

WHAT HAIL DID IN NEW YORK

A Real Storm and What It Accomplished—Not the Fake Storms of the Rogue River Valley—Leaves and Fruit Stripped From Trees.

C. W. Potter of the Fairdale orchard has received the following account of the rain and hail storm that swept the fruit section of New York recently, taken from the Medina, N. Y., Tribune of July 27: which shows that orchards were even stripped of leaves as well as fruit:

"The worst hail and rain storm, probably in the history of the county, visited this section last Friday afternoon and as a result the fruit-growers in the northern section of the county suffered a great loss, especially among apple orchards. In the immediate vicinity of Medina practically no damage was done while nearer the lake shore north and east of Medina the orchards present a sorry appearance. The loss suffered by James Allen of Waterport, may be taken as illustrating what befall in a greater or less degree, scores of other farmers. Mr. Allen had a prospect of 800 barrels of apples, but he said that he did not believe a barrel had been left on the trees.

"The storm traveled in a path about a half mile wide, with the Ridge road as the southern edge, and its direction was from the southwest to the northeast. It passed through the villages of Gaines, Waterport, Carlton and Kent and was accompanied by heavy thunder and vivid lightning.

"The apples were wholly stripped from some orchards, and the leaves with them, and the ice bullets came with such force as to give the fruit the appearance of having been denuded with the thumb.

"A terrific storm accompanied by three disastrous cloudbursts, swept over Lockport and vicinity accomplishing extensive damage to property, destroying one woman's speech killing one horse, injuring the farmers seriously, causing two fires, one of which resulted in a heavy loss, and flooding great expanses of open country.

"At Pavilion, Genesee county, the storm lasted 10 minutes and extended over a district nine miles from east to west and four miles north and south. Hail stones fell that were as large as hickory nuts. Corn leaves were riddled, bean blossoms were beaten off, fruit was knocked from the trees, and that which remained was badly cut and damaged. Cabbage leaves were beaten off and the hearts were cut out while squash and cucumber vines were ruined. The lawns were covered with leaves that were cut from shade trees."

TEXANS TO LOCATE IN ROGUE VALLEY

(Oregon Journal.) Max Hauschild of Austin, Texas, was a visitor at the Portland Commercial club this morning as advance agent for a colony of Texans who propose to settle in the Rogue River valley and engage in fruit growing. Mr. Hauschild is accompanied by seven families, and represents 15 who have tired of Texas and look to Oregon for permanent locations.

"Our party is enthusiastic over this country," said he. "We do not think conditions here are overestimated from what we have seen. I do not believe in trusting to attractive literature gotten out to lure settlers, but prefer to go and see for myself what a new country offers. Your fruit particularly is very attractive. As Texas will produce 3,000,000 bales of cotton this year you can see how important a crop this is with us."

PETITIONS FOR OPENING OF COAL FIELDS SIGNED

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 2.—The first batch of petitions, demanding that the federal government shall open mine and sell at cost Alaskan coal, will be forwarded to Washington Monday, according to those who are promoting the movement in Portland today. Four thousand four hundred names will be appended to the first petitions to go east.

More than 600 petitions are being circulated and are being readily signed.

The chamber of commerce and the bankers declined to sign the petition. The majority of big business men said they favored the leasing system instead of the proposition to have the government do its own mining.

There is no opposition to the movement here on the part of big business concerns.
