TELEGRAPHIC TABLOIDS.

BERKLEY, Cal.—Characterizing as persecution the charge of a number of society women of Santa Rosa linking her name with that of Frank Leppo, a real estate man of that place, and alleging her responsibility for the suicide of Mrs. Leppo, his wife, on October 21, Mrs. Doris Lincoln takes an attitude of indignant defiance at the home of her mother here today.

SEATTLE, Wn.—In the arrest of Emil Sorenson, water tender on the Steamship Empress of Japan, the customs officials believe they secured a link to the chain of opium smuggling by way of Canada to Seattle.

OLYMPIA, Wn.—Although his fellow-workers declare that Stanley Slater was killed in a mine by falling rock, reports that he died of heart failure have been circulated, and as a result the industrial insurance commission will have the body exhumed deciding whether his 18-year-old widow will get the $4000 benefit.

TACOMA, Wn.—Discouraged at the lack of prospects for a boxing revival in the northwest, "Denver" Ed. Martin, the big negro who once made Jack Johnson extend himself to defeat him, is preparing to take up the wrestling game.

TACOMA, Wn.—Despite the general feeling against any more recall elections here until a good breathing spell after the election of the Spring, recall talk against Mayor Seymour and Commissioner of Public Works Weeks has sprung up on account of their consenting to narrow the approaches to the new half-million dollar bridge to the tide flats at the demand of the property owners.

VANCOUVER, Wn.—Following the example of a majority of the larger cities and towns of the state, Vancouver is preparing for an election to get the commission plan of government.

PUYALLUP, Wn.—With three parties in the field and the socialists claiming the advantage in the municipal election set for December 4, many Puyallup women are joining in a suffragist party and will trip and land women in office here.

REDDING, Cal.—Daniel Fleming, the Oakland State policeman, on trial for the alleged murder of George Vallier of Tacoma, was committed today to the custody of the sheriff for the remainder of his trial.

PORTLAND, Ore.—William E. Morrison was arrested here on a telegraphic felony warrant from San Francisco. The man had been staying at the Imperial hotel. The police declined to make public the charge for which Morrison is wanted in California.

TO IMPROVE THE PARK.

THE movement to send a representative to Washington to work for a large appropriation to develop the Crater Lake National park, is most commendable, and in all probability will be crowned with success.

Crater Lake National park, almost alone among the nation's playgrounds, has been ignored and passed up by congress and the departments. It is high time it received its share of attention and the time is ripe for action.

Heretofore there was no survey to base estimates upon. Now there is a complete survey. Heretofore, the park was almost inaccessible. The past two years have made it easily accessible.

The state of Oregon has recognized its responsibility by furnishing prisoners for the highway. The people of Medford have done their share by public contribution. Jackson county is lending and has lent its cooperation. The national government stands ready to do its share—all we have to do is to go after it.

These appropriations do not get themselves. They are got by going after. The persistent seeker reaps the reward, the worker secures the harvest.

Those who get on the ground and stay there, who pull the wires and play the keyboard usually land what they seek from any legislature or congress. Let us by all means have a man on the ground who knows the game, and such a man is Will G. Steel.

A FITTING CHOICE.

N ELECTING Judge Colvig as president and manager for the coming year the Medford Commercial club made a wise move. The new executive is peculiarly qualified for the place.

For the past year there has been more or less friction in the club and dissatisfaction both within and without. The club has been working at a disadvantage and so accomplished but little compared to its previous achievements.

It is time, if Medford is to continue forging ahead and the Rogue river valley is to continue to develop, that all factions come together, forget their petty grievances and work unitedly for the common good. If any one can unite these factions, Judge Colvig is the man.

We must come out of our lethargy, wake up and do things. We have been dormant too long. Times are good or bad as we make them ourselves. As most diseases of the body are imaginary, so are most of the diseases of society, particularly the phase known as dull times.

Profitless dreaming, listless idleness, useless and needless bickerings never got any one anywhere, much less developed a country. We must work out our own salvation and solve our own problems—and the way to do it is to begin at once.

EXPERIMENT A GREAT SUCCESS

So Declares Professor Rees Who Leaves for Corvallis After Conducting Experiments in Irrigation on Griffin Creek.

Prof. R. W. Rees of the Oregon Agricultural College who has been conducting experiments in irrigating orchards in the valley during the past season, returned last night to Corvallis.

Mr. Rees has been confining his experiments to the Heimroth apple orchards on Griffin Creek. This place is better known as the Judy orchard. The experiments were handled on a small scale, using water from a small pumpkin plant, and while small, the results were very gratifying and will be followed up next year on a larger scale.

In speaking of the experimental station to be established near Talent, Mr. Rees said he was not at liberty to give out any definite information more than that a committee would be here from the college very soon, and that this committee would be empowered to close all negotiations now pending which may have a bearing on the location and establishment of the station.

Mr. Rees was asked as to what had become of the irrigating experiments undertaken in the valley three or four years ago by Louis Bennett, who was then an attaché of the agricultural college. These he said were still being carried on and the results would undoubtedly soon be made known.

ASHLAND FRUITGROWERS TO BUILD WAREHOUSE

A meeting of the stockholders of the Ashland Fruit & Produce association was held Saturday afternoon and the fruitgrowers expressed themselves as in favor of the proposition of increasing the stock to $5000 or $6000 in order to erect a packing house. A number of representatives of the poultry association were present with a view to cooperating in the building of the packing house and sharing it with the fruit men. The poultry men will meet Saturday and take the matter up among themselves. The fruit men adjourned for two weeks pending a decision by the poultry association. It is now proposed to put up a building 80 by 150

HARVARD OUT OF EASTERN RUNNING

Western Conference Title Now Lies Between Minnesota and Wisconsin With the Farmer a Favorite—Fluke Costs a Game.

(By Grid Iron.) As a result of Saturday's football scores Harvard is virtually out of the eastern running and the western conference title now lies between Minnesota and Wisconsin, with the former the favorite. Michigan may contest for western championship but as it is in the conference, its claims there will not hold.

Heartbreakers that are occurring more often in the new style of game. The team that showed the most aggressiveness and which gained the most ground went to defeat by a score 8 to 6. Princeton's scores were made by a sensational run after a kick was blocked and on a protested safety, both having earmarks of flukes while Harvard's was made on straight football and clever manipulation of the forward pass.

On November 18 Wisconsin and Minnesota will meet and the conference title will then be decided. The betting will undoubtedly strongly favor Minnesota, on strength of last Saturday's game, coupled with the fact that Wisconsin could do no more than defeat Iowa 12-6.

Wisconsin supporters hold that their team did not extend itself against Iowa, saving strength for the Minnesota game.

They point to Eckersall's review of the Northwestern game, in which he says Wisconsin has as strong a team as has been seen in action in middle west in years and are hoping for the best. Michigan should have beaten Syracuse, but the best it could do was a tie. So far any claims she may make of western superiority will not be backed.

WILL PROTECT DEER OF PARK

W. F. Arant, Superintendent of Crater Lake National Park, Will Seek to Have Larger Area Included in Its Boundaries.

If recommendations made by W. F. Arant, superintendent of Crater Lake national park to Secretary of the Interior Walter Fisher are adopted the size of the park will be increased three times its present dimensions for the particular purpose of protecting deer and making for the game a preserve which will better serve to protect them than the territory now set apart.

As it is now, Mr. Arant explains the deer roam through the park territory in the summer unobscured, and when the storms start in the fall and begin filling the park with as much as twenty feet of snow in places, the deer cannot live there, so they seek the low ground, which is outside the preserve, and their tameness makes them easy prey to the hunter's rifle.

"I have been deeply interested in this matter for some time, and for more than a year have been anxious to have something done, if possible, to save the deer," said Mr. Arant. "Just now I am more persuaded than ever that it would be a desirable move and I stated in my report, in substance, that it is hardly fair to the deer for the government to act practically as an agency for furnishing game to the line where the hunter awaits him, and in addition to that put him there in such a tame condition that he does not understand that he should be wary of the hunter."

"There is no blame attached to the hunters. They have a right to kill the deer when the open season comes, and it is the most natural thing in the world for them to act under the law of the season. They are not game hogs but gentlemen, and no proper complaint can be made of their conduct. The places where the deer come out are well known. A man familiar with the territory and their habits knows the places where they cross, and the hunters are comparatively sure of just where to lie in wait, outside the park, for the animals to pass. They have all gone out now, for there have been some storms up there already, although the results have all gone, and the past week has been just like it is here in Klamath Falls. But I venture to say there is not one deer within ten miles of our place up there today, where in the summer there are probably 10000 of them roaming the park.

The park now embraces 249 square miles, being 13 1-2 miles across east and west and 18 1-2 miles distant from the north to the south line. Mr. Arant suggests that the protected area be increased by taking a strip about nine miles north and eighteen miles to the west, and thus thereby the size of the present park and include an area to the west, north of Rogue river, on the head of the Umpqua and Elk creeks. This territory, in Mr. Arant's opinion, is the greatest natural wintering ground of the deer on the Pacific coast.

Also included would be Diamond Lake and Antelope Valley, the latter being said to be the only territory containing antelope in their natural state in the country.

Mr. Arant is now making the annual preparations for closing up everything at the park for the winter. Floors of bridges over deep canyons are taken up. Some of these bridges are 100 feet long. It is necessary to remove the flooring to preserve it, as twenty feet of snow, or a rush of water from some thaw when the weather breaks, would destroy the structures in short order. It is probable that Mr. Arant, who aims to be the last to leave, will come out in about two weeks, and remain until the spring weather makes it feasible to return and open up quarters preparatory to the park season.

Grows Hair at 65 Years of Age

Dear Sir: "I heard of PARISIAN SAGE and as my head would d itch a good deal, I thought I would try it. I never used any remedies before and was bald on top of my head.

I am using the third bottle and have a lot of hair where I was bald. I would like you to see the new hair sprouting from my head. The itching in my scalp quickly disappeared. I am 65 years old and have been at the Bazaar 51 years.

OREGON AGGIES ARE ELIMINATED

Chances of Oregon University However for Football Championship Are Very Slight According to Present Dope.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 7.—The hopes of Oregon collegiates that the northwest conference football championship would fall to the University of Washington, the Oregon Agricultural College this season have practically gone glimmering.

The aspirations of the O. A. C. contingent were shattered badly when Washington beat the Aggies at Seattle by a score of 34 to 0. This eliminates the Carvallis farmers.

And the chances of the University of Oregon team are poor. Although the Oregonians won from Whitman, they did so only because one of the missionaries' touchdowns was declared illegal on a technicality. To all practical intents Oregon was beaten.

On account of Oregon's unsatisfactory showing her warmest supporters are dubious as to the outcome of the Oregon-Washington game here November 18, the game that probably will decide the championship. If Washington wins the indication are that the purple and gold will win the football pennant for the fourth consecutive season.
