QUERIES ABOUT HIGHWAY BONDS

E. J. O'Dell Of Central Point Seeks Information Regarding Proposed Good Roads Bond Issue Of $1,500,000—Answered In Editorial.

Central Point, Ore., Sept. 12, '11 Editor Mail-Tribune, Medford Ore.

Dear Sirs—I have been reading the "Short Talks" on the road bond issue.

The proposition as presented is all right and looks good, but should not the author go farther and give us an outline of what this $1,500,000 is going to cost us when the debt is fully cancelled?

Will we not at the end of the thirty years paid over $3,250,000 and long before the end of the thirty years, will we not be obliged to spend from $75,000 to $100,000 yearly to rebuild and repair these same roads.

After the first three years we may not have to expend any great sum on the roads that have just been built but there will be tributary roads to these main roads, and there will be some repair on the main lines and this will gradually increase until before the thirty years is up we will be expending an amount somewhere near the $100,000 mark.

Then is there any certainty that these bonds will sell for their face value? I see some talk of a premium, but is this assured?

Then the sinking fund. This fund will be deposited in some bank, or banks, and will undoubtedly draw two per cent. And will be returned to the farmers of Jackson county at six per cent. But the county will receive the two per cent and the bank the other four per cent.

What per cent of this large amount of money will actually be expended on the roads of Jackson county if voted and the bonds are issued?

Is it not a fact, that as a rule when there is a large sum of money to be handled, there is always plenty that are looking for a piece of it? And is it not also true, that there is generally a goodly number that get a good generous slice?

The people who have this money in charge and are responsible for it may be all right, but there are so many overseers, inspectors, superintendents, trustees, clerks, accountants and bosses, all at a nice fat salary, and some at an extraordinary fat salary. Then comes road machinery, road engines, graders, wagons, etc, all at a nice large price, then after all these are taken care of, the balance will undoubtedly be expended on the roads.

I am told that the county hired a road overseer, or expert road builder, and paid him $300 per month, and that all he has done was to ride around and draw his salary. How is this? They say that undoubtedly if we vote for the bonds, it will be necessary to have several more of the same kind.

Then I see that the county built a 16 foot—14"—stone macadam road at Ashland this year for $3995 per mile and in the same paper I notice that the county court gave Contractor Twoby the Medford and Central Point road contract, a stone macadam road 16 feet wide, at $6000 per mile.

Then who will build these roads; will it be the taxpayers? and resident farmers and laborers? Or will it be done by contractors, who employ Greeks, Hindus, Dagoes, etc, so

ATWOOD WITHDRAWS FROM AIRSHIP RACE

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Declaring that, under the conditions imposed it will be impossible for anyone to win the Hearst $50,000 prize for a coast to coast flight Aviator Harry N. Atwood today withdrew from the competition.

Atwood said he understood that the start had to be made before October 10 and not the finish and only learned his mistake today.

"This lets me out," said Atwood. "As a matter of fact, none of these fellows has a chance to win the money. I have figured it out, and the least time in which the feat can be done is 33 days. The time limit of the race is now only 30 days."
