are not Holdridges. That is true, but it is quite as true that there are but few localities in the Rogue river valley which will not produce as abundantly for Jones, Smith or Johnson as they would for a Holdridge if given the same care and attention.

NAT GOODWIN TO DESERT STAGE FOR FILM DRAMA

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 22.—Nat Goodwin, actor, announced today his intention of deserting the legitimate stage for the film drama.

This announcement followed the incorporation of the Co-operative Film company, of which Goodwin is vice president. Nat, it is understood, will personally produce the picture plays in addition to acting them. He is to receive, it is said, the largest salary ever paid to a motion picture actor, and besides will receive a substantial share of the profits.

The Germ Which Produces Dandruff

Finally Causes Baldness—Kill the Germ and Save Your Hair—Newbro's Herpicide Will Do It.

Did you ever try to discover a reason for the drying of a valuable plant? You perhaps found that life was destroyed by some insect or parasite working about the roots and sapping away the elements which go to support plant life.

The dandruff germ exercises the same destructive influence upon the life of the hair. It forces its way down the follicle around the hair bulb and thus prevents the hair from getting proper nourishment. The hair dies and drops out.

Newbro's Herpicide prevents this by killing the germ. It also frees the scalp from the accumulations of dirt and scurf. With the removal of these obstacles to a clean, healthy scalp, the hair will grow naturally and luxuriantly.

Herpicide is known as the Original Dandruff Germ Destroyer. One dollar size bottles are sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Applications may be obtained at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors. Send 10c in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., for a nice sample of Herpicide and a booklet telling all about the hair.

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

Her Health and Strength Back Again by the Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corum writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic, and, from the first day, it seemed to help."

I had almost lost my reason, but, thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical. Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community, there live some who have been benefited by Cardui. The beneficial effects of this time tested woman's remedy, soon show themselves in many different ways. Try it.

$1000 REWARD FOR MISS GERTRUDE ILG

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 22.—With a reward of $1000 for information of the whereabouts of Miss Gertrude Ilg, posted by the family and friends of the missing girl and a possibility that the state will offer an additional sum, efforts today to locate the young woman who disappeared Monday were redoubled. The most important clue was furnished by three women living near Menlo Park who claim to have seen a young woman answering Miss Ilg's description.

FORGED A DEED: SENT UP FOR THREE YEARS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 22.—Mrs. Lillian Paxton Flynn, convicted of forging a deed to property belonging to Mrs. Jennie R. Dean was sentenced today by Superior Judge Wilts to serve three years in San Quentin penitentiary. When sentence was pronounced Mrs. Flynn collapsed.

Edward Flynn, the woman's husband, also implicated in the crime, was arrested in Denver but broke jail and escaped.

SEATTLE, Wash.—Bill Lange, former baseball star, and representing Garry Herrman on the Pacific Coast, is in Seattle today looking over the Northwestern league players for the Cincinnati Reds.

APPELL'S South African WATER BAG Keeps water cool 48 hours or longer, in sun or shade, great boon to prospectors, sportsmen, stockmen, farmers, teamsters, anyone exposed to dry or warm weather. Used by U. S. G. O. T. Strong, light, easy to carry. Guaranteed. This Letter Typifies the Attitude of All Users.

While in Nevada recently I had occasion to drink out of one of your South African Water Bags. Water from the bag certainly tasted good on the desert. As I used one of your 2 1/2 gallon bags and the water remained cool all day, even though the temperature rose over 100 in the shade, and at the morning I found the water sparkling and as cool as ice water. It certainly is a boon to those living in the arid regions.
