Batteries: New York—Mathewson, Wiltse and Meyers. Philadelphia—Bender and Thomas.

SHIBE PARK, PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 24.—With J. Franklin Baker once more starring as chief trouble-maker for the New York Giants, Connie Mack's Athletics today made it 3 to 1 in the world's championship series over the National League leaders. The score was 4 to 2. The Athletics batted Mathewson all over the lot. He was yanked in the eighth and Wiltse went in as a forlorn hope. It proved forlorn.

With two runs in the first inning, following a triple by Doyle, it looked dark for the Mack men until the fourth. Then Baker started the war for New York. A hot double from his bat to left was followed by a double from Murphy and Toribosome Baker came home. Then Davis doubled, and Murphy romped in. The "old man" nosed over the plate on a sacrifice fly by Thomas, and the Giants were again in a real chance. Just to make it good, Baker stung the ball again for two sacks in the last half of the sixth, scoring Collins, who had led off with a single.

Doyle's Bonthead.
In the Giants' half of the sixth, Doyle pulled off the prize bonthead play of the series. Barry fooled him by pretending to catch a grounder which went to Baker and Doyle was caught thirty feet off first. Throughout the whole game the once invincible Matty was in trouble. He had several narrow escapes. In the eighth his string was played out, and Becker went into bat for him. He failed to deliver. Then Wiltse went on the mound for the Giants and kept the score from growing larger, although the play against him was the most ragged of the game. Bender, after his first disastrous inning, steady ball throughout.

The game by innings:
First Inning.
New York—Devore singled; Doyle tripled, scoring Devore; Snodgrass flied to Lord, Doyle scoring on the throw-in. Snodgrass is credited with a sacrifice. Murray out, Davis, unassisted; Merkle fanned. Two runs, Philadelphia—Lord and Oldring

The Italian government is closely censoring all messages. A message from Rome says that the initial attempts of Captains Plaza and Mlozo at aerial scouting were successful.

WILL EXHUME BODY OF GIRL

New Light Will Probably Be Shed on Startling Boston Case When Chemists Complete Their Examination of Body.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 24.—New light is expected in the case of the alleged murder of Avis Linnell by the Rev. C. V. T. Richeson today when officers will go to Hyannis, the home of the girl and exhume her body. The police are also to secure the bathrobe which the girl wore when found dying, to ascertain whether its pockets contain the fatal cyanide vial supposed to be given her by Richeson. If the vial contains another poison, the state's case will fall through. Chemists will also work upon the body at Harvard laboratory.

The suicide theory maintained by the defense was hit today when witnesses were found who will testify, it is said, that Miss Linnell had made engagements for the day following her death.

The defense will probably base its case on the ground of reasonable doubt.

EUREKA, Cal.—Philip Mathews quaked so realistically in deceiving ducks here that his two companions fired into the water reeds and killed him.

DIXON, Cal.—Euche clubs and veranda card parties here have been forbidden by the authorities on the ground that card playing, even at church socials, comes under police taboo, when prizes are awarded.

SAN JOSE, Cal.—All that T. W. Barstow rescued from the fire that destroyed his home when he rushed into the street clothless was a trio of sartorial charts.

The people of this city should buy "Made in Oregon" goods from the local merchants whenever the price and quality are equal to Eastern made goods.

OSWALD WEST CHOICE FOR VICE-PRESIDENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—Governor Oswald West of Oregon is to be Woodrow Wilson's running mate in the presidential campaign, predicts Senator Gore of Oklahoma, here today.

Gore said that all but seven of twenty states visited by him were strong for Wilson; Harmon is favorite in three, and Champ Clark in four.

The fact that Oswald West is a Canadian by birth, evidently had not occurred to Senator Gore.

LINDSEY'S FAMED COURT MAY GO

United States Supreme Court Refuses to Take Jurisdiction in Case Involving Consolidation of City and County of Denver.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 24.—The fate of Judge Ben B. Lindsey's famed juvenile court is still in doubt as a result of the United States supreme court's refusal to take jurisdiction in the case involving consolidation of the city and county of Denver and endless litigation is predicted.

Judge Lindsey said today that the juvenile court is a state, not a county office, and that it cannot be abolished save by action of the legislature. The county authorities, however, contend that it is a county office, and is affected by the decision of the Colorado supreme court upholding the consolidation, which resulted in the abolition of many county offices.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Woman suffrage has one of its greatest combatants in Senator Jeff Davis. Even during his honeymooning he has maintained strict opposition to the cause.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Batwee, who has been acting interpreter for Ishi, the anthropological freak, recently captured near Deer Creek, Cal., has gone on strike because he was getting tongue-tied answering questions.

SAN JOSE, Cal.—A. A. West, the "mysterious man from Mexico," who employed Tillie Steinberger as stenographer and then promoted her to be his wife, declares that he hired her and she can quit if she wants to. She is suing for divorce.

Cornered in Swamp It Is Believed That His Body Will Soon Be Brought Out Riddled With Bullets —Pitched Battle Is Prospect.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 24.—With two men lying dead and another one injured as the result of the running amuck of John Harrison, a negro desperado, there was every prospect today of a pitched battle between the negro and an infuriated mob of 200 men. 1500 SLAIN IN BLOODIEST BATTLE OF PRESENT CHINESE REBELLION

CONFESSION IS NOW IN RECORD

Newspapers Copies Are Used by the Defense in Interrogating Veniremen to Determine Their Opinions Regarding McNamara's Guilt.

HALL OF RECORDS, LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 24.—The confession of Ortle E. McManigal implicating James B. McNamara in the explosion that destroyed the building of the Los Angeles Times on October 1, 1910, and the report of the experts appointed by Mayor Alexander, who found that the Times was destroyed by dynamite, went into the record in the McNamara murder trial today.

Newspaper copies used by the defense in interrogating veniremen for the purpose of determining their opinions regarding McNamara's guilt or innocence were introduced by Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for the defense, and ordered copied into the record. They will be used hereafter in interrogating veniremen regarding how they formed their opinions and District Attorney Fredericks said he had no explanation but was not prepared to admit that the McManigal affidavit was an "authentic confession" and thereafter referred to it as a purported confession.

No Sensations.
The morning session was devoid of sensation, two veniremen being quickly eliminated and the third examined, F. J. Mullin being challenged for cause by the defense after he had stated that he believed McNamara guilty but would, if chosen a juror, set aside that opinion. He had also admitted believing General Otis deserved great credit for keeping down unionism in Los Angeles. The state resisted the challenge, however, and a wearisome discussion followed, Judge Bordwell finally personally interrogating Mullin.

While the court proceedings slowly drag along both sides are working hard outside, preparing their case so there may be no further delay when the jury is completed. The defense's dynamite experts are conducting experiments, the result of which will be disclosed only in court. They will do this work at Tropic, at a place where they cannot be watched by agents of the prosecution.

Meanwhile the state's witnesses are being brought in daily to identify the McNamaras. One of the latest arrivals is J. W. Kaiser of Muncie, Indiana, a dealer in high explosives. According to the story told by the Burns agents, Kaiser knew J. B. McNamara as Frank Sullivan and J. J. McNamara as G. W. Clark and "had business dealings with them in the east." The character of these dealings was not revealed, and by (Continued on Page 6.)

REBELS CONTROL 5 OF 18 PROVINCES

Body of Government Troops Numbering 3000 Men Are Said to Have Deserted Bodily, Going Over to the Rebels.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 24.—The bloodiest battle of the present Chinese revolution was fought last night at Han Fu, about 100 miles south of Hankow, according to reports received in this city today.

The report states that no less than 1500 government soldiers were slain and a proportionate number wounded. The rebels are said to have scored an overwhelming victory.

Reports of massacres continue to arrive. The members of the Manchus are being hunted out and slain in several provinces.

The rebels are now in control of five out of 18 provinces and reports from two others are most discouraging to the government.

It is feared that the government will authorize the massacre of foreigners in several cities in order to force intervention by the powers, hoping in this way to have the other nations of the world quell the rebellion.

A well defined report reached this city today to the effect that one body of government troops numbering 3000 men deserted bodily, going over to the rebels.

Reports from outlying districts are to the effect that the famine is spreading and that literally thousands are starving. Foreigners are unable to lend aid owing to unsettled conditions due to the war.
