

BILL PROVIDING HUGE PARK FUND IS INTRODUCED

Senator Jonathan Bourne introduces bill which provides $640,000 for Crater Lake National Park, $100,000 to be available at once.

Senator Jonathan Bourne on January 3 introduced a bill in the senate of the United States, providing $642,000 for Crater Lake park roads, $100,000 to be available at once. The bill was read twice and referred to the committee on appropriations.

The text of the bill follows: "A bill to authorize the construction of a road in Crater Lake National park, Oregon, and to appropriate $100,000 for the commencement thereof.

"Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the secretary of war be, and hereby is, authorized and directed to enter into contracts for the construction of a wagon road and the necessary bridges through Crater Lake National park, in accordance with the recommendations contained in the report of the war department and published as house document numbered 328, Sixty-second congress, second session, at a cost of not to exceed $642,000; and for the commencement of such work there is hereby appropriated $100,000."

ANGLERS NEEDS TOLD SPORTSMEN

Rogue River Advantages and Necessities Told State Commission and Guests at Portland—Bob White Quail Asked For.

The first annual dinner of the Oregon state fish and game commission was held at Portland Monday evening. Sportsmen from all sections of the state discussed proposed changes in the game laws and subjects of interest to the hunter and angler. Sentiment generally was in favor of reducing the limit on ducks and further protecting game. Members of the state commission outlined their work and accomplishments.

The speakers and their themes: "Oregon as a Game State," John Gill, president of the association; "The Angler's Standpoint," Dr. William Campbell, president Fly Casters' club; "Duck Shooting," A. L. Mills, president First National bank; "Resting Lakes for Ducks," Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie; "Game Warden's Finley's Accomplishments and the Situation Generally," F. L. Perkins; "Eastern Oregon Sport," C. K. Cranston, president of the commission; "Relation of the Railroads to Game Propagation," Curtis G. Sutherland, assistant general manager O-W. R. & N. company; "What the Commission Is Doing," George H. Kelly, member Oregon fish and game commission; "What Uncle Sam Is Doing for the Angler," Henry O'Malley, superintendent United States hatcheries; "Wild Bird and Game Refuges," State Senator L. E. Beas, Eugene; "The Rogue River Country the Sportsman's Mecca," George Putnam, editor Medford Mail Tribune; "Game Bird Protection," Gene M. Simpson, superintendent state game farm; "Necessity of Intelligent Legislation to Preserve Game," J. N. Teal, president Oreg. River Transportation association.

Speaking for the Rogue River sportsmen, Mr. Putnam said in part: "I come from the Rogue river country and am proud of it. I was born in the south, reared in the middle west, have hunted for a living in 17 states, have resided in every Pacific coast state, so know whereof I speak when I say that Oregon is the best state in the Union and the Rogue River valley the best part of Oregon. It is the finest, not only in climate, resources and citizenship, but in sport, and we not only have the finest orchards in the world but the finest angling also.

"Rogue river sportsmen ask three things of the commission: To stock the valley with Bob White quail, for which they have secured preserves; to co-operate with the government in hatchery work at Elks creek by furnishing funds to enlarge the plant to a capacity for raising 3,000,000 trout fry to the fingerling stage, and feed the same; and to force the building of an adequate and permanent fishway at Ament dam, above Grants Pass. Temporary ladders are washed away. Either compel the construction of a real fishway or send for the McNamara's.

"Rogue river is the only stream closed to angling in the state. It was closed because the salmon fishers refused protection to trout. Its steelhead are the gamest fish in America and one big trout in the Rogue furnishes more real sport than a hundred from average streams. Its angling is a constant advertisement of the country and brings not only tourists, but many permanent residents. Money spent in restocking the stream is a good investment and develops a natural resource.

"The Rogue is not a fish hogs' stream, although it used to be, but any angler who works finds ample reward for his efforts. For years the stream has been annually depleted of its trout, both by commercial fishermen and sportsmen, and nothing, until the past two years, done to replenish the supply. This is what makes the trout shy in the Rogue—not the plentitude of salmon and other food.

"Sportsmen always receive a cordial welcome from us and if you want to enjoy the best sport to be found anywhere, come to Medford, the finest town in the finest valley in the finest part of the United States."

CARDUI WORKED LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help, Cardui Worked Like a Charm.

Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S. Kendrick, in a letter from this place, "and at times, I could not bear to stand on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would have to have an operation, or I would have a cancer.

I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. They said medicines would do me no good, and I thought I would have to die. At last I tried Cardui, and began to improve, so I continued using it. Now, I am well, and can do my own work. I don't feel any pains.

Cardui worked like a charm. There must be merit in this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—Cardui—for it has been in successful use for more than 50 years, for the treatment of womanly weakness and disease.

Please try it, for your troubles. N. B.—Write for Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.
