A recent arrival in the city from Minnesota felt himself called upon to give a Mail Tribune representative a severe scolding Wednesday because nothing had been said in the paper with regards the many pretty beds of violets which are now in bloom in the yards about the city. "Why," said he, "you fellows have become so accustomed to seeing those things in midwinter that you have forgotten what a grand, glorious treat it is to see blooming flowers at this time of the year. Back in Minnesota there are about two feet of snow on the ground and the thermometer is 20 or more below zero. Sure, any one is foolish to live in those cold countries who do not have to, but there are a great many living there who cannot get away and then there are others who have a happy faculty of jollying themselves into the notion that they like it." COMMUNICATION. The Moving Picture Show. And now it appears that the dear ladies of a hypercritical habit of mind, who firmly believe that all of our amusements should be analyzed and dissected before taking, have become rampant and the edict has gone forth that the motion pictures which have become such a menace to our youth shall be renovated, whitewashed, remodeled to coincide with the ideas of that portion of the fair sex who "really do not care for picture shows" and who therefore very rarely if ever attend the same. This will be a severe blow to the kids, for, as the good ladies assert, the majority of the audience at these entertainments is composed of kids, or more properly speaking "youngsters," who laugh and sometimes come very near to crying over the story that is depicted without words on the canvas. Of course, in all civilized communities it has been the custom to allow the majority to rule, and right here comes up the question as to what a kid really is. If the majority of the attendants at these shows really is composed of youngsters, then there must be a large number of kids in Medford who are between the ages of 35 and 70 years, for the writer has been a regular attendant ever since the first show and he has always been able to count over 80 per cent who were over the voting age, and some who have voted for Abraham Lincoln. Then it is indeed the crying need of the hour that these aged and bald-headed kids be not led into these places and there regaled with representations of holdups, Mutt and Jeff and other illustrations that are liable to lead their thoughts from the straight and narrow path. Let us give proper credit to those who would rescue us from being led astray by these things before it is too late. E. A. BUFFUM. POCAHONTAS COUNCIL. CHAFIN OPENS PROHI MEETING Out to Win Campaign Organized for Oregon—Way to Put Out Saloons Is Outlined—Details of Work Set Forth. The first prohibition convention for Jackson county of the present year was opened this morning at the Baptist church and the "out to win" program was ably outlined by Eugene W. Chafin. Another meeting was held this afternoon and a large mass meeting is to be conducted this evening at the opera house. "The Oregon 'out to win' campaign is so common sense a movement," said Mr. Chafin, "that it appeals to all fair minded men. Its object is to give us clean politics. A third party movement is always an unpopular one, yet anything that is to be done must have organization. Put away the liquor traffic and our nation will enjoy greater prosperity than it has ever experienced. Get this organization in power and it will clean up our country. What you need to do to put the saloons out is to elect commitmen who will not grant them licenses. The only things we use no sense about are marriage, religion and politics. Protect Yourself! Blind piggers are the tools of the brewers' association. We must make this a business proposition and study the ways to do it. The speaker then cited work done in other cities, told how funds were raised, and mentioned victories gained for his cause. "Many free thinkers won't register in either old party because they think them bad. Others hope that the old parties will include prohibition at some time. Men must stand for the right and it is the third party, prohibition, that is winning. Local option as a remedy is a failure; it is a compromise with the thing that won't work." Mr. Chafin's plan is to organize by counties and to call upon voters to sign a pledge to vote the prohibition ticket as soon as it is shown that 35,000 have signed. Jackson county has not been organized, but the purpose of this convention is organization. A committee on organization appointed this morning is as follows: Rev. H. Isaac, pastor Brethren church, Ashland; James Low, Charles Shilpa, Rev. Matlock, Rev. W. P. Shields. Rev. H. P. Van Dyke called the meeting to order and George I. Carr, field secretary of the prohibition party in Oregon, spoke briefly on "Putting God's Work on the Same Basis as Any Other Business." Haskins for health.
