

ATWOOD DUE AT GOTHAM TONIGHT

Aviator Says He Has Wasted Too Much Time and That He Intends to Keep Going—First 57 Miles Successfully Traversed Today.

FORT PLAIN, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Determined to reach New York today at all hazards, Aviator Harry N. Atwood ascended from here at 7:25 o'clock this morning and headed for the Hudson river.

"I have wasted too much time already," Atwood said just before the start, "and I intend to keep on going today. If such a thing is possible, I shall reach New York before night."

Atwood passed Rotterdam Junction, 34 miles here, at 8:15 and reached Albany at 9:02 o'clock. Without a stop, Atwood cut over the river flying at an altitude of about 250 feet.

His machine was beautifully timed as was attested by the steady purr of the motor and the aviator evidently decided that his original plan of stopping at the capital city to attach pontoons to his aeroplanes would be a useless waste of time.

He landed on a hill just outside of Castleton, however, at 9:13 o'clock to examine his machine and replenish the gasoline supply. Castleton is 67 miles from Fort Plain and 134 miles north of New York.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Reconsidering his decision to make the flight down the Hudson river to New York without pontoons attached to his aeroplanes, Aviator Atwood telephoned to Albany from South Castleton shortly after 10 o'clock today ordering copper pontoons sent to him immediately.

Atwood already has covered 1123 miles since his start from St. Louis on August 14. When he reached Rhinecliff he will have reeled off 1177 miles, 13 miles more than the world's cross country record set up in a recent aeroplane race in Germany. The aviator has experienced no trouble of even a minor nature and has come through the long endurance flight without replacing a single part of his machine.

While awaiting the arrival of the pontoons Atwood told a United Press representative that he had practically abandoned his first intention of trying to make New York tonight.

MAN'S CONSCIENCE CREATES A FAMILY

WICHITA, Kans., Aug. 23.—A man's conscience, in a courtroom here, created a family and blurred the stain on a woman's name.

Ill health caused Alice Robbins, 19, to give her baby to A. D. Moore and wife for a few months. When she wanted the child back Moore refused, so she went to court.

Miss Robbins declined in court to reveal the name of the baby's father. During a recess, J. G. Crelling approached the girl's lawyer and admitted being the father, adding that he desired to marry the girl.

The proposal almost staggered Miss Robbins, but she confessed her love for Crelling, and Judge McCandless married them. He dismissed the trial and gave the father and mother their child.

SENSATIONS EXPECTED WITH TRIAL OF BELLBOY

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.— Promise of sensational developments in connection with the trial of Paul Geidel, the 17-year-old bellboy who is charged with the murder of Millionaire William H. Jackson, was made today by attorneys for the defense.

In examining talesmen, Judge Gray, Geidel's counsel, asked each prospective juror if he knew Josephine Joy or Sturdevant of Passaic, N. J., or Helen Hall. He did not explain the reason for his questions, but wanted to make certain whether the talesmen had ever heard of the women.

Josephine Joy is an actress who a month ago asked Helen Dwellie Jenkins, who was involved in wholesale jewelry smuggling with wealthy men of the east and middle west last June, to introduce her to some "nice old men."

Eight jurors were in the box when the afternoon recess was taken.

NINETY PER CENT OF MEN FAVOR STRIKE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 23.—J. G. Taylor, business agent of the machinists of the western division of the Harriman lines, who has been sounding the temper of the federated employees of the system in his jurisdiction, regarding their inclination to back their demand for better working conditions with a general strike, said today that the referendum vote to be taken here on this question would show over 90 per cent of the men in favor of the walk-out.

Other officers of the union place the percentage even higher.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles. A Medford Citizen Gives a Valuable Hint.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary troubles set in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to Fright's disease. The best remedy to use for ills which are caused by weak or disordered kidneys is Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the experience of a resident of Medford who has tested Doan's.

G. M. Jones, 1404 N. Central avenue, Medford, Or., says: "I found Doan's Kidney Pills especially adapted to my case. My back was very stiff and painful and I had other annoying symptoms of kidney trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Haskin's drug store, brought me prompt relief and since taking them my health has been much better. This excellent remedy has earned my endorsement."

WILDE CASE IS AGAIN DELAYED

District Attorney, However, Refuses to Discuss Faulty Indictment, Which is Said to Have Been Returned by the Grand Jury.

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 23.—Asked concerning the rumor that the indictment against Louis J. Wilde, the San Diego banker who is accused of embezzlement had been found defective and that the grand jury now in session had been requested to bring in a new one, District Attorney Cameron today declined to make a definite statement.

"It might be so, and it might not. I cannot discuss grand jury matters," said Cameron.

The delay in Wilde's arraignment and unwillingness of the authorities to talk is taken to indicate that Wilde probably will not be brought to trial on the present indictment which charges that he and W. Cooper Morris, an officer of the defunct Oregon Trust & Savings bank, embezzled funds jointly.

Wilde, strictly speaking was not an officer of the bank, and it is said this fact might constitute a loophole for him to escape conviction were he guilty as charged.
