BOTH MEN TRAINING HARD FOR CONTEST ON NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

GAFFNEY AND DANE READY

Fight Fans in All Sections of Southern Oregon Will Be on Hand to Witness the Bout-Boys Show Up Well in Training Stunts.

With the date of their contest only a few days away, both Battling Nelson and Tommy Gaffney, who will Batteries: Kuhn and Koester; Los clash next Friday evening, are fast Angeles, Smith and Halley. Umpire, rounding into shape. Both of them Finny. seem fit to travel the ten-rounds of the contest without checking their speed, and both men are finding backers. Nelson says he is in the best of condition and that by the time the gong sends them away he will have put on the proper fighting edge, Gaffney, on the other hand, has trained faithfully for the contest and realizes that he has arrived at the one supreme moment in hts career to make a reputation which will throw him into a class to be reckoned with. The ten-round bout is sure to be a fast one and one that will keep the fans on their toes throughout.

Edwards' gymnasium is crowded daily to watch the two men go through their paces. Both Nelson and Gaffney are giving their sparring partners all that they want and rough it up considerably. Gaffney seems to be able to take the hard ones as well and is making a study of the Nelson defense, confident that he can break

Walter McCallum, who is promoting the bout, has received word from all parts of southern Oregon and northern California that a large crowd of fight fans will be on hand to witness the bout. The contest has been advertised widely and well. There is little doubt but that the crowd will be large.

The contest is attracting considerable attention throughout the counkeeping their eyes on the Battler to see if, as he says, he is not yet out of the championship class. A great St. Louis 0 deal depends upon the outcome of Boston 5 the fight here next Friday evening

COLORED MINSTRELS

Regarding the great colored minstrel troupe that appear in Medford Tuesday evening, August 1, the Oregon City Observer says: "To have one's expectations realized is very gratifying and pleasing, and it is safe to say that the large and enthusiastic audience which filled the tent of Busby's ministrels last night had their hopes and anticipations more than gratified.

From the rise of the curtain, to its fall in the last act, there was not a dull or tedious moment, while the repeated encores and laughter that followed every song and joke, reflected the audiences' sincere approval and appreciation.

The street and stage wardrobe was the most gorgeous, elaborate and expensive ever worn by any organization of a like nature that has exhibited here. And the band, it must not be forgotten, for its noon concert was
