OVER $5000 PAID TO HUNT AND FISH

County Clerk Breaks All Records in Matter of Issuing Hunting and Fishing Licenses—Coleman Advocates Higher Bounty.

"I believe that the bounties in the state for wolves, wildcats, cougars, coyotes and the like should be increased," states County Clerk Coleman, "owing to the fact that every day some rancher comes into this office and tells of finding the carcass of a deer slain by some of these animals. If the bounty is increased I believe it will do much toward increasing the supply of game in the county. The present amounts offered by the state are too small."

These remarks by the county clerk were induced by looking up the records of receipts taken in to date this season for hunting and fishing licenses. He has issued 2678 fishing and 2501 hunting licenses this season, making a total of $5179 taken in to date in this county. This money goes to the state fish and game fund.

"While the game wardens are doing much good work," continued Mr. Coleman, "I believe that an increase in bounty would do much in protecting game. These animals hunt the year around and are certain to do more damage when the deer are young and more easily caught than during the hunting season. Hundreds of deer have been slain this season."

GRAND JURY IS MOST LENIENT TOWARDS KIDS

The grand jury went back in their minds to the days of watermelon stealing Thursday afternoon, when 12 youngsters were brought before it from Ashland, charged with swiping a number of bottles of soda water from the Siskiyou bottling works, and refused to return true bills against the children. While a cloak of secrecy surrounds the grand jury room, it is said that the principal reason for letting the kids go was the fact that one warm-hearted grandfather delivered a 20-minute oration dealing with young offenders who could see no wrong in purloining melons and fruit to appease their appetites. Soda water came under the same head, he declared. Thereupon the youngsters were allowed to go.

BEEMAN IS NOT HELD FOR TRIAL

Gold Hill's Mayor Escapes Penalty for Blacking Dr. Kelsey's Eye—Grand Jury Refuses to Indict Prominent Men.

Joe Beeman will not face trial for blacking Dr. Kelsey's eye.

The grand jury on Thursday afternoon threw the case out on the grounds that it was only a neighborhood row. The only witness examined was Dr. Kelsey himself, but the grand jury couldn't see where the state should come in.

The only avenue open now for Mr. Kelsey is to secure his own vengeance.

The first row grew out of charges of grafting laid at Kelsey's feet in a moment of supreme anger.

LA FOLLETTE ATTACKS TAFTS TARIFF ACTIONS

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 1.—La Follette's Magazine, under the caption of "Taft's Blow to the Consumer," launches today a new attack on President Taft's tariff action.

Addressing itself directly to the consumer, the magazine says: "You have chastened the congress that played you false in 1909. You have rebuked in more ways than one the president who called the Aldrich job the best tariff ever devised. But what will you say when your representatives pass a bill taking from your shoulders the burdens of the woolen trust duties which President Taft admitted to be indefensible, only to be foisted in their effort to do something for you by the president's veto?"

PAINTERS TAKE NOTICE. All members of local No. 643 are expected to march in the parade on Labor day. A fine will be imposed on those not marching. Clean suits will be furnished at hall for those not provided. 140* H. M. TUTTLE, Sec. Haskins for Health.
