VICE PRESIDENT KNOWS BASEBALL EVEN AS YOU AND

Vice President Sherman, "Sunny Jim," as he is affectionately called is a baseball "fan" of the most rabid kind. While he does not vert his enthusiasm like the noisy ones, there is no doubt he would like to do so just the same. But what the vice president lacks in noise he makes up in gestures and facial expressions, and any one who statched him the other day in New York at a game between the Yankees and the Clevelands could easily tell when it was time to "root."

HUMOR OF THE DAY TIMELY BREVITIES

A Provoking Mistake.

A Chleago man who started out one day recently to attend a wedding went astray and got into a house where a funeral was being held. He was a little inte and was conducted through a rather dark bull into a back parlor, France by means of a searchlight. where he found a vacant chair. Unfortunately it was impossible to see from where he sat just what was going on in the front room, where the preacher and corpse were located. He was able, however, to hear distinctly. The preacher was in the middle of his "It is true," he was saying, "that this

She Got the Soul.

There was a bashful young man who was invited to a dinner party and was paired with the prettiest woman in the room. itis seat at the table was in front of the roast fowl, which he was to carve. And there was also a fried sole in front of him. And he had never done a lick of carving in his life, for he was a bachelor.

But he made the best of the situation by asking the lady at his side what she would have.

"A little of the sole," she replied. He began to cut off a slice of the chicken's breast. "No, no-the sole," she whispered.

Now, where was the soul of a beu? He thought for a minute, and then attacked the wing. "The sole, the sole," eried the lady.

He looked for the feet, but no soles were left, so he tried a drumstick. But she still shook her head and said, "No. I only want a piece of the sole."

Then did this young man arise in his wrath, stick a fork through the fowl and put it all on the woman's plate. "Take it," he shouted-"take it, body.
