Her practical beauty talks on common sense ways of self-improvement have been enthusiastically received the country over, and we count ourselves lucky in securing Mrs. Paul's services in the season. This is a personal invitation for you to be present. At St. Mark's Hall Tuesday, January 9, at 8:00 p. m. Remember the value of Mrs. Paul's lecture—the value of the free outfits. These are prepared by the Marinello Company of Chicago—originators and sole exponents of the famous Marinello System of Beauty Culture—a movement that has done more to increase and retain beauty in women than any other known method. Remember the date, January 9, and place, St. Mark's Hall. Watch the paper every day for further announcements. There is no obligation on your part—lecture and outfits are absolutely free.
