FEMALE QUACK UNDER ARREST

"Doctor" Hazzard, the Woman "Fast Cure" Specialist, Charged With Causing the Death of English Patient by Starvation.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 7.—Linda Burfield Hazzard, the woman "fast cure" specialist who is charged with causing the death of Miss Claire Williamson by starvation, will be brought to Seattle today and lodged in the county jail.

"I will get $10,000 bail all right," said Dr. Hazzard this morning. "The doctors have been angry because I have been successful with my cure" she continued, "and when Claire died they thought they had a great chance to get me out of the way. But they won't do it."

The charge of murder in the first degree is lodged against Mrs. Hazzard, and her son is trying to get bail for her today.

Mrs. Hazzard was arrested at her sanitarium at Olalla Saturday afternoon.

Claire Williamson, who died under the fast cure, was the daughter of a British army officer. With her sister Dorothea she came to Seattle last winter. Both sisters went to the Hazzard sanitarium in April for treatment. Claire died on May 19 and Mrs. Hazzard tried to have herself appointed administratrix of her estate as well as guardian of Miss Dorothea, who she alleged, was of infirm mind.

At this juncture, British Consul Agazzis of Tacoma interfered and the arrest of "Doctor" Hazzard followed.

Back to Nature

A hen is not supposed to have much common sense or tact, but every time she lays an egg she cackles forth the fact.

A rooster hasn't got a lot of intellect to show, but none the less most roosters have enough good sense to crow.

The mule, the most despised of beasts, has a persistent way of letting people know he's around by his insistent bray.

The busy little bees they buzz, bulls bellow and cows moo, and watch dogs bark, and ganders quack and doves and pigeons coo.

The peacock spreads his tail and squawks; pigs squeal, robins sing, and even serpents know enough to hiss before they sting.

But Man, the greatest masterpiece that nature could devise, will often stop and hesitate before he'll
