SCULPTOR MAY RESUME WORK

Arthur Putnam Making Game Fight, and Unless Recurrence of Malady Follows, May Be Able Eventually to Continue His Labors.

George Putnam has returned from a visit to his brother, at San Francisco, Arthur Putnam, the California sculptor, who was recently twice operated upon for brain tumor. He reports that the sculptor is making a game fight for life and unless a recurrence of the baffling malady follows, may be able eventually to resume his work.

Though surgeons say that he is permanently paralyzed upon his left side and the motive portions of the brain removed, Putnam can, with effort, move both foot and hand and it is believed that when the great wound in his head caused by the double operation has healed sufficiently to permit it, that massage and electricity will enable him to partially regain use of his helpless side.

For two weeks following the second operation the sculptor lost ground steadily. During the past week, however, he has gained remarkably, though still pathetically helpless. The intense pain in his head that prevented sleep except under opiates, is gradually lessening. His mind is as clear as it ever was. Associates are finishing uncompleted orders under his directions and a host of friends stand ready to assist him. He has been moved from the hospital to an apartment near by. A nurse is in constant attendance, three physicians examine him daily, and everything that can be done to help him is being done. His mother will remain with him indefinitely.

tailed to help him, and he quickly demonstrated that he was a first-class cook, and the way we stowed away his "grub" showed our appreciation of his efforts. Also, many of the boys showed their ingenuity in the way the different tents and bunks were rigged up. I would venture to say that there is not another camp in the country that can compete with ours for accommodations, and we are waiting for lumber now to make things more snug, and we extend a cordial invitation to any one to visit us. Of course, once in a while since the rain has started the tents leak some, and a fellow gets his bed wet, but he don't grumble about it much, as we have a good fire going to dry it.

We also have two pigs, which we are feeding, and a dog, a cat and a sheep for mascots. The dog and sheep go out on the road work every morning and watch us work. Also, the sheep keeps us all busy buying tobacco to feed him. The dog sometimes awakens us in the night running rabbits under the tents, but we are having a fine time at that. We go to work at 7:30 a. m. and quit at 11:30 a. m.; eat dinner, go to work at 1 p. m., quit at 5 p. m.—and the work is not a snap. The majority of us are operating a pick and shovel, with one crew on drills and hammers. We have been working under bad conditions, as it has been raining regu-

Throw Out the Line

Give Them Help and Many Medford People Will Be Happier.

"Throw Out the Life Line"—The kidneys need help. They're overworked—can't get the poison filtered out of the blood. They're getting worse every minute. Will you help them?

Doan's Kidney Pills have brought thousands of kidney sufferers back from the verge of despair.

Medford testimony proves their worth.

Mrs. Jane Sevey, 1623 Ninth St., Medford, Oregon, says: "I first used Doan's Kidney Pills while living in Idaho. I had suffered a great deal from kidney trouble, and nothing seemed to help me. I had intense pains in my back, hips and kidneys when I started using Doan's Kidney Pills, but was soon relieved and finally cured by this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

lary, and the sand was pretty bad. We didn't have the clothes to protect us from the rain, but as our genial commissary man, Mr. Charles Gay, had promised us that we would be well supplied with the proper clothing in a few days, we worked on and let the rain fall without any kicks being registered.

Well, last night he made his promise good, and arrived in camp with rubber coats, rubber pants and high-topped shoes, and not "phony" ones at that, but the best the market afforded, and everybody is well satisfied. We also have an Edison phonograph, which was given us by the Wetzel Music house at Medford, and I take this opportunity of thanking them in behalf of all the boys. We also received a large supply of magazines and periodicals sent by the people of Medford, which we are very grateful for, and we also received some tobacco from some one, and we thank him, and also every one who has sent us anything.

I want to say a few more words in regard to Governor West placing confidence in these men at this camp. These men are men that have fallen through drink or because they had too much red blood in their veins, and are men that, if shown that a man has confidence in them, would not betray that confidence under any conditions. And it will be the salvation of a great many of them by placing this confidence in them. And I don't want any one to think that we are living a life of ease and luxury out here, as we are not. We are working in mud and rain, and good hard work at that, and before any one thinks otherwise I want them to come out here and see the conditions. We all thank Governor West for this chance to show that there is lots of good in us, and that we are working-men and that, although we made no outward pledges with him, that we each and every one are going to play the game square with him, and when we are finally released, go out into the world better men, by the fact of coming in contact with him. November 18, 1911.

LAST LAND CASE IS BEING HEARD

John Laughlin Is Fighting for Title to Land Under Homestead Act—Commissioner Canon Sees End of Rush of Business.

The last of the several land contest cases which have been held in Commissioner Canon's court for the past week or more, is on for trial today. This is a case wherein the government is contesting the homestead final proof of John Lawshlin who was formerly a printer in the Ashland Tidings office. The land involved is in section 4, township 33 south of range 4 east.

Gus Newbury of this city has appeared as attorney for the homesteaders in all of the several cases which have been tried. D. P. McGowan, a special agent in the forest service, and C. R. Arndell, special agent in the general land office, have been looking after the government's interests in the same cases.
