ASQUITH TRIES TO AVERT STRIKE

Over 600,000 Mine Workers Are Planning to Go Out and Already Coal Famine is Felt Throughout the United States.

LONDON, Feb. 22 .- Premier Asquith met the coal operators and representatives of the miners here today in an effort to avert a threatened strike of 600,000 mine workers throughout the United Kingdom, The men want the minimum wage plan of payment and while the owners are willing to grant this scale in abnormal places, they have flatly refused to consider the minimum wage scale a general thing.

If the scale is carried into effect at least 200,000 people besides miners will be thrown out of employment. Big iron works, believing that the strike is sure to come, alread) have served notice on their employes that their services will not be needed after February 29, when the coal miners are scheduled to quit work.

In all big trade centers the price of coal is soaring and is already beyond the reach of the poorer class.
