EAGLE POINT EAGLETS.

(By A. C. Howlett.)

R. E. Grubbs of Sawtelle, Calif., the man of whom I spoke as having come up from California to gather the stones that are lying on our desert lands around us, succeeded in gathering 210 pounds and shipped them to his shop at Sawette, and now, today (Friday) he starts for Woodville in quest of more stones.

Miss Anna Robbin, national organizer of the W. C. T. U., spoke here last Monday night to a full house. She had her audience for about an hour and it was noted that her lecture was one of the best that had ever been delivered in this place, and if she should return and let it be known that she was going to lecture, she would have a crowded house.

Frank Swingle of Ashland and Mr. Aldred Brarer of the Brarer-Deusman Implement company of Ashland, were here the first of the week. They have been out to the Silver Lake country to put in a pumping plant for Mr. Hollie Swingle, on what is known as the desert in that region. Mr. F. Swingle predicts that that will prove to be one of the finest horticultural and agricultural districts in Oregon.

Mrs. W. P. Lane and her son, E. L. Lane of Central Point, were pleasant callers last Tuesday. They were here on a business venture. After leaving the Sunnyside hotel they went up to the old Moomaw place but their business I did not learn. Mrs. Lane was well pleased with our town but did not like our foot bridges. They are too shaky.

Rev. M. C. Davis, the Sunday school evangelist of the Congressional church took a trip up Little Butte creek last Tuesday and spent Wednesday in the Huff neighborhood preaching to a good sized audience at night and expects to return in the near future and organize a Sunday school for them.

Died August 2, 1911, at the residence of his son, Mr. George W. Clarno, aged 86 years 7 months and 16 days. The deceased was born in Madison county, Ohio, December 14, 1824, crossed the plains in 1860 to Stockton, Calif., where he remained until 1863, when he came to Roseburg, Or.; came to Eagle Point September 10, 1904, where he has remained until the day of his death. He leaves a wife and eight children to follow—I cannot say mourn his loss, for he was fully prepared for the change. He united with the M. E. church in the twelfth year of his age and could always "give a reason for the hope that was within him." He enjoyed good health up to the last seven or eight months of his life and was an active worker in the cause of his Master, often remarking what a pleasure it was to work in Christ's vineyard. Before his death he selected the Scripture lesson to be read at his funeral, Second Timothy, fourth chapter, also the text to be used for the funeral sermon, John 11:26. He rejoiced as he felt that the end was drawing near. The interment was made in the Central Point cemetery August 3. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. C. Howlett assisted by Rev. M. C. Davis.

Mrs. M. C. Davis, wife of our Sunday school evangelist of Golden, Douglas county, Oregon, came out to Central Point last Wednesday to attend a camp meeting being held by the Free Methodists. She is accompanied by her little daughter Esther, and Thursday they visited Mrs. Howlett and on the visit was accompanied by Miss Edna Barr of Medford.

Three of the Cingade daughters, Miss March, Miss Kay and Mrs. Anna Kerby, all of Peyton, were guests at the Sunnyside last Thursday night on their way to Medford and a hint was dropped that the wedding bells may ring again in the vicinity of Peyton before long.
