Medford Song. (Tune—Oh! Adeline) You Medford Town How you have grown We like your style We'll stay awhile From Portland Town We've traveled down To taste your pears and apples, Medford Town.

Such is the refrain of a song by the Portland boosters who spent Wednesday afternoon in Medford and here are their sentiments, taken from the "Medford Extra" addition of the Daily Killer, the newspaper published on the train: Good roads! Good roads! Good roads! Medford the progressive, Medford the enterprising. Oregon and Portland can be proud of Medford, which shows the most remarkable growth of any city west of the Cascade mountains. Medford is the Pasadena of Oregon. Medford is the Pear City. Medford citizens are not only keen and wide awake, but they are cultured—the cream of the best cities of the east. He behoves us of Portland to get better acquainted with these thousands of up-to-date newcomers who have located in the Rogue River valley and are building there a fruit and jobbing center of which Oregon can be proud.

While here the Portland business men adopted the following resolutions: Resolved, by the Portland Business Men visiting Medford on the Portland Commercial club's Oregon excursion, That we congratulate Medford, the magic city of southwestern Oregon, on the amazing progress made since our last visit; proud only reflected in your new buildings.

10-YEAR-OLD BOY SCORES FATHER

Writes to Judge Demanding that "The Dog" be Either Hanged or Electrocutted—"Please Notify Me of Disposition of Him" He Writes.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 28.—Declaring that he had never seen his father but once and that was when he had his mother's tongue hanging out again the wall," little George Buhfrin, 10, has written Judge Lathaw from Chicago, asking that his father, John Buhfrin, either be hanged or electrocuted. Buhfrin is charged with bigamy. George composed the letter and it was also signed by his sister Angeline and brother Arthur.

"The last beating my father gave my mother," the letter stated, "is going to kill her. She is dying in bed. Dr. Fredman told me that she could not live. He has already married our good woman and had children by them all. He should either be hanged or electrocuted. Please notify me as to what disposition you make of the dog."

SEATTLE, Wn.—B. C. Stoneman is locked up in the county jail here in default of $5,000 bonds today. He was arrested yesterday on complaint of the federal authorities. He is charged with being a white slave, the government alleging that he brought Ethel Bower to Seattle from Butte for immoral purposes. Home prosperity depends upon home industry, and state-wide prosperity will be greater if factories selling "Made in Oregon" goods are patronized by the local merchants.

Records of metropolitan size, style and construction, but in all those statistical records which indicate industrial growth.

We also congratulate Medford and Jackson county on your campaign for good roads, in advocating a $1,500,000 bond issue to construct public highways which will make your country the most toured and best traveled in the state of Oregon, besides affording facilities for marketing your celebrated fruit products quickly and economically. We also express our thanks to the president and secretary of the Medford Commercial club and the business men of Medford for the kindly reception and automobile ride given to our delegation. Co-operation between Medford and Portland along constructive lines will do much toward the development of our state and will aid in the great cause of a united Oregon.

Medford Ore., Aug. 9, 1911.—This is to certify that about November my daughter was taken with a severe attack of rheumatism which rendered her left arm useless, in fact it was so near paralyzed that she was not able to move her fingers, but knowing of some of Dr. Chow Young's marvelous cures of long standing cases of rheumatism, we decided to consult him, in which I am pleased to say made no mistake, as his remedies stood as he claimed they would and after the third treatment the rheumatism was entirely left her and she has not had any symptoms of rheumatism since; besides her general health is much improved and I do not hesitate in saying believe those afflicted with rheumatism or paralysis will do well to consult Dr. Chow Young, whose house is corner of Tenth and Front streets, Medford, Oregon. INDIAN SONGS TO BE HEARD

Miss Grace Josephine Brown Will Sing a Number of Tribal Melodies Made by Alice Fletcher—Are from Native Sources Direct.

The four Indian melodies which Miss Grace Josephine Brown is to sing Friday evening, are with the exception of one number, "The White Dawn is Stealing," all taken from the collection of Tribal melodies made by Alice Fletcher. These were received by Miss Fletcher herself from native sources direct and have been given us in all their original purity by means of the graphophone and the transcriptions from the cylinders afterward verified from the singing of medicine men.

It was through the retentive and pensive mind of the medicine men and also crude picture-songs (picture-writing) that the melodies of the redmen were handed down from generation to generation up to the present day.

Song is almost, if not, the only mode of musical expression, barring the ever present and monotonous drum which is always used for accompaniment to the song, and the flageolet or "mystery whistle" which is said to produce a peculiar sweetness of tone. In her writings concerning Indian music Miss Fletcher says, "That the flageolet has proved a trusty friend to many a youth to whom nature had denied the power of expressing in vocal melody his fealty to the maiden of his choice."

Each of the four Indian numbers to be sung by Miss Brown will be preceded by the playing on the flute of the simple original melodies as received by Miss Fletcher. These have been ably arranged by Charles Wakefield Aldman and the words are by Mary Richmond Eberhard.

Miss Brown will sing these songs in the native costume and suitable scenic setting.
