REGENTS VIEW TALENT TRACT

George Gardner Shows Officials of Oregon Agricultural College Over Tract Offered for Experiment Station, Near Talent.

Regents Wilson and Weatherly, accompanied by Prof. Lewis of the Oregon Agricultural college spent Monday at Talent looking over the proposed site for the branch experiment station.

No decision was reached by the officials as to their action. The county today through Commissioners Owens and Davis offered the school a portion of the county poor farm as a site.

Mr. Owens also offered them a 40-acre tract near Eagle Point for which Fred N. Cummings has offered them free water.

HONOR MEN WORK WELL, SAYS BOSS

John Grieves, Who Directs the Work on the Crater Lake Road, is Well Pleased at Manner in Which Honor Men Do Their Work.

John Grieves, who directs the work of the honor men on the Crater Lake highway, is enthusiastic in his praise of the manner in which the men are working on the road.

"The men are doing splendid work, I am glad to state," said Mr. Grieves, "and are well behaved in camp. There has been no trouble of any kind."

WE LIVE TO LEARN.

THE Rogue River Valley is certainly a most wonderful place. We who have lived here for years and thought we were familiar with its every highway and by-way, who played a part in its development, do not know much about it, after all.

We learn from perusing the Tidings that the Crater Lake highway is an impracticable route and that the "most accessible route from the Rogue River valley to Crater Lake is by the Dead Indian road." All of which is news to the world.

We are told also that Ashland and vicinity will be called upon to pay about one half the principal and interest on the $1,500,000 issue of road bonds. Such an arrangement would delight the balance of the county—but how is it to be consummated?

The Tidings is most pugilistic for such a peaceful little city. The editor announces that he has met none of the county court members, has "heard they are splendid gentlemen to meet," but if they propose to sacrifice Ashland, he is "ready to put on the gloves or go it barehanded."

Just what the 'Tidings' particular grievances are, except that it wants a fight with some one, Medford preferred, and is spoiling for a spanking, is hard to guess. Its editor hasn't been here long enough to know whereof he speaks, but is permitting his paper to be made a sewer of to dump on the world the concentrated bile of the community soreheads and knockers.

But Medford doesn't want to spank or fight, particularly this glad Christmas time. It has only good-will and good fellowship for all, including our charming little sister city to the south—Ashland.

THE NAGGING OLD HAG.

THE poor old Oregonian evidently counts that day lost on which she cannot lie about Governor West and his prison policy.

This nagging old hag of journalism is perpetually scolding, berating, fretting and stewing. Nothing under the sun pleases her, that is, nothing that is done by the governor.

Trivial incidents are distorted and magnified, half truths spun into whole lies, and when there is no foundation in fact one is created in fancy. The governor is grilled for leaving the state, roasted for booming Oregon, denounced for drawing his salary, excoriated for sins of omission and of commission too numerous to catalogue—and most of them manufactured for the occasion.

Every convict is created an honor man, every paroled prisoner labeled an escape, every fresh crime described as an instance of the failure of treating prisoners as human beings. Barbarism is extolled, humanitarianism scoffed, reputations bemuddled—all to belittle and begrime one who happens to wear a different political label.

With her ever wagging tongue hung in the middle and flapping at both ends, this eternally scolding fool female of her species is certainly noisier than the male—if not at all deadly.

ELECTRIC CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

While buying Christmas presents many people overlook the essential feature—that of buying something worth while. No person is there who would not appreciate some article which they could put to practical use, either by themselves or about the home.

When looking for something practical, something useful, and at the same time beautiful, do not overlook the electric cooking appliances being offered by the Southern Oregon Electric company, at their salesrooms on North Grape street. Here you will find combination electric cookers, electric percolators and a variety of other electric cooking appliances.

which only have to be seen to be appreciated.

This company also has electric Christmas decorations of many descriptions which are sold at prices very reasonable. Get a Peerless Mazda Tungsten lamp, guaranteed to burn steadily for 700 hours.

The Southern Oregon Electric company does all the big building wiring and fixture furnishing in Medford. A specialty made of wiring old buildings.

The crop of fools isn't governed by the law of supply and demand. Talk is cheap. Give us the silent lady on the silver dollar every time.
