EAGLE POINT EAGLETS.

By A. C. Howlett. W. W. Willets and wife of Persist were guests at the Sunny Side the night of the 30th of January. They had been to Medford on a business trip and were on their way home. The next morning Mrs. Willets took the Eagle Point-Prospect stage for Trail with her son Roy, while Mr. Willets took a slower route with his rig. Mr. Willets reports that the company has a small force at work in the Elk creek mine and are getting ready to open up in earnest in the spring.

Deputy Sheriff Roy Ashpole went to Butte Falls on Wednesday and arrested William Coffman, the third one of the cattle rustlers, and he was taken before Judge Watkins and waived examination, and Thursday, after he had tried in vain to give bail for his appearance in court, he was committed to the custody of the sheriff and taken to Jacksonville to jail. Wednesday afternoon four men came to our town to appear as witnesses against the accused man, but that expense was avoided by the accused all waiving examination here.

C. S. Hays of Cape Town, Wash., arrived at his father's in Central Point last Tuesday.

Miss Hattie Cincade, a daughter of David Cincade and wife of this place, arrived the first of the week at the parental home. She has been spending several years in California, Mexico and Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Grissom of Chinney Rock precinct have been visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cincade.

Mr. Hoffel, Sr., called for dinner last Thursday on his way from Medford to his farm in Lake creek country.

Mr. Baldwin of Roundtop, who sold his timber and homestead right to the P. & E. Railroad company, came out and spent the night with us Wednesday. Also the superintendent of schools, Mr. Ayer, spent Wednesday night with us.

H. F. Brown was doing business with our merchants Thursday.

KANES CREEK ITEMS.

Ira Householder is unable to attend school this week on account of sickness.

Mrs. Brown and daughter, Mrs. Standley, of near Medford, were recent visitors at Pearl Bean's.

Mr. Greenleaf of Gold Hill was looking after his interests on Kanes creek Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mesdames Boggis and Mardon, John Knotts, E. Rhoten, John and George Mardon, E. Householder, Dave and Frank Avery were among the Tuesday visitors from here to Gold Hill.

Tom Norris returned to his mine on Monday after spending Saturday and Sunday with his family in Medford.

Mrs. Shelly, who has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Blowers, left on Thursday's train for her home at Harrisburg, Ore., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Blowers, who will visit for some time at the above named place.

George Shimp and wife of Jacksonville have become residents of the Braden.

Joe Beeman, of Gold Hill, made a business trip to his mine on Kanes creek Wednesday.

Mr. Opp and associates of Jacksonville have leased the Braden mine, which they intend to operate on a big scale. This has proven in the past to be one of the very best paying quartz mines in southern Oregon, and we wish Mr. Opp all kinds of luck.

Mr. Greenleaf is hauling lumber from Gold Hill with which to build himself a barn on his new purchase.

CENTRAL POINT ITEMS.

J. C. Pendleton of Table Rock was here Thursday afternoon on business. Dr. Soule has returned to Central Point after spending several months at Prospect.

Hudson H. Smith has resigned his position with H. H. Trovillo and will leave soon for the north.

Floyd Ross and Clotaris McCredie have returned from a month's visit to California cities.

Sidewalk construction on First street, which was discontinued on account of freezing weather, has been resumed.

Mrs. and Miss Manning, Mrs. Heffling, Mr. and Mrs. Paxton, Mrs. L. Austin, J. W. Merritt, J. W. Myers, A. J. Ausley, W. H. Lindsay and J. C. Young spent Thursday in Medford.

The junior class reception given at the Y. M. C. A. building Wednesday evening to the high school teachers and friends was a great success. The juniors deserve much credit in the way they entertained their invited guests. A very pleasing program was given. Refreshments were served, consisting of cake and chocolate.

BILL'S BILLS.

Bill is blessed with a bunch of bills and is also blessed with a beautiful wife, who systematically searches through all his pockets when he's asleep and relieves him of any surplus cash; therefore Bill decides to hide the bills which he has in his possession and in consequence Bill hides his bills in some newspapers thrown carelessly aside. Mrs. Hill the following day gathers them up and gives them to the Salvation Army. When Mr. Hill comes home to say that he is worth is to put it mildly. He fairly froths at the mouth with rage and anguish and finally rushes off at top speed to the Salvation Army headquarters, where he successfully passes the sentry and lands post haste into the refuse pile. He frantically searches through everything in sight, hoping to stumble across his lost wealth. Failing he rushes away again to look elsewhere, but almost immediately after he has left, the money is found, and a lieutenant and police officer follow poor Bill to return his money. Bill sees them coming out of the corner of his eye and he goes some. So do the cop and the lieutenant. Bill is some sprinter. So is the cop. So is the lieutenant, but finally Bill is captured and his money returned. Several other subjects are being shown and all told the Star has a notable show this change.

Notice to THEATROGOERS. People having seats reserved for "The Chocolate Soldier" must take them up by 6 o'clock Saturday evening, otherwise they will be resold.

Haskins for health.
