CONGRESS OF MINING MEN OPENED TODAY

Mining in Southern Oregon and Northern California and Work to Secure Its Development Is Theme of Two Days' Session.

OVER 300 DELEGATES PRESENT AT MEET

Exhibit at Natatorium Is Complete and Reflects Resources of This District.

With nearly 300 delegates present the semi-annual session of the Southera Oregon and Northern California Mining congress opened in this city today. The exhibit of one from the district is the largest and most com prehensive ever gathered in this seetion and represents nearly 200 mines Two days will be devoted to the congress. Many addresses will be of wide experience. The congres has for its purpose the matter of arousing interest in the mineral resources of southern Oregon and northern California and in their development.

While mining has been going on in this district for more than 60 years. it is conceded that with the exception of placer mines all mining has been by packet hunters, who have worked. for the greater part, near the surface. IN PERSONAL ACCOUNTS

Officials Deny Accusation Made by son in filching from the knights of old the designs of their heimets, Coleman That All Followed His Own Practice.

> On account of recent disclosures of practices in vogue in the county clerk's office, the books of the county will be experted in the near future. This is the assertion made Friday by County Judge Neil and County Commissioner Davis. Though he has not been consulted, Commissioner Owens is known to favor this move. Inquiry was made by the county court of the various court house officials as to the truth of the statement made by County Clerk Coleman that all court house officials followed his own practice of depositing county money in their personal bank accounts, and each denied having ever done this.

"Every official except Recorder Colvig, whom we did not see, stated that county funds were deposited in separate accounts," stated Commissioner Davis. "And in no case did we find county funds mixed with personal accounts. Each official turns over the funds of his office to the county treasurer monthly."
