MRS. SCHUMANN-HEINK AND MISS AITON

Much has been said and written about Mrs. Schumann-Heink's kindheartedness and generosity towards fellow artists, a quality which seems so rare among professional singers. This trait of hers, of giving due recognition to merit, was strikingly shown at the reception at the Hotel Holland last week, where Miss Aiton, the violin teacher of the Medford Conservatory had been engaged to play. The attention of Mrs. Schu-

Louise Aiton. Schumann-Heink who, as everybody knows, is a prominent Wagner singer, was attracted by the playing of the "prize song" from Wagner's "Meistersinger." At the conclusion of the piece, she left the receiving line, went into the room where Miss Aiton played, and after complimenting her on her playing, wished her success in her professional career. And, as if to show that she meant what she said, she presented Miss Aiton with a large bunch of violets and lilies of the valley. As may be imagined, Miss Aiton, who by the way is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Boston, feels very happy.

HAVING GOT THE COIN, SHE'S GLAD

"Of all the 'one night's stands' I have ever played in, this one proved the most surprising to me," stated Mrs. Leslie Carter Tuesday before leaving for the north on Number 20. "I was surprised and delighted by the size and intelligence of my audience, and from what little I have seen of the city it is a 'dandy'." "I was not favorably impressed with your 'opera house' however, and it is hard to understand why a city with fine hotels, paved streets and a people who so liberally patronize the drama is willing to put up with it. But I suppose that will be remedied in time for I know that a city can't do everything at once." "I want to congratulate you on your hotel. It is a delight to find one of its standard in a city of this size." "On the whole, I think I shall come back next season," declared the noted actress as she boarded Number 20 for the north.

COAL MINERS STRIKE CERTAIN

NEW YORK, March 5.—Demands of the anthracite coal miners for an increase in wages and a new agreement were unanimously rejected this afternoon by the operators. A committee was appointed to inform the miners' committee from the anthracite fields, when the joint conference of the miners and the operators is resumed here March 14. As a result of the rejection of the miners' demand by the operators, the long threatened strike of the eastern anthracite coal miners seems imminent. If it comes, the strike will involve thousands of men and will paralyze the industry.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—"It was wash day," said A. J. Morse in explanation of his being caught with 22 bars of soap on his person. He was put to work washing floors.

EVEN MONEY SEATTLE ELECTION

SEATTLE, March 5.—The most desperately fought and the most important election in the history of Seattle is being held today. Aside from the election of a mayor and practically a full municipal ticket, bond issues aggregating $10,000,000, twenty-seven charter amendments, the single tax measure and a dozen minor issues are involved. The majority contest is between Hiram C. Gill, republican, wide open town advocate, who was recalled one year ago, and George F. Cotterill, a progressive democrat who for twelve years has been identified with the good government forces. In the primary election two weeks ago Gill had a lead over Cotterill of 10,000 votes. Cotterill has practically overcome the 10,000 handicap and betting which was 10 to 1 against Cotterill the day after the primary, is today down to even money.

Georgia's State Chemist Praises Cottolene

Mr. J. H. McCandless, State Chemist of Georgia, before a recent gathering, gave emphatic testimony to the high quality of Cottolene. He said: "The sale of this product (Cottolene) and the proclamation that it is made from cotton oil, have done more to bring cotton seed oil truthfully and favorably before the public than anything else in recent history."

Mr. McCandless then pointed out why a pure, refined, vegetable-oil base, such as is used in Cottolene, is the only assurance that a woman has of a clean, digestible cooking product.
