JOLTS AND JINGLES

By Ad Brown

Adjournment at Last.

Back to the farm and back to the city; Greet them with kindness, Treat them with pity.

They are the men who have worked all summer, Worked till the dawn of an early fall, Worked with the eyes of a nation upon them, Worked to accomplish—just nothing at all.

Back to the crossroads, Back to the mansion, Friends of the tariff and Foes of expansion.

Senators kill what the house has accomplished, President kills what, united, they do;

Now they've adjourned and a weary nation Sighs in relief for at last they are through.

One Medford maid writes to know what picture was stolen from the Louvre cafe.

Most any man can tell you just what he said on the last occasion he was unexpectedly called upon to make a speech.

FAILS TO FLY IN HYDROPLANE

Propeller Breaks in Midstream and Aviator Has Narrow Escape From Drowning—Machine Sinks Under Water.

ASTORIA, Or., Aug. 25.—Despite the accident yesterday afternoon which nearly cost his life and wrecked his hydroplane Aviator Hugh Robinson said today that he probably would be ready to fly again either tomorrow or Sunday.

When the propeller of his hydroplane broke while he was in the channel getting under way for a flight from the water, the machine sank until nothing was visible but a small part of the pontoon. Robinson was strapped to his seat was carried under, but managed to free himself, and climbed to the pontoon.

A swift tide carried the aviator and his machine down the river a mile before a line could be made fast.

The hydroplane was towed back to the docks and today Robinson and his mechanics are busy repairing it. Several thousand persons witnessed the accident.

FOR NATIONAL HIGHWAYS.

THE good roads movement threatens to sweep the nation.

A bill introduced in congress by Representatives J. F. King of Florida and Senator Cullom of Illinois provides for the inauguration of seven national highways, radiating from Washington to the furthestmost parts of the country. The estimated cost of these seven roads will be $148,000,000, but it is thought that the great benefits which will be derived from their use will more than counterbalance the cost of their building. Construction will be under supervision of a national commission.

It is proposed to have these seven roads have a common terminus at Washington and radiate out over the country to Portland, Me.; Buffalo, N. Y.; Seattle, Wash.; San Francisco, Cal.; San Diego, Cal.; Austin, Tex., and Miami, Fla. These will be called, respectively, the Washington national highway, the Roosevelt national highway, the Lincoln national highway, the Jefferson national highway, the Grant national highway, the Monroe national highway and the Lee national highway, thus honoring seven heroes.

It is expected that these seven roads will give a total length of 12,000 miles, which, at a cost of about $12,000 a mile, will bring the aggregate cost to nearly $150,000,000. It is proposed that the money for their construction be raised by the issue of bonds as in the case of the Panama canal, and that the maintenance cost of the roads be paid by a toll as in operation in many parts of the country today.

According to the present plans, the only states which will not be touched by any of the proposed roads will be Vermont, Michigan, Wyoming, Oregon, Missouri and Kansas. It is probable, however, that the present plans will be changed so as to include at least a part of these states in the routes.

THE VOICE OF TAFT THE VOICE OF GOD?

THE voice of the people is no longer the voice of God. But—

The voice of Taft is the voice of God.

Such, at any rate, is the conclusion to be drawn from a perusal of the recent utterances of the president of the United States.

The people have become the mob—no longer to be trusted.

Reforms, no matter what benefits they produce, are "nostrums of theorists."

Existing conditions, though "indefensible," like the wool tariff, must be permitted to continue for the enrichment of the few at the expense of the many, lest change be "unconsidered."

Mr. Taft has been most successful in preventing checks from being placed on the power of the predatory interests.

He fathered the Payne-Aldrich bill increasing the tariff. He denied the right of the people of Arizona to make their own constitution. He overrode the recall. He vetoed tariff reduction.

The president fears the judge who will be influenced by the popular majority to unjust decisions. But he does not fear the judge who owes his nomination and election to corrupt bosses and corporation influence.

Contempt for the right of the common herd—veneration for special privilege—these are threads woven through the president's messages.

Let us all kow-tow to the oriental potentate who so ponderously sits down on the rights of the people.

BARTLETTS ARRIVE IN GREAT QUANTITY

Sgbel & Day of New York under date of August 19, have the following to say regarding Bartletts: This shows 100 carloads of this fruit here this week, immense arrivals you will acknowledge. Those from Suisun and the river ending. The market generally is lower than our last quotations but there is more discrimination being made by the buyers who are hunting for the best pears of good size, 135 to 150, because the bulk of the arrivals up to this time have not been larger than 165. We do not see how this market can do any better as long as these immense quantities are thrown on it but we believe a different state of things will be seen after next week. The best Bartletts are worth today from $1.90 to $2.10 and the poorer $1.30 to $1.60.

ACCUSE NEW YORKER OF MONA LISA THEFT

PARIS, Aug. 24.—The Cri De Paris today says that the famous painting "Mona Lisa" which disappeared from the Louvre, was actually stolen in June, 1910, and is now in the collection of a New York "millionaire Jew." The painting stolen Tuesday, the paper says, was a copy which the original thieves substituted.

The search for the picture—original or fake—is going on today as vigorously as ever with the police still unable to announce any success.
