BOXING BOUTS WERE SPLENDID

Best Card Ever Staged in Medford Is Pulled Off at the Natorium—Ten Fast Rounds to a Draw—Fans Pleased. Local boxing fans are today touting a return match between Bobbie Evans, lightweight champion of the northwest, and Young Dixon, following their 10-round contest to a draw at the Natorium Tuesday evening, which proved the best exhibition of boxing ever staged in this city. Referee Edwards, who rendered the decision, struck a chord of sympathy in the crowd when he decided that honors were even and he and the two boxers were cheered to the echo. Fans today are unanimous in their praise of the evening's entertainment. Both preliminaries were fast goes. The first between Moore and Collins proved a heavy hitting affair. Honors were declared even. Local interest centered in a match between Fitzgerald and Kennedy, both local boys. Kennedy had been touted to win, but Fitzgerald "got his goat" and forced him to lay down. The exhibition was full of interest and the crowd hugely enjoyed it. The main event started promptly with the tap of the gong, both men being eager to get into the mill. They boxed straight Marquis of Queensberry and throughout the entire 10 rounds they were at it all the time, with no stalling. The men seemed very evenly matched and clever at the art of "covering up." Both of the men had a splendid "kick," but neither could land it. The card was the best ever staged in Medford, so far outshining the Nelson-Gaffney bout that there is no comparison. It is hoped that Edwards matches these two men again.

BIG MINING MEN ARE INTERESTED

That Local Field Is to Receive Attention From Big Companies Is Forecast by Visit of John Bresnahan. That southern Oregon mines are attracting the attention of big mining men, is shown by the prolonged visit in Medford of John Bresnahan of Spokane, mining expert for Patsy Clark, one of the millionaire mining men of Spokane. Mr. Bresnahan comes to examine copper properties. He spent Sunday at the Lewis-Ruddy mine near Leeland, which has a remarkable showing of copper and gold ore, an 8-foot ledge running 18 per cent copper and $6 gold. Tuesday he visited the "Lucky Tou Velle" prospect, on upper Grave creek, which has the richest showing ever made by a copper prospect in this section, the ore running 25 per cent copper and up to $4 gold. Col. F. L. Tou Velle returned Wednesday from the mine, where he has been engaged in establishing a permanent camp for development work. He left a force of men driving a tunnel and will return shortly with additional equipment.

President Ryan of the Iron Workers and Vice President Hockin and Butler have been unable to secure the bail demanded yet, but expect to do so before night. The list of those indicted here includes John J. and James B. McNamara, Olaf A. Tveitmo, secretary of the Building Trades council of California; E. A.
