TELEGRAPHIC TABLOIDS.

TACOMA, Wn.—Though the legislature passed a law recently that aliens could not carry firearms without a state hunting license, Frank Richmond, an unaturalized German, beat his case today in Justice Graham's court by showing that German treaties with the United States provided for the same treatment for subjects of the kaiser as for Americans under the laws of this country.

MUSKOGEE, Okla.—After a 60-mile flight at the rate of a mile a minute, Aviator Rodgers was forced to land at McAlester, Okla., Monday, being handicapped by a faulty motor. The aviator left here at 11:35 o'clock this morning and at 12:30 p. m. was at McAlester, 60 miles to the southwest. He made minor repairs on his machine there and gave an exhibition flight.

TACOMA, Wn.—Through conflicting testimony, Mrs. Ida L. Warren today lost the $50,000 suit she started against the Northern Pacific railroad for the death of her husband, a locomotive engineer, two years ago.

TACOMA, Wn.—D. Hirano, a Japanese, is the first applicant for damages under the new employers' liability commission law. Hirano was cut in a whirling shaft at an ice cream factory here and had all his clothing torn off except his necktie and shoes.

TACOMA, Wn.—Denver Ed Martin, a negro, who once fought Jack Johnson 20 rounds in Los Angeles, Johnson getting the decision, is under arrest here today with three other negroes, charged with shooting craps.

TACOMA, Wn.—Little credence is placed by the police here in the report from Los Angeles that David Caplan, wanted by the prosecution in the McNamara case, was drowned in Piguet sound last summer, after a residence of several months at Home Colony, an anarchistic settlement near here.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Some strangers wanted to show Carl Johnson, a butcher, a forty-foot shark. They led him to a secluded place and robbed him. Johnson is satisfied he saw a shark.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Because she packed her valise first and then thought of what she put in it, Gladys Watson, chorus girl, is under arrest. She denies intent to rob, pleading carelessness.

SEATTLE, Wn.—In anticipation of heavier shipping with the opening of the Panama Canal, the American-Hawaiian Steamship company has placed an order for four large steamships with the Maryland Steel company at a cost of $3,200,000. The contract provides that the first vessel shall be built in twelve months and the fourth in twenty-two. The vessels will be approximately 12,000 tons each.

THE BEAUTY OF AUTUMN.

AUTUMN days are the most perfect of all days. A tremulous golden haze fills the circumambient air. Forest clad hills are gorgeous in their coats of many colors. Peace with contented mein broods o'er an earth showered with sunshine and resplendent in hectic beauty. Lifeless grasses rustle faintly in gentle zephyrs. Crimson and gold the dying leaves bid a bright farewell to the world and flutter noiselessly to oblivion. An unseen artist paints the red upon the apple, the blue upon the grape, the yellow on the pumpkin, and the brown upon the hill-side.

It is the season of fulfillment, of the harvest. The strenuous work of the year has been completed, and nature, her productive labors over, smiles serenely. It was to perfect these days that sunshine and shadow, shower and drouth, chased each other across the year, and the cycle has been completed.

Autumn is filled with the peace that passeth understanding because it typifies the finished product. It took the storms of winter, the showers of spring, the heat of summer and the early frosts to make today—the perfect day. Lose a single day from the infinite variety of those that have gone before, and today would have been woven in different pattern.

The beauty of autumn is the beauty of dissolution and the beauty of death. Smilingly in brightest garb, nature welcomes the end. The myriad creations of the year silently slip into the realm forgotten in obedience to the law inexorable.

There is nothing sad or terrible about death when the cycle of life is complete. It is the incomplete life that forms the tragedy—the life half lived, the struggle half won, the career half finished, and still in the making. For the untimely end of the half developed was black, the absence of all color, adopted as a badge of sorrow, not for the timely end of those whose powers had reached full fruition, and who, in the Indian summer of life, their work finished, smilingly fall into the sleep eternal, as an autumn day fades into a night resplendent.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S IDEAL.

THE divinity that hedges a throne to the royalist, or the episcopacy to the churchman, evidently clothes the courts in the mind of President Taft. In one of his campaign for renomination speeches the president says: "I love judges and I love courts." Then he adds that judges and courts "are my ideals on earth that typify what we shall meet afterward in heaven under a just God."

No wonder judicial recall seems sacrilege in the eyes of such an idolatrous worshiper of bench and gown, in whose mind the judge is godlike.

Few of us, however, regard judges as at all godlike. To most of us, a judge is simply an arbitrator of disputes. When he is unjust or corrupt, or incompetent, he forfeits respect as any other derelict official and is subject to the same criticism.

Many judges are political accidents, the creatures and creations of corrupt bosses and corporation ruled parties. Once in a while the capacity, ability and fitness of the candidate is considered, but more often it is his subservience or popularity or both. What is there sacred about such?

As Thomas Jefferson said over a century ago, and as Abraham Lincoln quoted him over half a century ago: "Our judges are as honest as other men, and not more so. They have with others the same passions for party, for power, and the privilege of their corps. Their maxim is, 'boni judicis est ampliare jurisdictionem,' and their power is the more dangerous as they are in office for life, and not responsible, as the other functionaries are, to the elective control."
