EAGLE POINT EAGLES.

(By A. C. Howlett) Mr. Poreel, one of the leading mechanics who has been working on the Prospect power plant, came out on the Prospect-Eagle Point stage Saturday evening and went on to Medford Sunday morning. Among the old souvenirs that James Ringer has is a letter written by his grandfather to his father, dated April 3, 1843, and a tax receipt dated 1845. The writing is just as plain now as though it had been done but a short time ago. Last Thursday Herbert Grison, living near Chimax, undertook to ride a cow and in the windup he came out second best, as when he got off the cow he landed against the side of a barn and received a severe cut on the forehead, besides having his face badly scratched. He was about three miles from home at the time with a brother feeding the sheep when the accident occurred and was unconscious for nearly an hour. His brother started for home and phoned for Dr. Holt to dress the wound. On Sunday he and his brother, William, came out to see the doctor and Herbert reported that he was all right, but the next time he wants to ride he will try something else besides a cow. A week ago last Sunday Dr. Holt and his brother-in-law, Mr. Parly, who are "batching" now while Mrs. Dr. Holt is away on a visit, gave a dinner and entertained Mr. and Mrs. Heath and Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre, and they report having had a very fine dinner and an enjoyable time. Rev. E. C. Parker, general missionary of the state for the Mission-

CENTRAL POINT ITEMS.

J. W. Myers and Jack Aikin made a business trip to Phoenix Wednesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Miller, who have been visiting their daughters here for several days, returned to their home at Lake creek Wednesday morning. Mrs. F. H. Hopkins returned Wednesday from a week's visit to friends in Portland. The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church entertained Wednesday afternoon at the church. These ladies are noted for planning very enjoyable social functions which are greatly enjoyed, especially the lunches and the sociability for which the aid society is noted. Mr. Casebolt and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wiley and son, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Taylor and son, Mr. Hubbard, Miss Mildred Elliott, Kenneth Beebe, R. E. Murray, Mr. Trovella and Mr. Berry were among the Central Point people who spent Wednesday in Medford. ary Baptists, was with us last Sunday, both morning and evening, and in the afternoon preached in Brownsville. The two sermons he preached here were of the old Bible kind and some of his hearers thought that he was a Methodist, and I am glad to note that the preachers of the different denominations are dropping some of their old sectarian ideas and preaching straight gospel. He had a good sized audience in the forenoon and in the evening he had the church house full. It will be some time before all of the people forget all that he said in those two sermons.
