JOLTS AND JINGLES By Ad Brown

A fellow may have all the strength Of Wrestler Gotch, And yet be thrown completely by Old rye and Scotch.

The man who shot his wife because she asked him to wash the dishes should be made an officer of the anti-suffragettes.

And now the editor of the Sacramento Bee has recommended the recall of the editor of the Los Angeles Times.

The Great Durbar.

"Does it matter if we're hungry?" A weakened Hindu said. "We are going to have a durbar With a king to lead parade.

"We will have a grand procession! The jewels upon each horse Would—converted into guanine— Check the hot-eyed fever's course.

"So we'll throng the streets of Delhi, Loaded with the gifts we bring; We've the famine with us always, But we seldom have a king."

Someone has suggested that "Mona Lisa" is now a moving picture.

USES SURGEON'S KNIFE TO GET BIGGER HAND

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 8.—Desiring to extend the reach of her left hand to acquire one more key on the piano, Miss Pearl Smith, a teacher in the Dierke school of music here has submitted to an operation. It is said that operations of this character are rarely successful.

If he operation fulfills her expectations, Miss Smith said today that she will have the right hand similarly treated.

REAL COUNT GREETS CHAUFFEUR AND BRIDE

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 8.—Social recognition may be extended to Jack Geraghty, former chauffeur and son of a liveryman of Newport, whose elopement and marriage with Miss Julia French, daughter of millionaire Amos T. French caused a tremendous sensation among the elite.

While driving past the Casino in an automobile Geraghty and his bride were greeted pleasantly by Count Matrupe of the Egyptian embassy. Members of the diplomatic corps are held in high favor, and recognition by a real count will help some.

PORTLAND IGNORANCE OF OREGON.

NO PORTION of Oregon is so ignorant of Oregon and its multitude of resources as its metropolis. To the average Portland citizen, Oregon is a lemon to be squeezed for Portland's benefit—and it is so squeezed.

Portland presents a sorry spectacle in the development of Oregon's resources. It furnishes a little hot air for development league purposes, and this is all, except the space (a form of hot air) given freely by the three big dailies.

As for money and brains and energy to actually develop the state, to build mills and manufactories, establish power plants and transportation facilities, to plant orchards and farms, to open mines and quarries, Portland is a minus quantity. Oregon communities are forced to depend upon themselves and seek outside assistance in order to grow.

Advice, paternal, reactionary and mossback advice, is showered upon the enterprise builder, who seeks co-operation in Portland—and that is all, save a sense of humiliation and discouragement, that he carries away with him. But the assistance denied at Portland is forthcoming from Spokane, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles or any one of a dozen eastern centers—hence Oregon grows, in spite of Portland, not because of it.

How little Portland knows about Oregon, just upon one subject, is shown in the following letter written to the Portland Journal by H. C. Perkins of Grants Pass:

"I read with much interest your timely editorial in the Journal of September 1, in regard to the establishment of a glass factory in Portland in which you express a regret that the sand or silica to be used in the factory would have to be shipped from Spokane, Wash. I agree with you that there should be a state mineralogist to investigate and report upon the mineral resources of the state.

"It is truly lamentable to note what unseemly ignorance prevails in regard to the unbounded natural mineral resources of the state. Here in Josephine and Jackson counties there are absolute mountains of the finest black and white marbles to be found anywhere on the continent from which structural material of all kinds equal to any in the country could be made. This marble in connection with the slate and shale in juxtaposition, would supply endless material for Portland cement.

"In Jackson county there are unlimited quantities of infusorial earth only a few miles from the railroad from which glass of all kinds could be made. I have seen samples of mineral coming from these deposits that were nearly pure silica and as white as snow. It seems strange indeed that we should be importing marble from Alaska, Tennessee, Vermont and Georgia when we have plenty of material within our own borders, the equal of any in the world."

MEDFORD'S FUTURE

(By Agnes Thecla Fair.) Medford will have another individual singing the praises of this progressive town, this remarkable town, whose growth in the last few years is one of the most remarkable of any town in Oregon.

Why did Medford grow? Because, bear in mind, her citizens are board of mind, generous and kind. No town is any bigger than the intellectual development of her citizens. No town is more prosperous than the purchasing power of the farmers and workers in that vicinity.

Since the desires of the citizens of Medford are for a bigger and more prosperous community, one of the first things to do is to get a shorter work day for those who toil, and a minimum wage for city street workers of $3.50 or $4 per day. The basic principle of a prosperous community must be based on the purchasing power of the worker. Then let Medford be up to the times, by inserting this clause as to wages and eight hours and let the work be done by the city of Medford on all street improvements, and good roads, city building and public work, thereby eliminating the private contract system with all its graft and incompetent workmanship.

Medford can be another such city as Sacramento if Medford's citizens want her to. She might also rival her sister city as to capitol grounds and capitol building, which are famous the world over.

FROSTED WINDOWS SOLVE FRAT HOUSE PROBLEM

SEATTLE, Wn., Sept. 8.—Frosted windows, impenetrable to human eyesight, have solved the problem and now the faculty of the University of Washington has withdrawn the edict that members of two sororities and one fraternity could not return to college if they persisted in occupying their newly completed chapter houses which are next door to each other.

Miss Isabella Austin, dean of women entered things when she announced that it was not within the bounds of propriety for college students of opposite sexes to live in adjoining houses.

PERLE CASEY RELEASED FROM PORTLAND TEAM

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 8.—Perle Casey, the popular second sacker, who has played with various Portland league teams for several seasons, has drawn an unconditional release from the Portland northwest league team, because Judge McCredie says, the team is running behind and it is necessary to cut expenses. Casey's work this season has been excellent. Mensor will replace Casey. Casey first came to the coast in 1902 when he joined the Sacramento club in the old California state league.
