

GEORGE BARNUM TAKES A BRIDE

Youngest Son of W. H. Barnum of Jacksonville and Miss Hazel Raypoltz Are Married—Leave for San Francisco.

A quiet but happy wedding was solemnized Sunday at 9 a. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lindley of Medford, when George Barnum and Miss Hazel Raypoltz, both of Jacksonville, were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock by Rev. Shields. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barnum, and is a clever engineer and chauffeur as well as an "all around good fellow." The bride is the fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Raypoltz and a beautiful and accomplished young lady, and a graduate of the Jacksonville public school. Mrs. Barnum looked charming in a beautifully tailored suit of brown with white marquisette waist embroidered in Alice blue and white beaver hat. The happy couple took the 10:15 train for San Francisco, where they will spend their honeymoon. They were accompanied to the train by a number of friends and relatives, who gave them all sorts of good wishes and a plentiful sprinkling of rice. To make the event still funnier, just as the groom was ready to enter the car he was taken in charge by two burly policemen, who wanted to have their share of the fun. George looked very much surprised at first, but was soon released with hearty hand shakes and good wishes.

"SEVEN DAYS" AT THE MEDFORD THEATRE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

"Seven Days" would melt into the semblance of a laugh the cold, stern visage of Sphinx. It might do more. It might plant an unaccustomed smile upon the countenance of a Henry Cabot Lodge. It has done much. It has drawn from the gloomy interior of a college professor—the sort who believe that all real literature come to a full stop shortly after Homer smote 'is bloomin' lyre—a roaring, hearty laugh. The fall outfit of nice green laurels for "Seven Days," please—and see that they are fresh. A crowded house roared, and gurgled, wept joyously in very human fashion. A house of Bostonians? Ay—and let it be repeated for emphasis—one of those who gurgled was a college professor who had been, by common report, a former roommate of Euripides. Go and see the Sphinx laugh, and laugh with it. "Seven Days" is coming here. The comedy—the laughing hit of the age—will be presented by Messrs. Wagenhals & Kemper at the Medford Wednesday evening with the entire cast and production straight from the play's third year at the Astor theatre in New York.

the most serious crisis yet encountered in Taft's fight for re-nomination. Both the La Follette and Taft men, however, join in discounting Roosevelt's boom for another term.

EAGLE POINT IS NOW A LIVE ONE

"Nixie" Writes of Hopes and Aims of Little City in the Foothills—F. M. Stewart Head of Newly Organized Commercial Club.

After a peaceful slumber for many years this town and neighborhood has at last awakened to the fact that they must, as one of our school children was heard to remark recently, "get a cyc'one wiggle on," in other words if we want the rest of the world to know that this section is on the map of progressive Oregon, something must be done. So a goodly number of our citizens met in the hall over Brown Brothers' new store for the purpose of organizing a commercial club. The meeting was called to order by J. F. Brown, and J. T. McQuoid was chosen as temporary secretary. The selection of a permanent chairman being first in order F. M. Stewart was nominated and received the unanimous vote of the meeting, being declared elected he was escorted to the chair and at once assumed the duties of the office. After a few appropriate remarks along progressive lines from the chair J. T. McQuoid was by unanimous vote chosen as permanent secretary. The next in order was the selecting by ballot of a board of nine directors, the vote resulting in the selection of F. M. Stewart, F. L. Heath, Henry Sprague, Dr. W. P. Holt, S. B. Hornes, F. Pelouze, E. L. Warnstorff, J. F. Brown and Gus Nichols. The meeting then adjourned to meet again December 15, at which time the matter of adopting by-laws will come up for consideration. The secretary reported that 56 persons had signed up as members, up to the present time. We expect to number 100 or more by the first of the year. After adjournment of the meeting the directors were called together and selected F. L. Heath as their chairman and ex officio vice president of the club. J. V. McIntire was elected as treasurer of the club and the First State bank of Eagle Point chosen as the depository of the club funds. It having previously been decided to hire a full page in the New Year's edition of the Mail Tribune, in which to display cuts and write-ups showing a few of the many advantages offered the home-seeker or investor in this section, J. F. Brown, Gus Nichols and F. Pelouze were appointed as a committee to superintend the preparation of such matter. The meeting adjourned amid great enthusiasm.

LOCAL SHOPS TURN OUT FIRST MOGUL

The Pacific & Eastern car shops have turned out their first rebuilt engine, it being engine No. 1, or the "one spot," as the railroad boys refer to it. The engine is the first one put in use on the Pacific & Eastern, about five years ago and has done continuous service since that time. The engine was taken out yesterday for its trial trip since being rebuilt and it came up to expectations in every respect. This gives the company four engines in service, not including General Manager Gerig's private automobile engine and car.

BIG REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Perhaps one of the letters you ought to write during the next hour is a reply to some one of today's want ads. (Continued From Page One) standpat organization. If any one selected 40 men who would be most likely to support the administration these would be the 40. Of course they oppose La Follette. But the significant thing is that they don't favor Taft. And more significant still is their demand for primaries—which is our fight. With the Hilles-Hitchcock fight over New on the adherents of President Taft today are confronted with
