

COFFEE A CURE FOR SALMONING

So Declares A. E. Kellogg Who States That He Has Used the Treatment Successfully for a Number of Years at Gold Hill.

GOLD HILL, Ore., Aug. 31.—To the Editor: I was in receipt several days ago from the state board of health, their pamphlet showing their investigation and treatment of salmon poisoning in the dog, which interested me considerably; also I noticed your editorial comment in yesterday's issue, asking for information. In reply will say that when I first came to the county in 1891, I gave the calomel treatment a thorough test in treating dogs for salmon poisoning. In several cases I found it effective in curing if given at first symptoms in small continued doses of one-fourth and one-half grains; but not till after I found I had probably hastened the death of several valuable dogs by administering the calomel in too large a dose of from four to six grains. If using the calomel I would advise to begin with small doses of one-half grain and increase to four and six grains.

I wish to tell the readers of this article a treatment that I tested when I first came to Gold Hill in 1897 after losing several dogs, using various treatments that were a failure. This treatment if faithfully administered will surely cure the disease in all stages. Take one pound fresh ground coffee and brew it in 6 quarts of water which makes a very strong solution. Now the coffee is like the calomel, an overdose is more fatal than the disease. After the first pronounced symptoms, give the sick dog a table spoonful of the coffee, in an hour's time give two table spoonful more, one hour after give half coffee cup in couple hours afterwards give a coffee cupfull, after that give a cup full or more three times a day till symptoms of recovery appear. In obstinate cases it takes several days' treatment to effect a cure. Stay with it as long as there is life, there is hope.

This treatment will purge and cause the animal to throw up, if successfully administered and with a success after immune from salmon poisoning which is an asset going with a valuable dog in this country where refuse of all kinds of fish is so promiscuously thrown away, by careless people where the dogs have access.

I will cite a case of a fox terrier that I have that is now nine years old. He was of a litter of three pups, eight months old. They all contracted the disease at the same time, I had considerable faith in the coffee treatment at the time and after the symptoms were thoroughly developed I began the treatment, but that day was called out of town for several days.

After I came back I found the pups in such an advanced stage of the disease I concluded that it was useless to try to do anything more to save them and would let them die. The dog of which I speak, the weakest of the bunch, came staggering into my store by the stove one day and being disappointed in losing the pups and also dreading to see my favorite suffer so, I said to him: "Old boy, I will just put you out of your misery," and having some coffee solution left I took him out and poured all the coffee I could get down him, expecting so large a dose to kill him at once. Visiting him several hours afterwards I saw at once that he seemed revived, so I repeated the dose, giving him all he could stand. The next morning I found the other two pups dead, but the one I had treated much improved. He began eating at once and recovered without further treatment.

TRY THIS WHEN YOUR HAIR IS DUSTY

(From the New York Herald.)

"When the hair is dusty and dull, and you want to clean it quickly, just sprinkle through it a little dry shampoo powder made by mixing four ounces of orris root with four ounces of therox.

"Then brush the hair thoroughly and not only will it be clean, but it will have a rich and glossy lustre that can be given in no other way. So little time is required for this dry shampoo that it can be done profitably whenever the hair is dressed.

"Therox is excellent for the scalp, and gives the hair new life and vigor. The regular use of this mixture heightens the natural color, while washing the hair with water too often causes it to lose color and become dull and brittle."

WOMEN MUST CARRY THEIR OWN TOWELS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—The "eternal feminine," this time in an unflattering role, today caused the Southern Pacific railroad to issue an order whereby it is hoped to save about $20,000 a year, but at the cost of the comfort of its women passengers. The railroad, discovering that towels valued at $21,000 disappeared last year from women's lavatories in cars, boats and stations, almost as rapidly as they can be hung up will dispense with them entirely. Henceforth the women must carry their own towels, dry their faces on handkerchiefs or go unwashed.
