MANCHUS LOSE MANY SOLDIERS BY DESERTION

Grave Revolts in Imperial Army
Throw Peking into a New Panic—
Battalions Revolt and Take Arsenals.

EXPECTED TO FORM ALLIANCE WITH REBELS

Rebel Leader Demands Abdication of Emperor Before He Will Talk
Peace.

PEKIN, Nov. 3.—Grave revolts in the imperial army today threw Peking into a new panic. News was received by the government that the cavalry and artillery battalions at Tsi Nan and Shantung have revolted and captured the arsenal at Techau. In Yunnan province the imperial troops have practically joined the revolt by issuing a declaration of independence. So far as the government has learned, the rebellious troops have as yet made no junction with the republican forces, but it is believed certain that they will do so.

Cadets Desert.
To add to the disaffection the military cadets at Pao Tsiang are joining the revolt in hundreds.

In Peking is an hourly growing danger that the Manchus themselves may precipitate a massacre. The imperial order depriving the Manchus of pensions and compelling them to adopt Chinese names as a preliminary to fusing them with the Chinese has enraged the Manchus and the younger element are openly urging a slaughter.

The Chinese here outnumber the Manchus seven to one, but the Manchus are the better armed and probably in a clash would be able to give a good account of themselves. General Li Yuan Heng's refusal to negotiate with Yuan Shi Kai, the premier, unless the emperor abdicates, is believed to be a death blow to the Manchu dynasty. It is reported that Yuan Shi Kai has telegraphed the government pessimistically regarding the outcome of the negotiations with the rebels.

Shanghai Captured.
SHANGHAI, Nov. 3.—The rebels today captured the native city of Shanghai without serious resistance. The foreign settlements are under guard and all preparations made to protect the lives of European residents in case fighting should begin.

walk Discover a Part of the Money
Recently Stolen From the Bank of Montreal.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Nov. 3.—While engaged in tearing up the old wooden sidewalk on Fourth street near Canavan at 3:30 in the afternoon, a gang of workmen under Foreman George McCleary located some of the gold and bills taken from the branch of the Bank of Montreal here some time ago, when that institution was looted of $258,000.

There were three packages of bills, one of them containing bills of ten dollar denomination and the other two being fives, and a sack of gold amounting to $4370 in ten dollar pieces. Twenty thousand was the amount of bank bills.

Locked in Vault.
SEATTLE, Wn., Nov. 3.—Engaged in belated work in the county clerk's vault here, Representative George B. Webster of the Forty-second district was locked in by employees. Webster pounded on the steel door for hours with a cuspidor before he aroused a neighbor. When released the solon was decidedly pale and had lost four pounds in weight.

REV. SHIELDS HOME ENTERED

Two Burglars Reported to Police—
One at Local Pastor's Home and
Other Home of Dr. Barber on West
Main Street.

Youthful burglars were evidently working overtime in Medford last night. Early in the evening two reports of house burglary were telephoned to the police. One of these was from Rev. W. F. Shields, at 41 South Holly street, and the other from Dr. F. S. Barber at 707 West Main.

The Shields residence was entered between 7:30 and 8:30 in the evening when Mr. and Mrs. Shields were at prayer meeting, entrance having been made, it is thought, with a skeleton door key. About $5 in money and three new razors were stolen.

Dr. Barber's residence was entered through a back door which had not been locked, between 8:30 and 10 o'clock, while Mr. and Mrs. Barber were out spending the evening with friends. Here several small pieces of jewelry were taken from a dresser but nothing of any great value has as yet been missed, although had the thief been more persistent in his search he could have found better and more valuable pickings elsewhere in the house.

ELEVEN MEN ARE PASSED FOR CAUSE

Peremptory Challenge Stage Will Be Reached Not Later Than the Noon
Adjournment Saturday in McNamara Case.

HALL OF RECORDS, LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 3.—Eleven men had passed for cause and were subject to elimination only by peremptory challenge when the murder trial of James B. McNamara was interrupted by the luncheon recess today. As a result it was generally considered certain that the peremptory challenge stage would be reached not later than the noon adjournment tomorrow.

A new panel of jurors was drawn today and one of the first names was that of Harry Chandler, vice president of the Times-Mirror company and assistant general manager of the Los Angeles Times. He will be promptly excused because of his connection with the prosecution.

This morning's session resulted in the securing of one juror, Byron Lisk, a Pasadena mill man.

A number of officers are reported to have been shot by their own men. The populace suspects that the Italian forces in Tripoli are in bad shape. Large reinforcements are being sent there.

JURY SEEKING AUTO DRIVER AND BUTCHER

Both Men Were Seen in Company of Nathan Rogoway on Afternoon He Disappeared and Both Have Skipped
the Country Since.

NAMES ARE WITHHELD BY CORONER'S JURY

No Longer Doubt Remains but That Rogoway Was Murdered and Body Hidden.

Where is the butcher and chauffeur with whom Nathan Rogoway went out for a "time" on the evening of May 26 last? Answer that question and the coroner's jury now investigating the mysterious murder of the Albany hideaway, will in all probability be able, not only to charge them with the crime but to convict them of the murder. But efforts on the part of the jurymen to locate either the butcher or the chauffeur have so far been unavailing.

At the inquest being held over the remains of Rogoway, which were found recently near Kingsbury springs, it developed today that an Ashland chauffeur and a Medford butcher were out with Rogoway on the night of his disappearance. A few days after this the chauffeur sold his machine and departed for eastern Oregon, he said. And about this same time the Medford butcher is said to have left the country displaying considerable money and wearing new clothes. All efforts to locate the two men so far have been unavailing.

The names of the two men have so far been withheld by the coroner's jury, which has been holding secret sessions. Dr. Swedenburg performed an autopsy on the body and found a bullet hole in the man's left side. It was a fatal spot and was evidently made by a .32 or .38 revolver. Death was probably instantaneous as the bullet very likely pierced the lower part of Rogoway's heart.

The coroner's jury is composed of the following: J. P. Sayles, G. M. Grainger, Peirce Provost, D. L. Minkler and F. D. Wagner. They went out to the place where the body was found Wednesday afternoon and made a close examination. Some metal tags were found which bore that name of the Albany tanning company for which Rogoway worked. Some blood-soaked pieces of clothing were also found.

The taking of testimony was begun in the city hall at about 11 o'clock Thursday morning behind closed doors. Dr. Swedenburg who performed the autopsy, testified, as well as C. W. Moon and A. Barkley, the two hunters who found the body on Sunday.

District Attorney Mulkey took the matter in hand in an effort to obtain a clue to the crime. A coroner's jury was called and they visited the spot where the body was found in preparation for the autopsy, which was held Thursday.

A rumor has come to the ears of the authorities which gives a possible clue to the murder. It is said that two girls were driving toward Medford a short distance out of Ashland on a date which is believed to coincide with that of Rogoway's disappearance. These two girls, when they reached home told a gruesome story. They said they met on the road an automobile carrying a chauffeur and two men. The girls said the two men were sitting on the body of a dead man. When they told the story to their parents and friends here, they were laughed at and assured that if anybody had been killed and carried about the country in that manner, it would have been known.

Another piece of evidence tending to show that Rogoway was killed in Medford is as follows: Before leaving Ashland, he told one of his friends that he was going to Medford and meet that evening a butcher whom he knew and that together they were going to ha "high of dime." It is suggested that he was killed during the night and his body loaded into an automobile and carried through Ashland and out in the country until the springs were reached, when the corpse was unloaded and dragged in-

Jury in M'Crea Murder Trial Disagrees

MEDFORD TO SEND APPLES TO SHOW

Prize Winning Car of Newtowns From Buckeye Orchard Near Talent,
Owned by Huston Bros., Will Be Exhibited at Spokane.

Medford will exhibit a carload of Newtown apples at the Spokane apple show the latter part of November, which will undoubtedly win first prize. The apples are from the Buckeye orchard near Talent, owned by Huston brothers, and among the finest ever grown anywhere. A subscription list to raise the necessary funds for making the display is being circulated by John D. Otwell with success.

It was at first thought that owing to the small apple crop this season it would be impossible to present a prize winning car and that the Rogue river valley would go unrepresented. A visit from Harry J. Neely, vice president of the Spokane apple show, Thursday, however, stirred the old Medford spirit. A hasty tour of the orchards revealed that while apples were not as numerous in some orchards, they made up in quality what they lacked in quantity. Houston Brothers were found to have a prize winning car, which had been placed in the Rogue River Fruit and Produce association pool. Cooperation of the latter organization was obtained and, with the subscription money raised, the car will be sent.

Said Mr. Neely: "There is an apple shortage all over the north-west. In most of the districts the quality as well as the quantity is affected. I do not believe that any other district can produce a prize winning car of Newtowns, and I am sure the Rogue river valley should be represented this year of all years, for the comparison with other districts will be as pronounced."

There will be a far greater attendance at the Spokane apple show this year than ever before on account of the $50,000 carnival given in connection therewith. There will be a round trip rate of a fare and a third from all points, including Medford, and we have assurances of thrilling last year's attendance.

SIX STATES TO AID OF OREGON POPULAR LAW

Washington, California, Oklahoma,
Kansas and Missouri Appear in Supreme Court to Supplement Oregon's Arguments for Direct Legislation.

PILLSBURY STARTS HIS ARGUMENT AGAINST LAW

Points Out That No Oath Was Taken by Voters and Their Actions
Were Not Restricted.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 3.—Six states joined hands before the United States supreme court this afternoon in defense of the initiative and referendum. Attorneys representing Washington, California, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri appeared to supplement Oregon's arguments in favor of the constitutionality of direct legislation.

When the case was called before the supreme court, when H. S. Pillsbury, attorney for the Pacific Telegraph & Telephone company, began his argument against the constitutionality law, he said that Oregon, by the initiative, had placed a tax of two per cent upon the Pacific company and other corporations and had afterward, by the initiative, passed a law depriving the governor of the state of the veto power.

Pillsbury declared that with the initiative and referendum in force there were two law making bodies in Oregon and declared that lower court had decided that a legislature was unnecessary in order to have the republican form of government. The telephone company's attorney quoted rulings of the United States supreme court, which, he asserted held that the taxing power of a state was vested in the legislature and that no other power could assess taxes.

Resuming, Pillsbury then pointed out no oath was taken by the voters acting under the initiative and referendum law and had therefore their action was in no way restricted and regulated. He said that only a legislature could exercise legislative power.

Justice Linton then asked if the adoption of a constitution did not constitute the exercise of legislative powers by the voters. Pillsbury admitted that it did but declared that that power could not extend beyond the adoption of a constitution.

Chief Justice White then asked Pillsbury whether he could cite any supreme court ruling wherein an issue was made involving violation by a state of anything except a specific provision of a constitution. Pillsbury replied that the unconstitutionality of the initiative and referendum was implied by the fact that the constitution of the state provided for a government of three departments—legislative, executive and judicial.
